Poetry brought completely up to date and dramatically expanded by poet David Lehman It is a rich capacious volume featuring the work of more than 200 poets almost three times as many as the 1976 edition With a succinct and often witty head note introducing each author it is certain to become the definitive anthology of American poetry for our time Lehman has gathered together all the works one would expect to find in a landmark collection of American poetry from Whitman s Crossing Brooklyn Ferry to Stevens s The Idea of Order at Key West and from Eliot s The Waste Land to Ashbery s Self Portrait in a Convex Mirror But equally important the editor has significantly expanded the range of the anthology The book includes not only writers born since the previous edition but also many fine poets overlooked in earlier editions or little known in the past but highly deserving of attention The anthology confers legitimacy on the Objectivist poets the so called Proletariat poets of the 1930s famous poets who fell into neglect or were the victims of critical backlash Edna St Vincent Millay poets whose true worth has only become clear with the passing of time Weldon Kees Among poets missing from Richard Ellmann s 1976 volume but published here are W H Auden Charles Bukowski Donald Justice Carolyn Kizer Kenneth Koch Stanley Kunitz Emma Lazarus Mina Loy Howard Moss Lorine Niedecker George Oppen James Schuyler Elinor Wylie and Louis Zukosky Many more women are represented outstanding poets such as Josephine Jacobsen Josephine Miles May Swenson Numerous African American poets receive their due and unexpected figures such as the musicians Bob Dylan Patti Smith and Robert Johnson have a place in this important work This stunning collection redefines the great canon of American poetry from its origins in the 17th century right up to the present It is a must have anthology for anyone interested in American literature and a book that is sure to be consulted debated and treasured for years to come Cold War Poetry

Edward Brunner, 2001 Mainstream American poetry of the 1950s has long been dismissed as deliberately indifferent to its cultural circumstances In this penetrating study Edward Brunner breaks the placid surface of the hollow decade to reveal a poetry sharply responsive to issues of its time Cold War Poetry considers the fifties poem as part of a dual cultural project as proof of the competency of the newly professionalized poet and as a user friendly way of initiating a newly educated upwardly mobile postwar audience into high culture Brunner revisits Richard Wilbur Randall Jarrell and other acknowledged leaders of the period as well as neglected writers such as Rosalie Moore V R Lang Katherine Hoskins Melvin B Tolson and Hyam Plutzik He also examines the one sided authority of the male dominated book review process the ostracizing of female and minority poets poetic fads such as the ubiquitous sestina and the power of the classroom anthology to establish criteria for reading Attributing the gradual change in poetic style during the 1950s to the slow collapse of the authority of the state Brunner shows how a secretive anxious poetics developed in the shadow of a disabled government He recontextualizes the much maligned domestic verse of the 1950s reading its shift toward the private sphere and the recurrent image of the child as a reflection of the powerlessness of the post nuclear citizen Through a close examination of poetry written about the Bomb he delineates how poets registered their growing sense of cosmic disorder in coded language resorting to subterfuge to continue their critique in the face of sanctions levied against those who questioned government policies Brilliantly decoding the politics embedded in the poetry of an ostensibly apolitical time Cold War Poetry provides a powerful rereading of a pivotal decade

The Hollow Log Lounge R. T. Smith, 2010-10-01 This is no fairy tale It's all fantastic and bizarre and true It's my life a raspy song that sounds better if you sing along The men and women who live and work near Opelika Alabama gather at the Hollow Log Lounge There under the watchful eye of the stuffed fox behind the bar they unload their gripes and worries tell their stories argue joke commune complain and confess In this collection of poems R T Smith paints a vividly imagined portrait of the community in this small town bar capturing the chorus of the patrons voices echoing off the knotted wood paneled walls Smith's stand in Sam Buckhannon scribbles stories heard and overheard as tongues loosened by liquor spin out monologues in which southern idiom and vernacular seem perfectly at home within the constraints of measured verse and critics alike Arts of a Cold Sun G. E. Murray, 2010-10-01 In these poems G E Murray blends the colors of the soul with those of the world it brushes up against exploring the ways in which art both as possession and possessor informs perception Viewing his subjects sometimes from airplane altitude sometimes from the intimacy of a shared restaurant table Murray crafts true stories about color narratives of dislocation and belonging that invite readers to question their own relationship to art Included in this volume is a long sequential poem titled The Seconds which Murray composed across the second days of thirteen months The rhythms of this diary as poem seize the tensions of shifting times and locales capturing the essences of moments that are at once chosen and arbitrary Codes toward an Incidental City the sequence that closes the book is a confederacy of forty poems that delve into the concrete familiarities and mythologies of urban landscapes illuminating the ecstasies of city life
