Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy Myths and Myth-Makers John Fisk,2017-03-20
In publishing this somewhat rambling and unsystematic series of papers in which I have endeavored to touch briefly upon a great many of the most important points in the study of mythology I think it right to observe that in order to avoid confusing the reader with intricate discussions I have sometimes cut the matter short expressing myself with dogmatic definiteness where a skeptical vagueness might perhaps have seemed more becoming In treating of popular legends and superstitions the paths of inquiry are circuitous enough and seldom can we reach a satisfactory conclusion until we have traveled all the way around Robin Hood s barn and back again I am sure that the reader would not have thanked me for obstructing these crooked lanes with the thorns and brambles of philological and antiquarian discussion to such an extent as perhaps to make him despair of ever reaching the high road I have not attempted to review otherwise than incidentally the works of Grimm M ller Kuhn Br al Dasent and Tylor nor can I pretend to have added anything of consequence save now and then some bit of explanatory comment to the results obtained by the labor of these scholars but it has rather been my aim to present these results in such a way as to awaken general interest in them And accordingly in dealing with a subject which depends upon philology almost as much as astronomy depends upon mathematics I have omitted philological considerations wherever it has been possible to do so Fisk from the Preface Man the Myth-maker Wilfred Thomas Jewkes,1973
