Selected Poems Tony Harrison, 1987 A revised edition of Tony Harrison's award winning Selected Poems This indispensable new selection of Tony Harrison's poems includes over sixty poems from his famous sonnet sequence The School of Eloquence and the remarkable long poem v a meditation in a vandalized Leeds graveyard which caused enormous controversy when it was broadcast on Channel 4 in 1987 and is now regarded as one of the key poems of the late twentieth century This substantially revised and updated edition now also features a generous selection of Harrison's most recent work including the acclaimed poems he wrote for the Guardian on the Gulf War and then from the front line in the Bosnian War which won him the Wilfred Owen Award for Poetry in 2007 Selected Poems is a collection to be savoured by fans of Carol Ann Duffy Seamus Heaney Simon Armitage and Sophie Hannah A voracious appetite for language Brilliant passionate outrageous abrasive but also as in the family sonnets immeasurably tender Harold Pinter In the front rank of contemporary British poets Harrison's range is exhilarating his clarity and technical mastery a sharp pleasure Melvyn Bragg The poem v is the most outstanding social poem of the last twenty five years Seldom has a British poem of such personal intensity had such universal range Martin Booth Poems written in a style which I feel I have all my life been waiting for Stephen Spender A poet of great technical accomplishment whose work insists that it is speech rather than page bound silence Sean O'Brien The Oxford Companion to Twentieth Century Poetry Sea Sagas of the North Jules Pretty, 2022-10-25 The book's stories and sagas cover three central themes living with environmental change around the North Sea and the Atlantic story telling through history in these lands reconnecting with nature and our ancient heritages so as to live well and responsibly

Reading Old Friends John Matthias, 1992-02-06 Reading Old Friends includes essays reviews and poems on poetics Matthias who has spent much time in England concentrates on British poetry ranging from late modernist figures such as David Jones and Hugh MacDiarmid to contemporaries such as Geoffrey Hill Seamus Heaney Michael Hamburger and John Fuller He also seeks to establish or re-establish meaningful trans Atlantic connections between Wendell Berry and Jeremy Hooker for example or between Robert Duncan and David Jones Other more generally acknowledged figures are also discussed including Wordsworth Pope Crabbe Constable Turner Britten Tippet Lowell Auden and Berryman The book also contains three poems on poetics that engage many of the theoretical issues left implicit in most of the essays The Lost Elms Dr Mandy Haggith, 2025-07-03 Not just an elegy to our lost elms but also a meditation on life culture and trees FRED PEARCE For millennia elms shaped our landscape and our folklore then they started dying For the past century a deadly pandemic has raged across the world destroying all in its path and outmanoeuvring scientists desperate attempts to halt it Dutch elm disease has killed hundreds of millions of trees globally and over 25 million in the UK alone altering our landscapes forever Few young people have seen a mature elm tree yet they once covered great swathes of Europe and North America and their legacy lives on in our mythology The Lost Elms is a love letter to our vanished elms the story of how we have nearly lost them all and the long slow fight back It tells the gripping story of the scientists desperately trying to halt the disease's relentless progress and demonstrates the deadly effect globalisation can have on the environment the threat of climate change the importance of biosecurity and the intricate ways in which trees are interlinked with other species Woven throughout is a lyrical look at the elm's central place in our history culture and folklore the elm features heavily in Greek Celtic Japanese Germanic and Scandinavian mythology as the Liberty Tree it played a symbolic role in both the American and French Revolutions and since ancient times the elm has held associations with death and the supernatural However all is not lost recent breakthroughs in ecological understanding reveal elms to be far more resilient than we ever imagined This tree holds an important place in our history and now might just offer hopeful lessons for how we can save other disappearing species and our environment of reading analysing and evaluating literary texts      Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods      The Problem of Consciousness in Modern Poetry Hugh Underhill, 1992-07-31 Modernist aesthetics have been identified with a sense of cultural crisis defined by its distance from an ideal of unified consciousness This original study examines the struggle toward that ideal of unitary subjective experience in modern British and Irish poetry from Hardy to Ted Hughes Hugh Underhill argues that the poetry's emphasis on inner states underrepresents the extent to which the crisis is in fact socio historically determined      The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 Translation has been a crucial process in world culture over the past two millennia and more In the English speaking cultures many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett the Bible to Freud Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English Written by eminent scholars from many countries the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature It highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the issues raised making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean from Swahili to Russian For some works e g Virgil's Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available The Guide is divided into two parts Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text e g poetry oral literature The second much longer part consists of entries grouped by language of origin some are devoted to individual texts e g the Thousand and One Nights or writers e g Ibsen Proust but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre e g Chinese poetry Spanish Golden Age drama or of a national literature e g Hungarian Scottish Gaelic There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators

Brill's Companion to Classical Reception and Modern World Poetry, 2022-12-28 Brill's Companion to Classical Reception and Modern World Poetry explores the relations between antiquity and modernity from the angle of the reception of Graeco Roman antiquity in modern world poetry In an innovative combination of the fields of Classical Reception and World Literature it tackles ever challenging questions which are central to both fields such as the questions of literature and identity specificity and universality Eurocentrism poetics and translation Leading experts from both Classics and Modern Languages contribute 11 chapters on modern poetry and poets from different linguistic and cultural traditions from around the world Tears,

Liquids and Porous Bodies in Literature Across the Ages Norbert Lennartz, 2021-08-26 Taking in works from writers as diverse as William Shakespeare William Wordsworth Charlotte Bront John Keats James Joyce and D H Lawrence this book spans approximately 300 years and unpacks how bodily liquidity porosity and petrification recur as a pattern and underlie the chequered history of the body and genders in literature Lennartz examines the precarious relationship between porosity and its opposite closure containment and stoniness and explores literary history as a meandering narrative in which female porosity and manly stoniness clash showing how different societies and epochs respond to and engage with bodily porosity This book considers the ways that this relationship is constantly renegotiated and where effusive and feminine genres such as sloppy letters and streams of consciousness are pitted against stony and astringent forms of masculinity like epitaphs sonnets and the Bildungsroman

Sacred Sustainability, Polyhedral Christianity and Cosmic Challenges Jojo M. Fung, 2025-03-31 This book explores the concept of Polyhedral Christianity that has the capacity to embrace the inter multicultural religious complexities of our contemporary world taking inspiration from Pope Francis use of the image of a polyhedron The author suggests that Polyhedral Christianity calls for an Enspirited Leadership This spirit driven leadership is grounded in creational pneumatology and cosmicism to promote resilient religiocultural communities that enjoy a more relational harmony of all life forms on Earth conscious of an interdependent interconnected oneness in the sacred web of life in the cosmos creation The chapters engage with indigenous notions of sacred sustainability from the primal as well as the Buddhist Hindu and Islamic religious traditions This innovative corpus will be of particular interest to the scholars of theology theolog a del pueblo World Christianity and interreligious relations
