The Rhetoric of RHETORIC Wayne C. Booth, 2009-02-09 In this manifesto distinguished critic Wayne Booth claims that communication in every corner of life can be improved if we study rhetoric closely Written by Wayne Booth author of the seminal book The Rhetoric of Fiction 1961 Explores the consequences of bad rhetoric in education in politics and in the media Investigates the possibility of reducing harmful conflict by practising a rhetoric that depends on deep listening by both sides

Stepping into the Elite Jules Naudet, 2018-07-10 The experience of shifting from one social class to another from a dominated group to a dominant group raises the question of how the upwardly mobile person relates to his her group of origin Stepping into the Elite traces the particular ways in which upwardly mobile people in India France and the United States countries embodying three distinct stratification systems make sense of this change Given that people draw upon specific cultural tools or repertoires to analyse their world and situate themselves in it Naudet identifies the extent to which narratives of success vary from one country to another For instance he explains that while stories in a caste ridden society such as India hinge on the preservation of bonds with the original class in France they are centered on the idea that an upwardly mobile person is alienated from all social groups In the United States on the other hand the rhetoric of success is tinged by the ardent belief in the American society being classless A sociological journey in three different cultural contexts this book deftly ties the exploration of questions regarding transformation of social identity and views on being successful

Labor Pains Christin Marie Taylor, 2019-04-24 From the 1930s to the 1960s the Popular Front produced a significant era in African American literary radicalism While scholars have long associated the black radicalism of the Popular Front with the literary Left and the working class Christin Marie Taylor considers how black radicalism influenced southern fiction about black workers offering a new view of work and labor At the height of the New Deal era and its legacies Taylor examines how southern literature of the Popular Front not only addressed the familiar stakes of race and labor but also called upon an imagined black folk to explore questions of feeling and desire By poring over tropes of black workers across genres of southern literature in the works of George Wylie Henderson William Attaway Eudora Welty and Sarah Elizabeth Wright Taylor reveals the broad reach of black radicalism into experiments with portraying human feelings These writers grounded interrelationships and stoked emotions to present the social issues of their times in deeply human terms Taylor emphasizes the multidimensional use of the sensual and the sexual which many protest writers of the period such as Richard Wright avoided She suggests Henderson and company used feeling to touch readers while also questioning and reimagining the political contexts and apparent victories of their times Taylor shows how these fictions adopted the aesthetics and politics of feeling as a response to New Deal era policy reforms both in their successes and their failures In effect these writers some who are not considered a part of an African American protest tradition illuminated an alternative form of protest through poignant paradigms The Color Line and the Assembly Line Elizabeth

Esch,2018-05-04 The Color Line and the Assembly Line tells a new story of the impact of mass production on society Global corporations based originally in the United States have played a part in making gender and race everywhere Focusing on Ford Motor Company s rise to become the largest richest and most influential corporation in the world The Color Line and the Assembly Line takes on the traditional story of Fordism Contrary to popular thought the assembly line was perfectly compatible with all manner of racial practice in the United States Brazil and South Africa Each country s distinct racial hierarchies in the 1920s and 1930s informed Ford s often divisive labor processes Confirming racism as an essential component in the creation of global capitalism Elizabeth Esch also adds an important new lesson showing how local patterns gave capitalism its distinctive features The Women of Explosive Ordnance Disposal April Cobos,2024-05-29

The Women of Explosive Ordnance Disposal Cyborg Techno Bodies Situated Knowledge and Vibrant Materiality in Military Cultures addresses the disparities between policy discourse and the lived experiences of women in the Explosive Ordnance Disposal community who these policies seek to regulate through a rhetorical framework During the Global War on Terrorism the changing contexts of war brought the community to the forefront of combat preceding the 2016 policy repeal restricting women s service in combat which positioned these women at a poignant moment in history Their positioning also sheds light on the challenges twenty first century scholars face in analyzing shifting gender roles in the workplace with policies advocating for gender equality which often buries continued gendered ideologies and discourse This book takes a mixed methods approach of qualitative and quantitative data from surveys available government documents and other cultural artifacts to create a more triangulated analysis While this book is rooted in rhetorical analysis its dynamic nature demands using an interdisciplinary approach that pulls from discourse analysis political historical and military scholarship and other humanities based feminist scholarship Men Beyond Desire David Greven,2025-01-10

This book explores the construction of male sexuality in nineteenth century American literature and overturns longstanding views Far from desiring heterosexual sex and wishing to bond with other men through fraternity the male protagonists of classic American literature mainly want to be left alone Greven makes the claim that American men eschewing both marriage and male friendship strive to remain emotionally and sexually inviolate Examining the work of traditional authors Hawthorne Poe Melville Cooper Irving Stowe Greven discovers consistently resistant portrayals of male characters who defend their individuality through a lockdown on sexuality Objects of desire from both women and other men the inviolate males discussed in this study disrupt established gendered and sexual categories inspiring fresh analysis of the era and its literary depiction of American manhood This second edition of Men Beyond Desire 2005 expands the analysis of male sexuality to include discussions of developments in the field of masculinity studies It includes a new introduction that introduces the complementary figure of the victim monster and revisits the work of Leslie Fiedler and a new chapter that focuses on Melville's tale Bartleby the Scrivener 1856 Chapter 4 expands the analysis of the intersections among free love health reform and male sexuality in The Blithedale Romance 1852 and chapter 9 expands the discussion of Billy Budd Sailor to address questions of race and the role of the Handsome Sailor
