a name of course and their physical resemblance was startling And both Frank Thrings were huge figures in the landscape of twentieth century Australian theatre and film But in many ways they could hardly have been more different Frank Thring the father 1882 1936 began his career as a sideshow conjuror and he wheeled dealed and occasionally married his way into becoming the legendary F T impresario speculator and owner of Efftee Films Australia s first talkies studio He built for himself an image of grand patriarchal respectability a sizeable fortune and all the makings of a dynasty Frank Thring the son 1926 1994 squandered the fortune and derailed the dynasty in the course of creating his own persona a unique presence that could make most stages and foyers seem small He won fame playing tyrants in togas in Hollywood blockbusters then suddenly came home to Melbourne to play perhaps his finest role that of Frank Thring actor and personality extraordinaire Central to this role was that Frank the son was unapologetically and outrageously gay Peter Fitzpatrick s compelling dual biography tells the story of two remarkable characters It s a kind of detective story following the tracks of two men who did all they could to cover their tracks and to conceal the self Frank the father used secrecy and sleight of hand as strategies for self protection Frank the son masked a thoroughly reclusive personality with flamboyant self parody It s also the tale of a lost relationship and of the power a father may have had even over a son who hardly knew him The Censor's Library Nicole Moore,2012 A history of book censorship in Australia what we couldn t read didn t read didn t know and why we didn t For much of the twentieth century Australia banned more books and more serious books than most other English speaking or Western countries from the Kama Sutra through to Huxley s Brave New World and Joyce s Ulysses When London Calls Stephen Alomes,1999-10-11 For thousands of young Australians the tearful dockside farewell was a rite of passage as they boarded ships bound for London For some the journey was an extended holiday but for many actors painters musicians writers and journalists leaving Australia seemed to be the only path to personal and professional fulfilment This book first published in 2000 is a collective biography of those people who found themselves categorised as expatriates people such as Leo McKern Dame Joan Sutherland Barry Tuckwell Don Banks Phillip Knightley John Pilger Peter Porter Richard Neville Jill Neville and megastars Barry Humphries Germaine Greer and Clive James The book tells of choices they made about career and country yet it is also a cultural history that traces shifts in the complex relationship between Australia and Britain as the supposed colonial backwater began to develop its own cultural identity The Burning Library Geordie Williamson,2012-10-24 Alarmed by the increasingly marginal status of Australian literature in the academy Williamson has set out to reintroduce us to those key writers whose works we may have forgotten or missed altogether His focus is on fiction that gives pleasure and he is ardent in defence of books that for whatever reason sit uneasily in the present moment
