Rethinking Research on Land Degradation in Developing Countries, 1993

Rethinking Research on Land Degradation in Developing Countries Yvan Biot, 1995-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 280 Addresses the need to improve the administration of justice in Latin America and the Caribbean and provides effective strategies for reform Judicial reform is a new area of interest for the World Bank This book addresses the need to improve the administration of justice in Latin America and the Caribbean and provides effective strategies for reform The report combines the experiences of more than 20 countries in their effort to enhance the quality and efficiency of their judicial systems The authors highlight the importance of the judiciary in economic development with a particular focus on court administration the judicial institutional framework alternative dispute resolution mechanisms procedural reforms access to justice and the role of the legal profession

Land Degradation in Tanzania Alemneh Dejene, 1997-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 370 Local land users and officials often have conflicting perceptions of and responses to land degradation issues This causes problems for officials in diagnosing and addressing the issue and is a major constraint on the successful implementation of policies and projects to address land degradation This study looks at the perception and response gap between officials and land users in the diagnosis and remedy of land degradation It also examines the dynamics of the loss of soil fertility and low productivity at the village level The study's findings will help shape investment programs to enhance land productivity in Sub Saharan Africa

Integrated Watershed Management in the Global Ecosystem Rattan Lal, 1999-08-23 Focusing on the technical social and economic issues involved in watershed management this interdisciplinary author team focuses on bettering land use practices and the condition of soil water resources Integrated Watershed Management in the Global Ecosystem is a volume composed from an international symposium of the world's leading experts

Reforming the Energy Sector in Transition Economies Dale Gray, 1995-01-01 World Development Report 1995 Workers in an Integrating World addresses labor and employment issues that are important for South Asia Expanding employment and increasing the remuneration of workers are essential to poverty alleviation which is the primary objective of all countries in the region This regional perspective examines ways in which workers in South Asia can benefit from greater integration of the global economy through improving their skills or cushioning their transition to new jobs The paper emphasizes that governments need to develop a framework for labor policies that defines the rights of employers workers and labor unions and the framework for collective bargaining and settlement of disputes Liberalization will lead to market based development which is the best way to raise workers living standards it encourages firms and workers to invest in physical capital new technologies and skills

Uganda's AIDS Crisis Jill Armstrong, 1995-01-01 Examines the economic problems that arise when governments own and operate enterprises that could be managed by the private sector Despite more than a decade of divestiture state owned enterprises account for nearly as large a share of developing countries economies today as twenty years ago This report examines the economic problems that arise when governments own and operate enterprises that could be managed by the private sector It finds that such enterprises are often inefficient and shows how the resulting losses to the economy hinder growth making it harder for people to escape poverty Why have reforms had such little impact In an innovative study of the political economy of state enterprise reform the report describes common obstacles to reform and describes ways that some countries have overcome them Drawing on a rich database and detailed country case studies the report provides the most comprehensive assessment yet of a decade of divestiture and reform of state owned enterprises It evaluates the experiences of 12 countries some of these countries reformed successfully and some did not but all tried to improve the incentive structure by changing the contract between the government and state owned firms The report offers guidance for successful reform and suggests ways that foreign assistance can more effectively support reform efforts The countries covered in the case studies are Chile China Czech Republic Egypt Ghana India Republic of Korea Mexico Philippines Poland Senegal and Turkey Published for the World Bank by Oxford University Press

Targeted Credit Programs and Rural Poverty in Bangladesh Shahidur R. Khandker, Osman H.

Chowdhury, 1996-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 347 Describes the elements of health reform in Sierra Leone as the West African nation attempts to overhaul its health system and focus it on the neediest populations To highlight the role of key stakeholders the study reviews the actions proposed and taken for reforming a package of health services organizing the provision of those services and financing the health sector The paper also identifies factors critical for success and concludes with an assessment of future prospects for reform of this crucial sector Africa Can Compete!, 1996 All 15 new independent states established in the economic space of the former Soviet Union suffered big declines in output and trade after gaining independence This study summarizes cross country experience on the role of trade and payments policies in the linked contraction of output and trade by drawing on eight country case studies Estonia the Kyrgyz Republic Latvia Lithuania Moldova Russia Ukraine and Uzbekistan The results of the case studies show that trade reform and reorientation of trade toward the rest of the world have done much to arrest the decline in output usually associated with the transformation from plan to market Also available in English Stock no 13615 ISBN 0 8213 3615 0

The Role of Family Planning and Targeted Credit Programs in Demographic Change in Bangladesh Shahidur R. Khandker, Muhammad Abdul Latif, 1996-01-01 FIAS

Occasional Paper No 6 Examines and compares the recent experiences of a number of developing countries in encouraging backward linkages the purchasing of goods and services from locally owned suppliers by companies controlled by foreign firms The authors argue that economic liberalization helps rather than hurts domestic suppliers that institutional support focusing on upgrading the capabilities of domestic suppliers is critical and that promotional programs combining public and private resources can accelerate linkage development Policy Options for Reform of Chinese State-owned Enterprises

Harry G. Broadman,1996-01-01 Annotation World Bank Discussion Paper No 335 Presents the proceedings of a high level international symposium on Chinese state owned enterprise reform held in Beijing China June 1995 This report includes five policy option papers presented by Chinese officials and one presented by the World Bank Group that makes recommendations for reform on the basis of the Group s international experience in this area The Broad Sector

Approach to Investment Lending Peter Harrold,1995-01-01 The persistent inequality between women and men constrains society to lower levels of productivity and economic growth The evidence for taking corrective action is now more compelling than ever This report draws on case studies and other evidence to show how public policy can and should support services and infrastructure where the social returns are the highest and the use by women the greatest It reviews progress made to date on gender issues and explores why inequalities persist The report also stimulates ideas for creative solutions by pointing out innovative and less than obvious strategies that have proved successful In Morocco for instance a study shows that paving the public road to school increases a girl s probability of attending classes by 40 percent Also available Toward Gender Equality The Role of Public Policy on CD ROM ISBN 0 8213 3471 9 Stock No 13471

Economy-Environment-Development-Knowledge Ken Cole,2002-01-04 As we approach the end of the second millennium we find ourselves in times of radical social change Orthodox explanations of the economy the environment and the development process are unable to provide coherent policies for such issues as employment creation environmental degradation and social progress Economy Environment Development Knowledge provides alternative perspectives on these fundamental aspects of human existence Economists environmentalists and development theorists have so far been unable to agree on the most successful prescriptions to address problems To understand contrast and compare alternative understandings of economic environmental and development issues we need to be aware why theorists conceptualise the process of social experience so differently Part 1 of Economy Environment Development Knowledge addresses the subjective preference cost of production and abstract labour theories of values in economics Part 2 explains egocentrism ecocentrism and socioecocentrism as competing theoretical perspectives in environmental theory Part 3 highlights modernisation theory structuralist theory and class struggle as ways to account for the process of development and Part 4 examines the generation of knowledge through positivism paradigms and praxis legitimating competing perspectives in economics environmentalist and development The book concludes by considering why different people find alternative explanations more or less plausible By addressing the disagreements between theorists Economy Environment Development Knowledge provides a unique basis to contrast and compare the plethora of theories of and policies for economic prosperity environmental sustainability and social progress Saving Across the World Klaus Schmidt-Hebbel,Luis Servén,1997-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 349 The Bank s approach to water resources development has shifted from one of construction activities to one of improved management quality creating a new generation of water related projects and the need for new evaluation procedures This paper addresses the methodology for economic evaluation of this new group of projects and draws on the experience of the recently approved Mexico Water Resources Management project

Participating in Development Alan Bicker, Johan Pottier, Paul Sillitoe, 2003-12-16 Development has too often failed to deliver on its promises to poor nations The policies imposed from above by international agencies and state bodies have frequently not met the needs and aspirations of ordinary people Development agencies have been searching for sometime for alternative approaches One of those being pioneered is indigenous knowledge which aims to make local voices heard more effectively However while it is increasingly acknowledged in development contexts it is yet to be validated and accepted by anthropologists It is self evident to any anthropologist that effective development assistance will benefit from some understanding of local knowledge and practices This therefore puts anthropology and anthropologists at the centre of development This volume focuses on two major issues that anthropology might profitably address First of all how to define indigenous knowledge and who should define it as it currently lacks disciplinary coherence Secondly once this definition is achieved what methodologies should be used in such an interdisciplinary research endeavour when it must meet the demands of development cost and time effective intelligible to non experts while not compromising anthropological expectations The new opportunities and their methodological implications are addressed in the chapters of this book in a range of ethnographic and institutional contexts and demonstrate how wide reaching and how crucially important this debate has become Participating in Development is a thought provoking and challenge collection Its authors both define and validate the role of the anthropologist in development as well of development in anthropology

Advances in Food and Non-Food Biomass Production, Processing and Use in Sub-Saharan Africa Daniel Callo-Concha, Hannah Jaenicke, Christine B. Schmitt, Manfred Denich, 2020-05-20 The bioeconomy concept aims to add sustainability to the production transformation and trade of biological goods Though implemented around the world the development of national bioeconomies is uneven especially in the global South where major challenges exist in Sub Saharan Africa In this context the international BiomassWeb project aimed to underpin the bioeconomy concept by applying the value web approach which seeks to uncover complex interlinked value webs instead of linear value chains The project also aimed to develop intervention options to strengthen and optimize the synergies and trade offs among different value chains The Special Issue Advances in Food and Non Food Biomass Production Processing and Use in Sub Saharan Africa Toward a Basis for a Regional Bioeconomy compiles 23 articles produced in this framework The articles are grouped in four sections the value web approach the production side processing transformation and trade and global views

From Universal Food Subsidies to a Self-targeted Program Laura Tuck, Kathy Lindert, 1996-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 336 Discusses the influence of targeted credited intervention programs among participants and non participants living in program areas and compares them with poverty situations of households in non program areas The data are randomly drawn from 1 800 households in Bangladesh from both areas The analysis shows that it takes about five years for participants to rise above the poverty line and eight years to graduate from program eligibility On the Road to EU Accession Michael S. Borish, Wei Ding, Michel No[©]±1, 1996-01-01 Analyzes the causes of the inflation debt and growth crises that have occurred over the past 25 years the paths to recovery and the role of foreign aid in resolving the problems

Critical Political Ecology Timothy Forsyth, 2004-11-23 Critical Political Ecology brings political debate to the science of ecology As political controversies multiply over the science underlying environmental debates there is an increasing need to understand the relationship between environmental science and politics In this timely and wide ranging volume Tim Forsyth uses an innovative approach to apply political analysis to ecology and demonstrates how more politicised approaches to science can be used in environmental decision making Critical Political Ecology examines how social and political factors frame environmental science and how science in turn shapes politics how new thinking in philosophy and sociology of science can provide fresh insights into the biophysical causes and impacts of environmental problems how policy and decision makers can acknowledge the political influences on science and achieve more effective public participation and governance

Innovations and Risk Taking Tim Campbell, 1997-01-01 Annotation World Bank Discussion Paper No 357 Decentralization and democratization in the Latin America and the Caribbean region have produced a wave of innovations on the local government level upgrading professional staffs raising taxes and user fees delivering better services and mobilizing participation in public choice making This paper documents five cases of best practices at the local level focusing on innovations in Mendoza Argentina Curitiba Brazil Cali Colombia Manizales Colombia and Tijuana Mexico A the central message of the paper is that by supporting creation and adoption of best practice donors can enjoy a cost effective impact in achieving the next stages of reform in the region but that work must be done at the local level
