Glass in England During the Middle Ages Richard Marks, 2006-01-16 First published in 1993 The first modern study of the medium this book considers stained glass in relation to architecture and other arts and by examining contemporary documents it throws valuable light on workshop organisation prices and patronage Legends in Limestone Linda Seidel, 1999-10-15 Whereas twelfth century pilgrims flocked to the church of St Lazare in Autun to visit the relics of its patron saint present day pilgrims journey there to admire its superb sculpture said to have been created by the artist Gislebertus whose name is inscribed above one of the church doors These two cults of sculptor and of saint form points of departure and arrival for Linda Seidel's study Legends in Limestone reveals how Gislebertus sculptor was discovered and subsequently sanctified over the course of the last century Seidel makes a compelling case for the identification of the name with an ancestor of the local ducal family invoked for his role in the acquisition of the precious relics With the aid of evidence drawn from the richly carved decoration of the building she demonstrates how medieval visitors would have read a different holy narrative in the church fabric one that constructed before their eyes an account of their patron saint's life Legends in Limestone an absorbing study of one of France's most revered medieval monuments provides fresh insights into modern and medieval interpretive practices Handbook to Life in the Medieval World, 3-Volume Set Madeleine Perner Cosman, Linda Gale Jones, 2009 Presents a three volume set that examines the medieval civilizations of the Muslims Jews and Christians including history economics medicine technology art literature and clothing The Marvellous and the Monstrous in the Sculpture of Twelfth-century Europe Kirk Ambrose, 2013 Richly illustrated consideration of the meaning of the carvings of non human beings from centaurs to eagles found in ecclesiastical settings Representations of monsters and the monstrous are common in medieval art and architecture from the grotesques in the borders of illuminated manuscripts to the symbol of the green man widespread in churches and cathedrals These mysterious depictions are frequently interpreted as embodying or mitigating the fears symptomatic of a dark age This book however considers an alternative scenario in what ways did monsters in twelfth century sculpture help audiences envision perhaps even achieve various ambitions Using examples of Romanesque sculpture from across Europe with a focus on France and northern Portugal the author suggests that medieval representations of monsters could service ideals whether intellectual political religious and social even as they could simultaneously articulate fears he argues that their material presence energizes works of art in paradoxical even contradictory ways In this way Romanesque monsters resist containment within modern interpretive categories and offer testimony to the density and nuance of the medieval imagination KIRK AMBROSE is Associate Professor Chair Department of Art and Art History University of Colorado Boulder Publications of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, 1964-2005 Metropolitan Museum of Art, 2012-10-09 The present volume Publications of The Metropolitan Museum of Art 1964 2005 is a successor to a volume published by the Museum in 1965 entitled Publications of The Metropolitan Museum of Art 1870 1964 These two bibliographic volumes endeavor to list all the known books pamphlets and serial publications bearing the Museum's imprint and issued by the institution during the first 135 years of its existence through June 2005 The first volume was compiled by Albert Ten Eyck Gardner at the time an Associate Curator of American Paintings and Sculpture and the present volume has been compiled from the Annual Reports issued by the Museum during the relevant years Together the two volumes testify to the tremendous contributions made to knowledge by the curators and conservators of the Metropolitan and by the many other experts who have contributed to the Museum's exhibition catalogues Various issues of the Bulletin emphasize the great sweep of the Museum's acquisitions during these years and the exhibition catalogues a number of them Alfred H Barr Jr Award or the George Wittenborn Award testify to the continuity of the institution's dedicated program to enrich people's lives through knowledge of art This title was originally published in 2006
