Mindfulness in Multicultural Education Kathryn Esther

McIntosh, 2022-08-15 Grounded in critical race feminism this book explores mindfulness as an empowering approach in multicultural education. The author explores how learners of multicultural education by re-centering the body through mindfulness with concrete strategies and scaffolded practice can be empowered to handle the activated emotions and deep self-inquiry that come with the work of social justice liberation and anti-racism. This book includes counter-stories of students of color and offers both an epistemological and a curricular approach to mindfulness in multicultural education including discussion of theory and key principles in addition to ten modules with practices to engage learners. These modules can be directly applied as the basis for curricular changes in teacher education and university-wide social justice courses or they can be independently read by learners interested in enhancing their wellbeing and social justice. Written for teacher preparation and university social justice courses, this book encourages educators to contextualize their mindfulness practice within a critique of systems of oppression and ask questions about how mindfulness can empower action towards a more just society.
