Selected Writings And Interviews:

Selected Writings and Interviews Barnett Newman, 1990 On the Camera Arts and Consecutive Matters Hollis Frampton, 2015-01-30 The collected writings of artist and filmmaker Hollis Frampton including all the essays from the long unavailable Circles of Confusion along with rare additional material As Hollis Frampton's photographs and celebrated experimental films were testing the boundaries of the camera arts in the 1960s and 1970s his provocative and highly literate writings were attempting to establish an intellectually resonant form of discourse for these critically underexplored fields It was a time when artists working in diverse disciplines were beginning to pick up cameras and produce films and videotapes well before these practices were understood or embraced by institutions of contemporary art This collection of Frampton's writings presents his critical essays many written for Artforum and October along with additional material including lectures correspondence interviews and production notes and scripts It replaces and supersedes the long unavailable Circles of Confusion published in 1983 Frampton ranged widely over the visual arts in his writing and the texts in this collection display his unique approaches to photography film and video as well as the plastic and literary arts They include critically acclaimed essays on Edward Weston and Eadweard Muybridge as well as appraisals of contemporary photographers the influential essay For a Metahistory of Film along with scripts textual material and scores for his films writings on video that constitute a prehistory of the digital arts a dialogue with Carl Andre his friend and former Phillips Andover classmate from the early 1960s and two inventive almost unclassifiable pieces that are reminiscent of Borges Joyce and Beckett An Audience of Artists Catherine Craft, 2012-05-30 An Audience of Artists turns this time line for the postwar New York art world on its head presenting a new pedigree for these artistic movements Drawing on an array of previously unpublished material Catherine Craft reveals that Neo Dada far from being a reaction to Abstract Expressionism actually originated at the heart of that movement's concerns about viewers originality and artists debts to the past and one another Furthermore she argues the original Dada movement was not incompatible with Abstract Expressionism In fact Dada provided a vital historical reference for artists and critics seeking to come to terms with the radical departure from tradition that Abstract Expressionism seemed to represent Tracing the activities of artists such as Robert Motherwell Barnett Newman and Jackson Pollock alongside Marcel Duchamp's renewed embrace of Dada in the late 1940s Craft explores the challenges facing artists trying to work in the wake of a destructive world war and the paintings objects writings and installations that resulted from their efforts Jacket

The Retrieval of the Beautiful Galen A. Johnson, 2010 In this elegant new study Galen Johnson retrieves the concept of the beautiful through the framework of Merleau Ponty s aesthetics Although Merleau Ponty seldom spoke directly of beauty his philosophy is essentially about the beautiful In Johnson s formulation the ontology of Flesh as element and the ontology of the Beautiful as elemental are folded together for Desire Love and Beauty are part of the fabric of the world s element Flesh itself the term at which Merleau Ponty arrived to replace Substance Matter or Life as the name of Being Merleau Ponty s Eye and Mind is at the core of the book so Johnson engages as Merleau Ponty did the writings and visual work of Paul C zanne Auguste Rodin and Paul Klee as well as Rilke s commentary on C zanne and Rodin From these widely varying aesthetics emerge the fundamental themes of the retrieval of the beautiful desire repetition difference rhythm and the sublime The third part of Johnson s book takes each of these up in turn bringing Merleau Ponty s aesthetic thinking into dialogue with classical philosophy as well as Sartre Heidegger Nietzsche and Deleuze Johnson concludes his final chapter with a direct dialogue with Kant and Merleau Ponty and also Lyotard on the subject of the beautiful and the sublime As we experience with Rodin s Balzac beauty and the sublime blend into one another when the beautiful grows powerful majestic mysterious and transcendent

Revolutions in Twentieth-Century Art David W. Galenson, 2009-09-28 Galenson combines social scientific methods with qualitative analysis to produce a new interpretation of modern art

Doubt Richard Shiff, 2012-04-23 In an age where art history's questions are now expected to receive answers Richard Shiff presents a challenging alternative In this essential new addition to James Elkins's series Theories of Modernism and Postmodernism in the Visual Arts Richard Shiff embraces doubt as a critical tool and asks how particular histories of art have come to be Shiff's turn to doubt is not a retreat to relativism but rather an insistence on clear thinking about art In particular Shiff takes issue with the style of self-referential art writing seemingly licensed by Roland Barthes With an introduction by Rosie Bennett Doubt is a study of the tension between practicing art and practicing criticism

Language to Cover a Page Vito Acconci, 2006 Poems and other texts from the 1960s by a pioneering conceptual artist that show a continuity with his subsequent work in performance and video art Pioneering conceptual artist Vito Acconci began his career as a poet In the 1960s before beginning his work in performance and video art Acconci studied at the Iowa Writers Workshop and published poems in journals and chapbooks Almost all of this work remains unknown much of it appeared in the self-produced magazines of the Lower East Side's mimeo revolution and many other pieces were never published Language to Cover a Page collects these writings for the first time and not only shows Acconci to be an important experimental writer of the period but demonstrates the continuity of his early writing with his later work in film video and performance Language to Cover a Page documents a key moment in the unprecedented intersection of artists and poets in the late 1960s as seen in the Dwan Gallery's series of Language shows 1967 1970 and in Acconci's own journal 0 to 9 Indeed as Acconci moved from the poetry scene to the art world his poetry became increasingly performative while his artwork was often structured and motivated by linguistic play Acconci's early writing recalls the work of Samuel Beckett the deadpan voice of the nouveau roman and the jump cuts and fraught permutations of the nouvelle vague Poems in Language to Cover a Page explore the materiality of language language as matter and not ideas as Robert Smithson put it the physical space of the page and the physicality of source texts phonebooks thesauruses dictionaries Other poems take the space of the page as an analogue to performance space or implicate the poem in a network of activity as in his Dial a Poem pieces Readers will find Acconci's inventive and accomplished poetry as edgy and provocative as anything published today

Designing UNESCO Christopher E. M. Pearson, 2017-07-05 Designing UNESCO Art Architecture and International Politics at Mid-Century represents the first full-length monograph on the genesis construction and reception of the Paris headquarters of the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization UNESCO The book traces the long and complex birth of UNESCO's permanent seat from its conception in 1950 to its inauguration in 1958 showing how its history constitutes a unique nexus of modernist practices in twentieth-century international politics art architecture and criticism Drawing on a wide range of unpublished archival material and examining critical reception of the building in the local and international press Christopher Pearson's analysis operates on formal structural and theoretical levels revealing many of the largely unspoken assumptions of modern architecture at mid century and elucidating the conflicted relation between art and science in the post war period The volume also throws new light on many of the major architects and artists of the period among them Breuer Gropius Le Corbusier and Eero Saarinen as well as Picasso Moore Mir rp Calder and Noguchi Designing UNESCO is a compelling and original account of one of the most important yet under appreciated buildings of twentieth century modernism

The Cambridge Companion to Serialism Martin Iddon,2023-02-16 What is serialism Defended by enthusiastic champions and decried by horrified detractors serialism was central to twentieth century art music but riven too by inherent contradictions The term can be a synonym for dodecaphony Arnold Schoenberg s method of composing with twelve tones which are related only to one another It can be more expansive describing ways of composing systematically with parameters beyond pitch duration dynamic and more and can even stand as a sort of antonym to dodecaphony Schoenberg is Dead as Pierre Boulez once insisted Stretched to its limits it can describe approaches where sound can be divided into discrete parameters and later recombined to generate the new the unexpected beginning to blur into a further antonym post serialism This Companion introduces and embraces serialism in all its dimensions and contradictions from Schoenberg and Stravinsky to Stockhausen and Babbitt and explores its variants and legacies in Europe the Americas and Asia

Surrealism, Politics and Culture Raymond Spiteri,Donald Lacoss,2020-03-18 This title was first published in 2003 Drawing on literary art historical and historical studies this essay collection explores the complex encounter between culture and politics within Surrealism The Surrealist movement was one of the first cultural movements to question explicitly the relation between culture and politics and its attempt to fuse social and cultural revolution has been a critical factor in shaping our sense of modernity This anthology addresses not only the contested ground between culture and politics within

Surrealism itself and within the subsequent historical accounts of the movement but also the broader implications of this encounter on our own sense of modernity Its goal is to delineate the role of radical politics in shaping the historical trajectory of Surrealism

The Haunted Self David Lomas,2000-01-01 The question Who am I resounded throughout the surrealist movement The exploration of dreams and the unconscious prompted surrealists to reject the notion of a unified indivisible self by revealing the subject to be haunted by otherness and instability In this book David Lomas explores the surrealist concepts of the self and subjectivity from a psychoanalytic viewpoint Employing a series of case studies devoted to individual artists Lomas arrives at a radically new account of surrealist art and its cultural and intellectual roots Weaving together psychoanalytic and historical material the author analyses works by Ernst Dali Masson Miro and Picasso with regard to such themes as automatism hysteria the uncanny and the abject Lomas focuses closely on individual artworks examines the specific circumstances in which they were produced and offers new insights into the artists and their projects as well as the theories of Bataille Breton and others Lomas demonstrates the powerful connection between the history of psychoanalysis and the history of surrealism and along the way shows the unique value of psychoanalytic theory as a tool for the art historian

Seeing Silence Mark C. Taylor,2020-08-13 Mark C Taylor explores the many variations of silence by considering the work of leading visual artists philosophers theologians writers and composers To hear silence is to find stillness in the midst of the restlessness that makes creative life possible and the inescapability of death acceptable So writes Mark C Taylor in his latest book a philosophy of silence for our nervous chattering age How do we find silence and more importantly how do we understand it amid the incessant buzz of the networks that enmesh us Have we forgotten how to listen to each other to recognize the virtues of modesty and reticence and to appreciate the resonance of silence Are we less prepared than ever for the ultimate silence that awaits us all Taylor wants us to pause long enough to hear what is not said and to attend to what remains unsayable In his account our way to hearing silence is paradoxically to see it He explores the many variations of silence by considering the work of leading modern and postmodern visual artists including Barnett Newman Ad Reinhardt James Turrell and Anish Kapoor Developing the insights of philosophers theologians writers and composers Taylor weaves a rich narrative modeled on the Stations of the Cross His chapter titles suggest our positions toward silence Without Before From Beyond Against Within Between Toward Around With In Recasting Hegel s phenomenology of spirit and Kierkegaard s stages on life s way Taylor translates the traditional Via Dolorosa into a Nietzschean Via Jubilosa that affirms light in the midst of darkness Seeing Silence is a thoughtful meditation that invites readers to linger long enough to see silence and in this way perhaps to hear once again the wordless Word that once was named God

Thomas Jefferson Trudi Strain Trueit,2010 What better way to study the presidents of the United States than through an exploration of the times in which they lived and served Presidents and Their Times examines the life and times of each president placing each within his historical and cultural context while at the same time focusing on the major events that occurred during each president's administration. This in-depth series delves into the time period and formative events of each president's term, revealing childhood, character building, experiences, entry into politics, major events of the presidency, and a look at life after the presidency, with its clearly written and accessible text, primary sources, and vivid historical photographs. This series will bring to the forefront the life and times of the presidents of the United States.

Lateness and Longing George Baker, 2023-05-23

How a generation of women artists is transforming photography with analogue techniques. Beginning in the 1990s, a series of major artists imagined the expansion of photography, intensifying its ideas and effects while abandoning many of its former medium constraints. Simultaneous with this development in contemporary art, however, photography was moving toward total digitalization. Lateness and Longing presents the first account of a generation of artists focused on the work of Zoe Leonard, Tacita Dean, Sharon Lockhart, and Moyra Davey, who have collectively transformed the practice of photography using analogue technologies in a dissident way and radicalizing signifiers of older models of feminist art. All these artists have resisted the transition to the digital in their work. Instead, in what amounts to a series of feminist polemics, they return to earlier, incomplete or unrealized moments in photography's history, gravitating toward the analogue basis of photographic mediums. Their work announces that photography has become not obsolete but late, opened up by the potentially critical forces of anachronism. Through a strategy of return, or refusing to let go, the work of these artists proposes an afterlife and survival of the photographic in contemporary art, a formal lateness wherein photography finds its way forward through resistance to the contemporary itself.
