Restoring Farmers Seed Systems in Disaster Situations FAO,FAO Staff,2005 This publication presents the report case studies and background papers of the International Workshop on Developing Institutional Agreements and Capacity to Assist Farmers in Disaster Situations to Restore Agricultural Systems and Seed Security Activities held at FAO headquarters in Rome from 3 to 5 November 1998 The workshop was organized by FAO's Seed and Plant Genetic Resources Service under the framework of the FAO Norway Cooperative Programme Its objectives were twofold First it aimed to develop strategies to improve the capacity of disaster prone countries to prepare farmer seed systems to minimize the effects of disasters and to promote mechanisms that will enable countries and their rural farming communities to identify acquire multiply and deliver seed of locally adapted varieties before during and after disasters Second the workshop sought to determine mechanisms of collaboration for a continuing partnership among governments and institutions involved in the maintenance or restoration of farmer seed systems plant genetic resources and seed security after disasters The main output from the workshop was a strong recommendation that FAO should explore the possibility of supporting the establishment of a Seed Security Consultative Group under the auspices of FAO with a broad constituency including all stakeholders involved in efforts to rehabilitate agricultural production systems affected by disaster This consultative group would coordinate efforts to conserve locally adapted plant genetic resources to harmonize seed rules and regulations and to disseminate information on lessons learned about strengthening farmer seed systems in disaster prone regions Contents Chapter 1 Case Studies Seed and plant genetic resources restoration in conflict and disaster situations in Angola by Elizabeth M Matos Agricultural recovery and emergency seed restoration in the post disaster situation of Angola world vision international by Claude Nankam Emergency seed supply in Afghanistan by N S Tunwar Emergency production of high quality seed for war affected area in Bosnia and Herzegovina by Mona Schaya Les distributions gratuites d'intrants agricoles et les programmes de multiplication de semences au Rwanda de 1994 A 1998 by Jan Francois Gascon The effects of the Rwandan war on crop production seed security and varietal security a comparison of two crops by Louise Sperling Chapter 2 Background Papers Characterizing disasters by Francois Grunewald Farmer seed systems by Temba M Musa Farmer seed systems and disaster by Catherine Longley and Paul Richards Plant genetic resources and disaster by Catherine Longley and Paul Richards Plant genetic resources and seed relief by Toby Hobgkin and Murthi Anishetty Regulatory aspects of seed security by Miels P Louwaars and R Tripp Seed stocks and seed multiplication in emergency situations by I Sikora W Fiebig and E Sgaravati Food and seed assistance in the recovery from crisis by Deborah Hines S Wickrema and L Van Straaten Restoration of seed systems and plant genetic resources after disasters A synthesis of the background papers by Victor N Bushamuka Restoring Farmers' Seed Systems in Disaster Situations ,1999 Planned conservation and utilization of local crop genetic resources is of prime importance for food security as it permits small scale farmers of developing countries to have permanent access to seed and planting material adapted to their region Conservation of and access to these resources are most important in disaster prone areas as farmers in these regions often lose all of their seed stocks during disasters either man made or natural Furthermore disasters cause the loss of local varieties or genotypes hence leading to the erosion of genetic diversity This publication presents the report case studies and background papers of a workshop held in Rome in November 1998 The purpose of the workshop was to develop strategies and mechanisms that would strengthen seed security in developing countries and regions in disaster prone areas thereby enabling a rapid and effective restoration of farmer seed systems to restore domestic food security following disasters Towards Effective and Sustainable Seed Relief Activities Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2004-01-01 This report contains papers given to a FAO workshop meeting held in Rome in May 2003 organised to consider how to improve the effectiveness of seed relief schemes to promote sustainable development and food security to identify gaps in the development of tools guidance and methodologies and to make recommendations for further collaborative work It includes case studies of seed relief activities in several African countries Seed systems and crop genetic diversity on-farm : proceedings of a workshop, 16 - 20 September 2003, Pucallpa, Peru Devra Ivy Jarvis,2005 Restoring Farmer's Seed Systems in Disaster Situations FAO.,2005 Quality Declared Seed System Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2006-01-01 The quality declared seed system as set out in the FAO Plant Production and Production Paper No 117 1993 ISBN 9251032785 has been widely used particularly by those working in the field of emergency seed supply and as a source of practical information on seed standards for a range of crop species

The system provided an alternative for seed quality assurance which was less demanding than full seed quality control systems This publication sets out a revised version prepared by an expert consultation which offers a more explicit recognition of the role of national policies and the impact of some recent international obligations on seed provision and a clearer explanation on how quality declared seeds can accommodate local varieties The list of crops now includes 92 species of which 21 include open pollinated and hybrids and one includes also a synthetic variety In making this update FAO sought to improve seed supplies to farmers and thus to contribute to food security Seed multiplication by resource-limited farmers FAO.,2004 FAO through its Seed and Plant Genetics Resources Service is conducting a series of expert consultations workshops and conferences to generate ideas develop methodologies and facilitate initiatives aimed at strengthening on farm seed multiplication the informal seed system thereby addressing the seed security needs of smallholder farmers

Agricultural Seed Production Raymond A. T. George,2011 A practical coverage of the principles of producing seeds for the main agricultural crops this book emphasises producing optimal quality seed and applies to small and large scale farms worldwide Cereals such as wheats rice barley rye and maize are covered along with pulses legumes oil seed rape and soybean Coverage includes principles of production such as pollination agronomy issues such as site selection and cultivar purity seed processing drying and storage A focus on global food security is maintained throughout Seed Policy and

Programmes for the Central and Eastern European Countries, Commonwealth of Independent States and Other Countries in Transition ,2001-01-01 This publication presents the proceedings of a FAO regional technical meeting held in Hungary in March 2001 In line with the Rome Declaration on World Food Security and the World Food Summit Plan of Action the meeting recognised that a key challenge facing most central and Eastern European countries is the need to invest significant resources to increase the availability of good quality seed of a wider range of plant varieties Addressing Seed Security in Disaster Response ,2004 World Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology Abstracts ,2000 Seed Policy and

Programmes in Latin America and the Caribbean ,2001-01-01 The meeting recognised the need for the sustainable use of plant genetic resources for sustainable agricultural development of the region Discussions focused on the appropriate mechanisms required to ensure capacity for the maintenance production and equitable distribution of good quality seeds from a wide range of plant varieties The meeting agreed to establish the Seed Consultative Forum for Latin America and the Caribbean Global Report on Validated Alternatives to the Use of Methyl Bromide for Soil Fumigation R.

Labrada, Luca Fornasari,2001-01-01 Methyl bromide MeBr used as a fumigant to control several soil borne pests in various crops is a strong ozone depleter and governments and international agencies aware of the problem have agreed to establish a programme to phase out its use As a result some literature on new MeBr alternatives is available that describes the feasibility and disadvantages of each new pest control measure Some of these publications result from workshops and symposia organized in different countries by the United Nations Environment Programme and by the United Nations Industrial Development Organization The present report provides information on successful alternatives in some countries or regions where MeBr is being phased out Although the report often shows the lack of already validated alternatives particularly for a region such as Africa the material provides enough elements on the technical and economic success of a variety of alternatives to assist agricultural researchers and extensionists in carrying out further studies and or for validation The material can also serve as a reference particularly for the training of trainers Guidance for Packing, Shipping,

Holding and Release of Sterile Flies in Area-wide Fruit Fly Control Programmes Walther Enkerlin,2007-01-01 There has been little harmonisation of the processes involved in the handling and release of sterile insects after production in mass rearing facilities There are no standard guidelines available to transfer this technology to FAO or IAEA member countries that want to embark on sterile insect technique SIT activities There is also increased interest by the private sector in investing in sterile insect production and or other SIT activities and these harmonized guidelines on the post production phase will facilitate SIT application and foster the commercialization of the SIT This guideline resulted from two FAO IAEA consultants meetings with representatives of relevant SIT programmes the first held in Sarasota Florida United States of America April 2004 and the second in Vienna Austria August 2005 It has identified a number of gaps in knowledge as well as procedures that are often based on conventional wisdom but which need scientific verification or optimization Pesticide
