Rhetoric and Human Consciousness Craig R. Smith,2017-04-12 For two decades students and instructors have relied on award winning author Craig Smith's detailed description and analysis of rhetorical theories and the historical contexts for major thinkers who advanced them. He employs key themes from important philosophical schools in this well-researched chronicle of rhetoric and human consciousness. One is that rhetoric is a response to uncertainty. The modern philosophers like the naturalists of ancient Greece and the Scholastics who preceded them tried to end uncertainty by combining the discoveries of science and psychology with rationalism. Their aim was progress and a consensus among experts as to what truth is. However, where modernism proved ineffective, rhetoric was revived to fill the breach. Another significant theme is that different conceptions of human consciousness lead to different theories of rhetoric and for every major school of thought, another school of thought forms in reaction. Classic and contemporary examples demonstrate the usefulness of rhetorical theory, especially its ability to inform and guide. By providing probes for rhetorical criticism, discussions also demonstrate that rhetorical criticism illustrates, verifies, and refines rhetorical theory. Thus, the synergistic relationship between theory and criticism in rhetoric is no different than in other arts. Theory informs practice; analysis of successful practice refines theory. Smith's absorbing study has been expanded to include thorough treatments of rhetoric in the Romantic Era, feminist and queer theory, and historical context for the creation of rhetorical theory and its use in public address.

Winning the West for Women Jennifer M. Ross-Nazzari, 2011. Walking and Talking Feminist Rhetorics Linda Buchanan, Kathleen J. Ryan, 2010-01-12. Walking and Talking Feminist Rhetorics: Landmark Essays and Controversies gathers significant, oft-cited scholarship about feminism and rhetoric into one convenient volume. Essays examine the formation of the vibrant and growing field of feminist rhetoric, feminist historiographic research methods and methodologies, and women's distinct sites, genres, and styles of rhetoric. The book's most innovative and pedagogically useful feature is its presentation of controversies in the form of case studies, each consisting of exchanges between or among scholars about significant questions.

Your Daughters Will Prophecy Lisa Marie Gring-Pemble, Martha Watson, 2025-05-22. How nineteenth-century women used the Bible to claim their voice on the moral questions of their day. Caught between their identity as Christians and social norms that silenced them, American women used scripture to claim moral and then rhetorical agency. They reinterpreted familiar biblical passages, recovered previously ignored stories about women, and contested passages used to circumscribe women's activities. By strategically adopting a rhetorical posture of dissent, these women became prophetic voices in American society. In Your Daughters Will Prophecy, Lisa Marie Gring-Pemble and Martha Watson analyze the argumentative resources four women—Jarena Lee, Sarah Moore Grimké, Lucretia Coffin Mott, and Frances Willard—used to counter gendered restrictions and gain access to platform and pulpit catalyzing what became known as the woman s movement

Methodists and Women's Education in Ontario, 1836-1925 Johanna Selles, 1996-08-23 Selles documents nearly a century of Methodist education from the early seminary movement in Upper Canada through the establishment of ladies colleges to the admission of women into the university She reconstructs what life was like for women at these institutions and highlights changing ideologies curricula and views on women s education as well as introducing some of the unique personalities who shaped Methodist higher education Selles concludes that by attempting to create an ideal Christian woman through education Methodist education structures consciously created and imposed a class based gender ideology
