Radical Innocence The Contemporary American Novel:

Radical Innocence Ihab Hassan,1973 Radical Innocence Ihab Hassan,1973 Radical Innocence Ihab Habib Hassan,1961 Radical Innocence Ihab Habib Hassan,1961 Radical Innocence Ihab Habib Hassan,1971 The Anti-Hero in the American Novel D. Simmons,2008-05-26 The Anti Hero in the American Novel rereads major texts of the 1960s to offer an innovative re evaluation of a set of canonical novels that moves beyond entrenched post modern and post structural interpretations towards an appraisal which emphasizes the specifically humanist and idealist elements of these works Coming of Age in Contemporary American Fiction Kenneth Millard,2007-04-18 This book explores the ways in which a range of recent American novelists have handled the genre of the coming of age novel or the Bildungsroman Novels of this genre characteristically dramatise the vicissitudes of growing up and the trials and tribulations of young adulthood often presented through depictions of immediate family relationships and other social structures This book considers a variety of different American cultures in terms of race class and gender and a range of contemporary coming of age novels so that aesthetic judgements about the fiction might be made in the context of the social history that fiction represents A series of questions are asked Does the coming of age moment in these novels coincide with an interpretation of the fall of America What kind of national commentary does it therefore facilitate Is the Bildungsroman a quintessentially American genre What can it usefully tell us about contemporary American culture Although the focus is on the conte The Hero in Contemporary American Fiction S. Halldorson,2007-12-09 This book sets out to write nothing short of a new theory of the heroic for today s world It delves into the why of the hero as a natural companion piece to the how of the hero as written by Northrop Frye and Joseph Campbell over half a century ago The novels of Saul Bellow and Don DeLillo serve as an anchor to the theory as it challenges our notions of what is heroic about nymphomaniacs Holocaust survivors spurious academics cult followers terrorists celebrities photographers and writers of novels who all attempt to claim the right to be hero Twentieth-Century and Contemporary American Literature in Context Linda De Roche,2021-06-04 This four volume reference work surveys American literature from the early 20th century to the present day featuring a diverse range of American works and authors and an expansive selection of primary source materials Bringing useful and engaging material into the classroom this four volume set covers more than a century of American literary history from 1900 to the present Twentieth Century and Contemporary American Literature in Context profiles authors and their works and provides overviews of literary movements and genres through which readers will understand the historical cultural and political contexts that have shaped American writing Twentieth Century and Contemporary American Literature in Context provides wide coverage of authors works genres and movements that are emblematic of the diversity of modern America Not only are major literary movements represented such as the Beats but this work also highlights the emergence and development of modern Native American literature African American literature and other representative groups that showcase the diversity of American letters A rich

selection of primary documents and background material provides indispensable information for student research

The Jewish American Novel Philippe Codde, 2007 Philippe Codde provides a comparative cultural analysis of the unprecedented success of the Jewish novel in the postwar United States by situating the process and event in the context of three closely related American cultural movements: the popularity in the US of French philosophical and literary existentialism, the increasing visibility of the Holocaust in US American life, and the advent of radical theology. Codde argues that the literary repertoire of the postwar Jewish novel consists of an amalgam of these cultural elements that were making their mark in the political, religious, and philosophical systems of the United States at the time, and that this explains in part the Jewish novel's sweeping success in the American literary system.

Modern American Literature and Contemporary Iranian Cinema Morteza Yazdanjoo, 2022-12-29 As an endeavor to contribute to the burgeoning field of comparative literature, this monograph addresses the dynamic yet understudied intertextual dialogism between modern American literature and contemporary Iranian Cinema, pinpointing how the latter appropriates and recontextualizes instances of the former to construct and inculcate vestiges of national gender identity on the silver screen. Drawing on Louis Montrose's catchphrase that Cultural Materialism foregrounds the textuality of history and the historicity of texts, this book contends that literary texts are synchronic artifacts prone to myriad intertextual and extra-textual readings and understandings, each historically conditioned. The recontextualization of Herzog, Franny and Zooey, The Glass Menagerie, A Streetcar Named Desire, and Death of a Salesman into contemporary Iran provides an intertextual avenue to delineate the textuality of history and the historicity of texts.

Twentieth Century Fiction George Woodcock, 1983-04-01 New Essays on The Catcher in the Rye Jack Salzman, 1991 Five essays focus on various aspects of the novel from its ideology within the context of the Cold War and portrait of a particular American subculture to its account of patterns of adolescent crisis and rich and complex narrative structure.

Desperate Faith Howard Harper, 2012-06-01 This book traces the developing view of the human conditions through the major works of these five writers. The method is inductive, and the works are seen as a record of human experience, not as an illustration of philosophical theory. A final chapter places them in the larger perspective of traditional American fiction. Originally published in 1967. A UNC Press Enduring Edition. UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print. These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats, bringing readers both historical and cultural value.

James Jones Tony J. Williams, 2016-08-22 James Jones played many roles, including short story writer, social critic, and war novelist. His most famous work, From Here to Eternity (1951), spent 20 weeks atop the New York Times bestseller's list, won the National Book Award, was adapted into an Academy Award-winning film, and was named one of the 100 best novels of the twentieth century by the Modern Library Despite this and the success of his other novels Some Came Running 1957 and The Thin Red Line 1962 Jones is widely forgotten today In James Jones The Limits of Eternity literary scholar Tony J Williams examines the significance of Jones's work not only for its nuance and daring subject matter but also for its widespread popularity In his assessment of Jones's catalog Williams reveals an incisive novelist who offered groundbreaking interpretations of masculinity sexuality gender and identity Williams contends that Jones should be recognized as far more than just a popular war novelist but also as a humanitarian and literary pioneer particularly in probing gender and queer issues A quintessentially American novelist Jones was never afraid to look openly at the flaws of his society examine how it could adversely affect individual victims and tacitly suggest possible alternatives He recognized the presence of gays and lesbians in American culture during an overtly repressive time which makes his work relevant to many areas of contemporary criticism Demonstrating his significant contribution to contemporary American literature James Jones The Limits of Eternity will be of interest to scholars of war narratives gender studies and literary studies

The Cambridge Companion to Saul Bellow Victoria Aarons, 2017 This book demonstrates the complexity of Bellow's work by emphasizing the ways in which it reflects the changing conditions of American identity

Fictional Space in the Modernist and Post-modernist American Novel Carl Darryl Malmgren, 1985 Fictional space is the imaginal expanse of field created by fictional discourse a space which through ultimately self-referential and self-validating necessarily exists in ascertainable relation to the real world outside the text After defining his theoretical framework the author applies it to American fiction of the twentieth century

America in Literature and Film Dr Ahmed Elbeshlawy, 2013-05-28 Utilizing Lacan's psychoanalytic theory and Iek's philosophical adaption of it this book brings into dialogue a series of modernist and postmodernist literary works films and critical theory that are concerned with defining America Ahmed Elbeshlawy demonstrates that how America is perceived in certain texts reveals not only the idealization or condemnation of it but an imago or constructed image of the perceiver as well In turn texts which particularly focus on demonstrating how other texts about America communicate an untrustworthy message themselves communicate an unreliable message inventing and reinventing a series of imagos of America These imagos refer to both idealized and deformed images of America constructed by the perceivers of America The first part of this book is concerned with modernist perceptions of America and includes discussion of Adorno Benjamin Kafka D H Lawrence as well as Emerson and Seymour Martin Lipset The second part is dedicated to postmodernist representations of America focusing on texts by Edward Said Ihab Hassan Susan Sontag David Shambaugh and Charles W Brooks and films including Lars von Trier's Dogville and D W Griffith's Birth of a Nation
