Psychoanalytic Thinking Donald L. Carveth,2018-04-17 A video of Don Carveth discussing the book and its subject matter can be accessed using the following web URL <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yW7tGq0uEtU> Since the classical Freudian and ego psychology paradigms lost their position of dominance in the late 1950s psychoanalysis became a multi paradigm science with those working in the different frameworks increasingly engaging only with those in the same or related intellectual silos Beginning with Freud s theory of human nature and civilization Psychoanalytic Thinking A Dialectical Critique of Contemporary Theory and Practice proceeds to review and critically evaluate a series of major post Freudian contributions to psychoanalytic thought In response to the defects blind spots and biases in Freud s work Melanie Klein Wilfred Bion Jacques Lacan Erich Fromm Donald Winnicott Heinz Kohut Heinrich Racker Ernest Becker amongst others offered useful correctives and innovations that are nevertheless themselves in need of remediation for their own forms of one sidedness Through Carveth s comparative exploration readers will acquire a sense of what is enduringly valuable in these diverse psychoanalytic contributions as well as exposure to the dialectically deconstructive method of critique that Carveth sees as central to psychoanalytic thinking at its best Carveth violates the taboo against speaking of the Imaginary

Symbolic and the Real unless one is a Lacanian or the paranoid schizoid and depressive positions unless one is a Kleinian or id ego superego ego ideal and conscience unless one is a Freudian ego psychologist and so on Out of dialogue and mutual critique psychoanalysis can over time separate the wheat from the chaff collect the wheat and approach an ever evolving synthesis Psychoanalytic Thinking A Dialectical Critique of Contemporary Theory and Practice will be of great interest to psychoanalysts and psychoanalytic psychotherapists and more broadly to readers in philosophy social science and critical social theory

Intimate Violence Julie Blackman, 2002-03-06 Traditional analyses of domestic battery often point to the batterer's need for power and control to explain patterns of violent behavior Offering a nonjudgmental and compassionate view of the interior life of the batterer Intimate Violence moves beyond this explanation and transforms our understanding of the psychic origins of abuse The book is divided into three main sections The first assesses psychoanalytic understanding of the inner mechanisms of the batterer's violent behavior toward close family members pointing to disruptions in the abuser's narcissistic equilibrium The second section looks more broadly at the ideas of batterer and victim and the ways these categories and the social stigma and support accorded respectively may impede healing and resolution The third section addresses various treatment methods that promise permanent changes in batterers behavior Intimate Violence also deals frankly with the dynamics of the therapist client relationship in battery cases particularly transference and countertransference How do therapists deal with feelings of revulsion for the batterer's behavior or for the batterer him or herself How do they resist the very human urge within themselves to punish their clients Scalia persuasively argues that these issues subtly undermine counseling causing resistance to develop within both parties and that a new approach to therapy is needed His analysis suggests that emotional communication in the context of prolonged and deep psychoanalysis enables patient and practitioner alike to transcend cycles of recrimination and defensiveness

Psychoanalysis, Intersubjective Writing, and a Postmaterialist Model of Mind Dan Gilhooley, Frank Toich, 2019-09-23 In this in depth and unique collaboration between a patient and his psychoanalyst Psychoanalysis Intersubjective Writing and a Postmaterialist Model of Mind I Woke Up Dead examines the unconscious mind by analysing the patient's novel written during his treatment as the focus Using the patient's creative writing and their intersubjective relationship as evidence Dan Gilhooley and Frank Toich show how psychoanalysis fits within a postmaterialist model of mind In this ground breaking exploration Gilhooley and Toich together demonstrate how a nonlocal unconscious can reshape the psychoanalytic conception of the mind Split into four parts Intersubjective Quantum History and Collaboration Dan introduces three themes in the first recovery from death the intersubjective nature of therapeutic work and the role of creative imagination combining these themes with analysis of Frank's work and short related stories from his own life Part II Quantum introduces the concept of nonlocality to describe the mind and draws on the appearance of quantum physics in Frank's science fiction before moving onto Part III History which examines the emergence of psychoanalysis out of animal magnetism looking at rapport telepathy and love in psychotherapy Finally Collaboration discusses their ongoing psychotherapeutic experiment the role of imagination dissociation and the cosmic mind in psychological growth Interweaving creative writing psychoanalytic theory and real life stories the book re contextualizes the history and future of psychoanalysis Due to its multidisciplinary nature this book will appeal to psychotherapists and psychologists in practice and in training It would also be a vital resource for academics and students of counseling consciousness studies psychoanalysis psychotherapy and psychology

Emotional Communication Paul Geltner, 2013 What role does animal like and infantile communication play in life and in psychoanalysis How are painful childhood experiences recreated with people who are nothing like the original family What are the roles of loving and horrible feelings in psychoanalytic cure In Emotional Communication Paul Geltner places the pre linguistic type of communication that is shared with infants and animals at the core of the psychoanalytic relationship He shows how emotional communication intertwines with language permeating every moment of human interaction and becoming a primary way that people involuntarily recreate painful childhood relationships in current life Emotional Communication integrates observations from a number of psychoanalytic schools in a cohesive but non eclectic model Geltner expands psychoanalytic technique beyond the traditional focus on interpretation and the contemporary focus on authenticity to include the use feelings that precisely address the client s repetitive patterns of misery The author breaks down analytic interventions into their cognitive and emotional components describing how each engages a different part of the client s mind and serves a different function He explains the role of emotional communication in psychoanalytic technique both in classical interpretations and in non interpretive interventions that use the analyst s feelings to amplify the therapeutic power of the psychoanalytic relationship Offering a clear alternative to both Classical and contemporary Relational and Intersubjective approaches to understanding and treating clients in psychoanalysis Paul Geltner presents a theory of communication and maturation that will interest psychoanalysts psychotherapists and those concerned with the subtleties of human relatedness

behavioural family therapists worked in an area that had greatly changed since its inception over 20 years before Growing out of the pioneering work of Gerald Patterson Robert Paul Liberman and Richard Stuart whose backgrounds vary from psychology to psychiatry to social work behavioural family therapy BFT had evolved to encompass systems theory considerations of the therapeutic alliance as well as approaches to accounting for and restructuring family members subjective experiences through cognitive strategies As BFT had not been the brain child of any one charismatic innovator but rather of a wide array of clinicians and researchers developing and rigorously testing hypotheses it is fitting that this much needed summation of the field was a collaborative product of an array of well established practitioners of the time They discuss in Part 1 of the book the theoretical parameters of BFT focusing on modular behavioural strategies the indications for therapy assessment of family problems pertinent issues arising in clinical practice and approaches to the problem of resistance to change Contributors to Part 2 then apply theory to such clinical situations as parent training and helping families cope with patients suffering from developmental disabilities alcoholism schizophrenia senile dementia as well as anxiety obsessive compulsive and depressive disorders Specific attention is also given to acute inpatient and primary health care settings While BFT had already proved quite effective in treating a great number of family problems it was only in its infancy at the time of writing As Falloon says in his overview all exponents of the method are constantly involved with the process of refinement each clinician is a researcher each family member is a research subject and each researcher is contributing to clinical advancement This openness in combination with a willingness to modify sacred tenets of behaviourism while adapting proven techniques from other family therapies made this title a landmark in its field As such it was not only of interest to all clinicians and researchers with a behavioural slant but also to all family therapists who wished to challenge themselves to develop an integrative approach
