Researching Reader Source Based Writing Across The Disciplines:

Constructing Rhetorical Education Davida Charney, Wilma R. Ebbitt, 1992 In nineteen essays illustrating its many aspects this book offers an argument for what it takes to construct a complete rhetorical education The editors take an approach that is pragmatic and pluralistic based as it is on the assumptions that a rhetorical education is not limited to teaching freshman composition or any specific writing course and that the contexts in which such an education occurs are not limited to classrooms This thought provoking volume stresses that while a rhetorical education results in the growth of writing skills its larger goal is to foster critical thinking The Researching Reader Diane Dowdey, 1990 Teaching and Learning Source-Based Writing Rosemary Wette, 2023-09-21 This volume brings together significant findings approaches and research based pedagogies on teaching and learning source based writing A comprehensive update to the field this book presents source based writing as an essential skill that comes with its own specific set of challenges requiring a complex set of literacy skills and capabilities for mastery With contributors from leading scholars from around the world the volume addresses source based writing as a developmental issue and offers guidance for supporting novice academic writers on their path toward proficiency and accumulation of multifaceted skill set Chapters cover key topics including metacognitive skills the flipped classroom scaffolding assessment and ethical considerations With research reviews practical considerations and future directions as components of each chapter this book is ideal for courses on academic writing and second language writing WPA, Writing Program Administration, 1994 Project-Based Learning Across the Disciplines Acacia M. Hubbuch, 1992 Signum v.24 i.1/april 2021 (Versão Inglês) Vera Lúcia Lopes Cristóvão, Viviane Bagio Furtoso, Federico Navarro, 2022-03-14 Signum Estudos da Linguagem is a publication edited by the Graduate Program in Language Studies of the State University of Londrina UEL It aims at disseminating original papers articles and reviews on linguistic description and analysis text discourse studies teaching learning and Portuguese foreign and other languages teachers education The Case for Critical Literacy Alice S. Horning, 2024-08-15 The Case for Critical Literacy explores the history of reading within writing studies and lays the foundation for understanding the impact of this critical yet often untaught skill Every measure of students reading comprehension whether digital or analog demonstrates that between 50 and 80 percent of students are unable to capture the substance of a full discussion or evaluate material for authority accuracy currency relevancy appropriateness and bias This book examines how college level instruction reached this point and provides pedagogical strategies that writing instructors and teachers can use to address the problem Alice Horning makes the case for the importance of critical reading in the teaching of writing with intentionality and imagination while sharing glimpses of her own personal history with reading and writing Horning provides the context for understanding what college faculty face in their classrooms and offers a history of critical literacy that explains why to date it has mostly neglected or ignored the diverse statuses of students reading challenges The Case for Critical Literacy explores actionable options to better meet students literacy needs College and university faculty especially writing instructors will benefit from an understanding of what has happened in the field and what needs to change

Reading with Writing in Mind Nancy Charron,Marilyn Fenton,Margaret Harris,2017-11-17 Good writing begins with good reading This book is written on the premise that students must embrace reading as a part of the full process of good writing It may be used by classroom teachers Grades 6 12 individually or collectively as members of a professional learning community by pre service teachers in a literacy course or by other educators working to support literacy in the classroom Interdisciplinary discussions relate to all types or genres of reading and writing This book offers practical lessons and ideas for teaching and motivating all learners using Universal Design for Learning principles Formatting provides additional ideas for challenged students including students with special needs accelerated learners and English Language Learners and is aligned with Common Core State Standards for content subjects as well as for language arts It takes ideas that were formerly reserved for the upper echelon of students in English language arts and reformulates teaching approaches to reach students across the learning spectrum and in all disciplines All teachers need to be involved in raising the literacy bar and this book provides activities and strategies for use in the classroom that can promote success for all learners

Researching and Writing Differently Ilaria Boncori,2022-12-21 This book considers new and alternative ways of doing scholarship in management studies and the social sciences Spotlighting new methods and voices it will be an invaluable resource for current and future scholars

Points of Departure Tricia Serviss,Sandra Jamieson,2018-01-08 Points of Departure encourages a return to empirical research about writing presenting a wealth of transparent reproducible studies of student sources The volume shows how to develop methods for coding and characterizing student texts their choice of source material and the resources used to teach information literacy In so doing the volume advances our understanding of how students actually write The contributors offer methodologies techniques and suggestions for research that move beyond decontextualized guides to grapple with the messiness of research in process as well as design development and expansion

Serviss and Jamieson's model of RAD writing studies research is transcontextual and based on hybridized or mixed methods. Among these methods are citation context analysis, research aloud, protocols, textual and genre analysis, surveys, interviews, and focus groups with an emphasis on process and knowledge as contingent. Chapters report on research projects at different stages and across institution types from pilot to multi-site from community college to research university, focusing on the methods and artifacts employed. A rich mosaic of research about research. Points of Departure advances knowledge about student writing and serves as a guide for both new and experienced researchers in writing studies.

Researching Primary Education Rebecca Austin, 2016-05-16

How do we know what works in primary schools? How do we make sure that we are always learning from fellow teachers, always learning from the children we teach, and always moving forward? The answer lies in research. In understanding, conducting, disseminating, and learning from research. But what do we mean by research, and how do we do it? This book is your guide to research in primary education. It takes you through both important established theory and recent developments in research and explores what these mean right now for primary education and classroom settings. It helps you to conceive, conduct, write up, and share your research with others. It looks at how you can access research findings to improve your classroom practice and deepen your understanding. It examines how you can use research in your classroom everyday to continually enhance teaching and how you can shape and frame the questions you ask to help you get to the answers you need. If you are a trainee teacher doing a research project as part of your course or a qualified teacher doing further study, this text includes all the guidance you need. If you are a teacher wanting to find out what works best for your class in your school right now, this text will show you how to harness the power of small or large scale research to help you find the answer.

Successful Strategies for Teaching Undergraduate Research Marta Deyrup, Beth Bloom, 2013-09-11

Editors Marta Deyrup and Beth Bloom have brought together well-known educators from the fields of library science, communication, composition, and education to show you how to develop successful strategies for teaching undergraduates how to conduct basic research and write papers. Chapters cover each step of the research process, beginning appropriately with separate pieces from a librarian and from an academic on how to construct good research assignments. Following chapters cover establishing the research question, assessing the research process, information ethics, and the protocols of research, and using new modes and media to communicate research findings. The book fully explores current theories on pedagogy and provides practical demonstrations of how library instruction can reinforce critical thinking and set the groundwork in place for life-long learning. Each chapter contains an extensive bibliography for further reading.

Understanding-Oriented Pedagogy to Strengthen Plagiarism-Free

Academic Writing Yin Zhang, 2024-02-21 This book discusses the plagiarism free academic writing in higher education It demonstrates how to orchestrate an understanding oriented pedagogy including the teaching of plagiarism and source use in order to facilitate plagiarism free academic writing among undergraduates by revealing studies in China This book emphasizes that plagiarism is a mere symptom of educational problems and plagiarism urgently needs education based solutions instead of punish solutions It highlights that students meaningful understandings of plagiarism and source use should be identified as the main learning objectives of plagiarism instruction as well as features the adoption of plagiarism instruction in academic writing practices in subject courses It also focuses on the potentials of Information and Communication Technology ICT in scaffolding learning and teaching under plagiarism pedagogy beyond merely detecting plagiarism This book also contributes to the discussion about the validity of current plagiarism assessment scales by providing evidences to challenge them and proposing a new one This book is of great benefits for readers to increase knowledge and promote positive attitudes toward plagiarism and plagiarism instruction It adds to our knowledge of how plagiarism in higher education can be effectively prevented by adopting an understanding oriented pedagogy It also adds to our knowledge of how Chinese undergraduates and their instructors view plagiarism and cope with plagiarism in discipline based courses which provides robust evidence for the academic debate about whether culture has effects on students plagiarism in academic writing Finally it provides insights about the relationship among plagiarism pedagogy and technology

Manchón, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2016-09-12 The Handbook of Second and Foreign Language Writing is an authoritative reference compendium of the theory and research on second and foreign language writing that can be of value to researchers professionals and graduate students It is intended both as a retrospective critical reflection that can situate research on L2 writing in its historical context and provide a state of the art view of past achievements and as a prospective critical analysis of what lies ahead in terms of theory research and applications Accordingly the Handbook aims to provide i foundational information on the emergence and subsequent evolution of the field ii state of the art surveys of available theoretical and research basic and applied insights iii overviews of research methods in L2 writing research iv critical reflections on future developments and v explorations of existing and emerging disciplinary interfaces with other fields of inquiry Current Challenges and Emerging Teaching English as a Foreign Language Practice Yomaira Angélica Herreño-Contreras, 2025-02-28 This book brings together contributions on current challenges in Teaching English as a Foreign Language TEFL in Latin America It examines various issues related to two areas within TEFL first in class activities and innovative approaches focusing on the development of intercultural competence technology based teaching and learning practices grammar learning and digital life and its repercussions in English learning Second teacher education and professional development analyzing aspects such as source based writing skills Lingua Franca and World Englishes post pandemic face to face instruction and literature in English as a Foreign Language EFL Teacher Education Programs along with studies on job satisfaction attrition and professional identity Specifically the chapters provide an overview of the EFL teacher and classroom in Latin America and the demands benefits and drawbacks observed in this sociocultural context Each chapter also includes meaningful views from a Latin American context and contributes to the development of better EFL teaching and learning practices worldwide This book is a useful reference for scholars researchers and educators who focus on EFL teaching and learning at any educational level in Latin America It is also a helpful resource for trainee teachers delving further into their fields Reading Empirical Research Studies John R. Hayes, Richard E. Young, Michele L. Matchett, Maggie McCaffrey, Cynthia Cochran, 2020-10-07 For the most part those who teach writing and administer writing programs do not conduct research on writing Perhaps more significantly they do not often read the research done by others because effective reading of articles on empirical research requires special knowledge and abilities By and large those responsible for maintaining and improving writing instruction cannot without further training access work that could help them carry out their responsibilities more effectively This book is designed as a text in graduate programs that offer instruction in rhetoric and composition Its primary educational purposes are to provide models and critical methods designed to improve the reading of scientific discourse to provide models of effective research designs and projects appropriate to those learning to do empirical research in rhetoric Aiming to cultivate new attitudes toward empirical research this volume encourages an appreciation of the rhetorical tradition that informs the production and critical reading of empirical studies The book should also reinforce a slowly growing realization in English studies that empirical methods are not inherently alien to the humanities rather that methods extend the power of humanist researchers trying to solve the problems of their discipline
