Russian Arms Transfers To East Asia In The 1990s:

Russian arms transfers to East Asia in the 1990s Александр Анатольевич Сергунин, Sergei V. Subbotin, 1999 The transfer of arms and military technology is one of the main instruments of Russia's security strategy in East Asia This research report documents Russia's arms exports to these countries and examines the motivations behind its policies and decisions

Russia and East Asia Tsuneo Akaha, Anna Vassilieva, 2014-02-05 Russia has generally been neglected in the academic and policy discourse on regional integration in East Asia This book fills this gap with particular attention to the role of Pacific Russia in the deepening regional integration in East Asia It examines the increasingly diverse foreign policy interests of Russia related to emerging economic and political realities of the world and Russia's potential role in the regional integration in East Asia Topics discussed include Russian strategic interests and security policy in East Asia generally Russia's bilateral relations with China Japan and the Korean Peninsula opportunities and challenges energy and immigration presents for Russia and its engagement with East Asia and Russia's present and future roles in regional integration in East Asia

Russia as an Aspiring Great Power in East Asia P. Rangsimaporn, 2009-08-27 Rangsimaporn argues that Russia aspires to become a great power and tries to achieve this through utilizing its position as a Eurasian country with vast territories in East Asia its economic assets primarily arms and energy and careful management of its role in a multipolar East Asia with a complex balance of power

Arming East Russia Tim Huxley, Susan Willett, 2020-10-07 During the 1990s military spending arms procurement and defence industrialisation have all increased rapidly in East Asia Although these developments do not constitute an arms race they nevertheless have important implications for suppliers of defence equipment for arms control and for regional stability This paper assesses trends in the defence spending of East Asian states particularly in the light of the economic crisis which began in mid 1997 It also focuses on three closely related issues the nature of the regional market for defence equipment defence industrialisation and the effect of trends in defence procurement and industrialisation on East Asian states military capabilities and on the regional military balance

Russia's Road to Corruption United States. Congress. House. Speaker's Advisory Group on Russia, 2000

The International Relations of Northeast Asia Samuel S. Kim, 2003-10-07 Is Northeast Asia primed for peace or ripe for great power rivalry In this turbulent region all the world order challenges of arms control and disarmament global North South tensions human rights and humanitarian intervention environmental protection and eco development and democratization and humane governance are concentrated More than any other part of the world the divided Korean peninsula is the strategic crossroad where the four major regional global powers the United States Russia China and Japan uneasily interact This authoritative work explores the complex and evolving interplay of national regional and global forces influencing Northeast Asia's security economy and identity Written by a team of leading scholars the book presents a variety of theoretical perspectives and case studies to offer a comprehensive analysis of the pressures that shape the policy choices of China Russia Japan the United States North and South Korea and Taiwan The authors historically and culturally informed narratives help track and explain the changes and continuities of relationships within the region and with the United States and Russia Concise and current this book will be essential reading for all those concerned with the role of a changing Northeast Asia in world politics

The United States and Asia, 2001 Publisher Provided Annotation The past 20 years have been a time of relative peace in Asia and notwithstanding the 1997 1998 financial crisis a period of robust economic growth as well Currently however Asia is beset by a variety of problems that could well imperil the stability it has long enjoyed including territorial disputes nuclear rivalry rising nationalist sentiments and increased military capabilities This report summarizes the manner in which the United States can best meet these challenges and thereby ensure continued peace and stability in the region In the interests of this goal the report outlines an integrated political military and economic strategy that the United States can pursue to inhibit the growth of rivalries in Asia and more broadly prevent the rise of instability in the region Also delineated are changes in U S military posture that will be made necessary by this strategy International Relations and Asia's

Northern Tier Gilbert Rozman, Sergey Radchenko, 2017-10-03 In this new book noted scholars of Northeast Asia contribute new views on the future of the region Collecting essays from experts of all 4 countries and their interconnected histories and political orders the book helps to contextualize the future development of the region in the context of a US Pivot to Asia The four countries on the northern fringe of Asia went their separate ways after the end of the Cold War but strengthening Sino Russian relations and what may be the looming endgame in North Korea s strategy of threats and isolation are signs that we now need to think about this area also through its connections Looking back to what existed in an earlier incarnation of the Northern Tier and focusing on Chinese and Russian views of North Korea we are able to explore the implications of increasingly close Sino Russian relations The book will be of great value to scholars policymakers and all passionate about exploring what s next for Russia and China s relationship Policing Northeast Asia Se Hyun Ahn, 2020-06-02 This book explores the progress in and the obstacles surrounding developing comprehensive security cooperation between Russia and South Korea since diplomatic relations were established in 1991 within the framework of economic security The book focuses on oil and natural gas projects linking the Trans Siberian and Trans Korean Railroads industrial development in the Nakhodka Free Economic Zone fishery cooperation and the arms trade and examines whether these five aspects of cooperation serve to contribute to building Russian South Korean bilateral and regional economic security The author argues that these five aspects of cooperation all have the potential to enhance comprehensive bilateral security and further regional economic security in Northeast Asia However Russian South Korean economic cooperation has been hampered by a number of obstacles including domestic factors as well as external factors and prevented Russia and South Korea from fulfilling their potential for creating a cooperative comprehensive security relationship The author concludes with an assessment on the utility of the concept of multi dimensional security cooperation as a framework for studying and improving the prospects for

Togo, 2006-11-27 The book explains the Putin era's ambivalent approach to Asia and finds lessons from earlier approaches worthy of further attention. The overview compares how strategic thinking evolved while reflecting on factors that shaped it.

Phoenix from the Ashes Cameron Scott Mitchell, 2009-12-01 The continued existence of the Russian defence and arms industry OPK was called into question following the disintegration of the Soviet Union in 1991. Industry experts cited the lack of a domestic market, endemic corruption and excess capacity within the industry as factors underpinning its predicted demise. However, the industry's export customers in China, India and Iran during those early years became the OPK's saving grace. Their orders introduced hard currency back into the industry and went a long way to preventing the forecasted OPK collapse. Although pessimistic predictions continued to plague the OPK throughout the 1990s, the valuable export dollars provided the OPK the breathing space it needed to claw back its competitive advantage as an arms producer. That revival has been further underpinned by a new political commitment, various research and development initiatives and the restoration of defence industry as a tool of Russian foreign policy. The short-term future of the Russian OPK looks promising. The rising domestic defence order is beginning to challenge the export market as the OPK's most important customer. Meanwhile, exports will be safeguarded by continued foreign demand for niche Russian defence products. Although the long-term future of the OPK is more difficult to predict, Russia's solid research and development foundation and successful international joint military ventures suggest that the current thriving trend in exports is likely to continue. Russia represents the next generation of affordable and rugged military equipment for the arsenals of the developing world. Coupled with Russia's growing ability to rearm itself through higher oil prices and a more streamlined defence industry, the future of the OPK looks bright. The Future of China-Russia Relations James Bellacqua, 2010-09-12 Relations between China and Russia have evolved dramatically since their first diplomatic contact, particularly during the twentieth century. During the past decade, China and Russia have made efforts to strengthen bilateral ties and improve cooperation on a number of diplomatic fronts. The People's Republic of China and the Russian Federation maintain exceptionally close and friendly relations, strong geopolitical and regional cooperation and significant levels of trade. In The Future of China-Russia Relations, scholars from around the world explore the current state of the relationship between the two powers and assess the prospects for future cooperation and possible tensions in the new century. The contributors examine Russian and Chinese perspectives on a wide range of issues, including security, political relationships, economic interactions and defense ties. This collection explores the energy courtship between the two nations and analyzes their interests and policies regarding Central Asia, the Korean Peninsula and Taiwan.

Publications Combined: Russia's Regular And Special Forces In The Regional And Global War On Terror, Over 2 400 total pages. Russian outrage following the September 2004 hostage disaster at North Ossetia's Beslan Middle School No 1 was reflected in many ways throughout the country. The 52-hour debacle resulted in the death of some 344 civilians, including more than 170 children in addition to unprecedented losses of elite Russian security forces and the dispatch of most Chechen allied hostage takers themselves. It quickly became clear as well that Russian authorities had been less than candid about the number of hostages held and the extent to which they were prepared to deal with the situation. Amid grief calls for retaliation and demands for reform, one of the more telling reactions in terms of hardening public perspectives appeared in a national poll taken several days after the event. Some 54% of citizens polled specifically judged the Russian security forces and the police to be corrupt and thus complicit in the failure to deal adequately with terrorism, while 44% thought that no lessons for the future would be learned from the tragedy. This pessimism was the consequence not just of the Beslan terrorism but the accumulation of years of often spectacular failures by Russian special operations forces (SOF) in the apt US military acronym. A series of Russian SOF counterterrorism mishaps, misjudgments and failures in the 1990s and continuing to the present have made the Kremlin's special operations establishment in 2005 appear much like Russia's old Mir space station wired together, unpredictable and subject to sudden startling failures. But Russia continued to maintain and expand a large variegated special operations establishment which had borne the brunt of combat actions in Afghanistan, Chechnya and other trouble spots and was expected to serve as the nation's principal shield against terrorism in all its forms. Known since Soviet days for tough personnel, personal bravery, demanding training and a certain rough or brutal competence that not infrequently violated international human rights norms, it was supposed that Russian special operations forces steeped in their world of threats to the state and associated with once dreaded military and national intelligence services could make valuable contributions to countering terrorism. The now widely perceived link between corrupt special forces on the one hand and counterterrorism failures on the other reflected the further erosion of Russia's national security infrastructure in the eyes of both Russian citizens and international observers. There have been other more ambiguous but equally unsettling dimensions of Russian SOF activity as well that have strong internal and external political aspects. These constitute the continuing assertions from Russian media, the judicial system and other Federal agencies and officials that past and current members of the SOF establishment have organized to pursue interests other than those publicly declared by the state or allowed under law. This includes especially the alleged intent to punish by assassination those individuals and groups that they believe have betrayed Russia. The murky nature of these alleged activities has formed a backdrop to other problems in the special units.

Russian Foreign Policy Since 1990 Peter Shearman, 2018-02-12. A book which brings together leading experts on Russia's foreign relations providing the most comprehensive coverage of contemporary Russian foreign policy currently available in a single volume. Detailed case studies of relations with specific countries and regions are complemented by chapters that examine the process of decision making, conflict between domestic institutional actors, the role of groups such as the military and Russia's search for a new identity.

The Belt and Road Initiative and the Future of Regional

Order in the Indo-Pacific Nick Bisley, Michael Clarke, Matthew Sussex, 2020-01-20 The Belt and Road Initiative BRI is emerging as a vital lynch pin in China's efforts to establish a maritime and continental zone of influence in the Indo Pacific region The Belt and Road Initiative and the Future of Regional Order in the Indo Pacific interrogates to what extent BRI represents an achievable vision of a China centric order in Asia and explores its major security implications for the region The contributions to this volume provide up to date analysis of the effect of BRI on the region's foreign policy and alliance patterns its connection to geo economics and domestic Chinese politics and the policy responses of key Indo Pacific actors While acknowledging that BRI remains prey to a variety of internal and exogenous shocks the contributors conclude that at the very least BRI will continue to disrupt the existing alignments of economic and strategic interests in the Indo Pacific and that on this minimal basis BRI will likely be judged a success by China For regional actors however the BRI simultaneously enhances choice while presenting strategic and economic risks of greater dependency on China a dilemma intensified by the disruptive effects of the Trump administration on regional confidence in the longevity of American commitments and leadership

Explaining Russian Foreign Policy Behavior Alexander Sergunin, 2016-03-22 This book aims to explain the reasons behind Russia's international conduct in the post Soviet era examining Russian foreign policy discourse with a particular focus on the major foreign policy schools of Atlanticism Eurasianism derzhavniki realpolitik geopolitics neo Marxism radical nationalism and post positivism The Russian post Soviet threat perceptions and national security doctrines are studied The author critically assesses the evolution of Russian foreign policy decision making over the last 25 years and analyzes the roles of various governmental agencies interest groups and subnational actors Concluding that a foreign policy consensus is gradually emerging in contemporary Russia Sergunin argues that the Russian foreign policy discourse aims not only at the formulation of an international strategy but also at the search for a new national identity Alexander Sergunin argues that Russia's current domestic situation defined by numerous socio economic inter ethnic demographic environmental and other problems dictates the need to abandon superpower ambitions and to rather set modest foreign policy goals

Globalization, Security, and the Nation State Ersel Aydinli, James N. Rosenau, 2012-02-01 This volume studies the links among the concepts of globalization security and the authority of the nation state drawing attention to why and how these three concepts are interrelated and why they should be studied together Contributors explore the connections between security and global transformations and the corresponding or resulting changes in state structures that emerge Probing and extending existing paradigms the book offers three regional cases studies the periphery states of the Middle East and North Africa the second world states of the Russian Federation and the core states of the European Union It concludes with three chapters that synthesize the above themes to identify corresponding changes in the patterns of international politics

ASEAN-Russia Victor Sumsky, Mark Hong, Amy Lugg, 2012-05-30 In 2012 Russia assumes the Chairmanship of APEC and is keen to build on its memberships of both East Asia Summit EAS and the Asia Europe Meeting ASEM Russia is geographically and historically part of Asia and the Asia Pacific and has been a dialogue partner of ASEAN since 1996. Still the obstacles of distance and languages have led ASEAN member states and Russia to know and interact little between both sides. As growth poles in the world economy there is much benefit in greater interaction between their rich economies. To commemorate the 15th Anniversary of the Russia ASEAN dialogue partnership in 2011 the ASEAN Studies Centre at ISEAS and its counterpart from MGIMO University Moscow co-organized a two-day conference that year in which papers were presented offering perspectives from Russia and the ten ASEAN member states. Representatives from academia and the public and private sectors offered insights on topics including geopolitics, bilateral relations, business and economics, and culture and education. This is a timely book that affords the reader insights into where ASEAN Russia relations currently stand and suggests how they can improve and move forward.

The New Global Politics of the Asia-Pacific Michael K. Connors, Rémy Davison, Jörn Dosch, 2017-10-30. Now in its new and fully updated third edition, The New Global Politics of the Asia Pacific continues to provide a compelling analysis of a region undergoing dramatic changes. Based on new research and offering fresh interpretation, this edition evaluates the prospects for continuing US dominance in the Asian Century. Whilst presenting evidence for a multifaceted Beijing Strategy which aims to counter the US by building an alternative regional order, it also explains Japan's definitive departure from its limited military role. Providing an introductory guide for the main frameworks needed to understand the region, including realism, liberalism, and critical theory, this new edition is reader-friendly and offers sophisticated competing explanations. Key content includes intra-regional conflicts in the South China Sea and the Korean peninsula; the different responses within the Asia Pacific to the globalization of Western ideas of democracy and political economy; the underappreciated success of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations in building a regional identity; the European Union's soft power in the region; a highly topical account which offers an overview of the main actors, institutions, and contemporary issues in the Asia Pacific. The book will be essential reading for undergraduate students of Asian Studies, International Politics, and anyone interested in the region.
