innovative features relevant to the writing of literary history in general. Instead of offering a traditional chronological narrative of the period 1800-1989, the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe approaches the region's literatures from five complementary angles: focusing on literature's participation in and reaction to key political events; literary periods and genres; the literatures of cities and sub-regions; literary institutions and figures of representation. The main objective of the project is to challenge the self-enclosure of national literatures in traditional literary histories, to contextualize them in a regional perspective, and to recover individual works, writers, and minority literatures that national histories have marginalized or ignored. Types and Stereotypes brings together articles that rethink the figures of National Poets, figurations of the Family, Women, Outlaws, and Others, as well as figures of Trauma and Mediation. As in the previous three volumes, the historical and imaginary figures discussed here constantly change and readjust to new political and social conditions. An Epilogue complements the basic history, focusing on the contradictory transformations of East Central European literary cultures after 1989. This volume will be of interest to the region's literary historians, to students and teachers of comparative literature, to cultural historians, and to the general public interested in exploring the literatures of a rich and resourceful cultural region.

European Symbolism Natasha Grigorian, 2009. This first comparative study of the Symbolist use of myth in France, Germany, and Russia closely examines a selected range of poetic and pictorial works created between c. 1860 and 1910. The focus of the discussion is on a constellation of five artists linked by a complex network of influences: Gustave Moreau, Jos Maria de Heredia, and Jean Moras in France; Stefan George in Germany; and Valerii Bryusov in Russia. By analysing myth in painting and poetry, the book gives a new insight into the significance of heroic and aesthetic ideals in late nineteenth and early twentieth-century European culture. International and interdisciplinary in its comparative approach, the study reassesses the distinction between Symbolism and Decadence by shedding new light on the role of myth within the paradoxical interaction of classical and modernist values in Symbolist art. In the course of the argument, Symbolist mythological art emerges as a significant link between the cultural heritage of classical Greece and the creative agonies of twentieth-century European society. The book will appeal not only to scholars of literature and art, but also to a wider academic public concerned with cross-cultural transaction in Europe.

The Complete Poems Gaspara Stampa, 2010-10-15. Gaspara Stampa (1523-1554) is one of the finest female poets ever to write in Italian. Although she was lauded for her singing during her lifetime, her success and critical reputation as a poet emerged only after her verse was republished in the early eighteenth century. Her poetry runs the gamut of human emotion, ranging from ecstasy over a consummated love affair to despair at its end. While these tormented works and their multiple male addressees have led to speculation that Stampa may have been one of Venice's famous courtesans, they can also be read as a rebuttal of typical assumptions about women's roles. Championed by Rainer Maria Rilke, among others, she has more recently been celebrated by feminist scholars for her distinctive and original voice and her challenge to convention. The first complete translation of Stampa into English, this volume collects all of her passionate and lyrical verse It is also the first modern critical edition of her poems and in restoring the original sequence of the 1554 text it allows readers the opportunity to encounter Stampa as she intended Jane Tylus renders Stampa's verse in precise and graceful English translations allowing a new generation of students and scholars of poetry Renaissance literature and music history to rediscover this incipiently modern Italian poet Felicia Hemans: Selected Poems, Prose and Letters Felicia Hemans, 2002-01-22 Felicia Hemans was the most widely read woman poet in the nineteenth century English speaking world Broadview's edition shows why she was one of the few standard poets to be found in middle class homes on both sides of the Atlantic despite being routinely disparaged as a merely feminine poet Included here is poetry representative of her entire career from often anthologized works such as The Homes of England and Casabianca to several long poems in their entirety such as The Forest Sanctuary Also included are selections of her prose and letters a comprehensive introduction and selections of views and reviews showing her changing and controversial place in culture into the twentieth century All selections are edited annotated and introduced Select Poems of Matthew Arnold Matthew Arnold, 1908 Cultural Functions of Intermedial Exploration, 2021-11-08 This collection of 19 essays is the first one devoted to function oriented analyses of intermedial interrelationships in literature art music and film The contributors among others Werner Wolf James Heffernan Walter Bernhart Siglind Bruhn Claus Cl ver Valerie Robillard and Tamar Yacobi are leading international scholars in the field of intermediality The common basis of the essays in this volume ranging from intermedial studies of medieval liturgical practices early cinema modernist art ekphrasis music and literature art and literature film and literature hymns and pop music to the musical and technological aspects of Concrete poetry is the ambition to pay attention to the cultural contexts that enhance the significance of these intermedial works and trends under examination Since the contributions cover different types of intermedial endeavours from various periods and times a kind of historicizing perspective is outlined So in pursuit of a still lacking coherent historical survey of cultural functions of intermediality this volume might be recognized as a step towards such a Funktionsgeschichte for intermedial exploration
