hieroglyph constitutes an entire concept and that their meanings are scientific in nature Using the Dogon symbols as a Rosetta stone he reveals references within the ancient Egyptian language that define the full range of scientific components of matter from massless waves to the completed atom even suggesting direct correlations to a fully realized unified field theory

Religious Symbols and the Intervention of the Law Sylvie Bacquet, 2019-06-11 In contemporary pluralist states where faith communities live together different religious symbols and practices have to coexist This may lead to conflicts between certain minority practices and the dominant majority particularly around the manifestation of belief in the public domain which may be seen both by the religious and secular majorities as a threat to their cultural heritage or against the secular values of the host country The law has to mitigate those tensions in order to protect the public from harm and preserve order but in doing so it may where necessary have to limit citizens ability to freely manifest their religion It is those limitations that have been disputed in the courts on grounds of freedom of religion and belief Religious symbols are often at the heart of legal battles with courts called upon to consider the lawfulness of banning or restricting certain symbols or practices This book analyses the relationship between the state individuals and religious symbols considering the three main forms of religious expression symbols that believers wear on their body symbols in the public space such as religious edifices and rituals that believers perform as a manifestation of their faith The book looks comparatively at legal responses in England the U S A and France comparing different approaches to the issues of symbols in the public sphere and their interaction with the law The book considers religious manifestation as a social phenomenon taking a multidisciplinary approach to the question mixing elements of the anthropology history and sociology of religion in order to provide some context and examine how this could help inform the law The Lautsi Papers: Multidisciplinary Reflections on Religious Symbols in the Public School Classroom Jeroen Temperman, 2012-09-06 Increasingly debates about religious symbols in the public space are reformulated as human rights questions and put before national and international judges Particularly in the area of education legitimate interests are manifold and often collide Children's educational and religious rights parental liberties vis vis their children religious traditions state obligations in the area of public school education the state neutrality principle and the professional rights and duties of teachers are all principles that may warrant priority attention Each from their own discipline and perspective ranging from legal human rights scholars legal philosophers political scientists comparative law scholars and country specific legal experts these experts contribute to the question of whether in the present day pluralist state there is room for state symbolism e g crucifixes in classroom or personal religious signs e g cross necklaces or kirpans or attire e g kippahs or headscarves in the public school classroom God's Wounds: Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering, Volume One Jeff B. Divine Suffering Divine Vulnerability and Creation This study first develops an approach to interpreting the contested claims about the suffering of God Thus the larger study focuses its inquiry into the testimonies to divine suffering themselves seeking to allow the voices that attest to divine suffering to speak freely to discover and elucidate the internal logic or rationality of this family of testimonies rather than defending these attestations against the dominant claims of classical Christian theism that have historically sought to eliminate such language altogether from Christian discourse about the nature and life of God Through this approach this volume of studies into the Christian symbol of divine suffering then investigates the two major presuppositions that the larger family of testimonies to divine suffering normally hold an understanding of God through the primary metaphor of love God is love and an understanding of the human as created in the image of God with a life though finite analogous to the divine life the imago Dei as love When fully elaborated these presuppositions reveal the conditions of possibility for divine suffering and divine vulnerability with respect to creation
