Self And Process:

The Self in Process V. F. Guidano, 1991-01-01 In this profound work Vittorio Guidano expands upon his earlier seminal contributions on the application of cognitive and developmental principles to individuals struggling with various forms of psycho pathology Here he fully develops the idea that individuals experience both positive and negative are powerfully influenced by their personal psychological organizations Focusing primarily on the eating disorders the phobias with agoraphobia as the prototype obsessive compulsive patterns and depression Guidano illustrates how early developmental experiences and ongoing psychological processes may collude to perpetuate dysfunctional patterns and personal distress The central and perhaps most exciting thesis in this new expression of Guidano s thinking is that the deep structure or core organizing processes that constrain human psychological experience may be at the heart of successful intervention as well as the classical problems of resistance relapse and refractory behaviors Guidano s contention is at once simple and powerful those psychological processes involved in the development and maintenance of personal identity or self that should be the primary foci of research and intervention in psycho logical disorders The meaning of Guidano s perspective for clinical practice is perhaps best expressed in the author s own words Knowing the basic elements of the personal cognitive organization that underlie the pattern of disturbed behavior and emotions the therapist can behave from the beginning in such a way as to build a relationship as effective as possible for that particular client In other words the therapist should be able to establish a relationship that respects the client s personal identity and systemic coherence and that at the same time does not confirm the basic pathogenic assumptions For example in working with agoraphobics the therapist has to respect their self images centered on the need to be in control He she can do this by avoiding any direct attack on their controlling attitudes and by leaving them a wide margin of control in the relationship At the same time the therapist should avoid confirming their assumptions about the somatic origin of their emotional disturbances or about their inborn fragility In short the therapist who can anticipate the models of self and reality tacitly entertained by the client is surely better able to help the development of a cooperative and secure therapeutic relationship than the therapist who cannot make such anticipations This timely and provocative volume offers exciting new ideas about how to conceptualize and facilitate change in the self system With the rare combination of his Renaissance intellect and integrative practical expertise Guidano has been able to draw together many disparate themes from object relations theory ego psychology attachment theory constructivist models of human cognition and lifespan developmental psychology It is must reading for the practicing professional the helping apprentice and anyone interested in glimpsing the cutting edge at the growing interface between cognitive and clinical science

The Process of Self-Transformation Vicente Hao Chin Jr, 2015-01-01 Earlier edition published in 2003 as The process of self transformation mastery of the self and awakening of our higher potentials Language Learning Strategies. The Process of Becoming a Self-Regulated Learner in a Foreign Language Class Elisabeth Grasi, 2020-09-30 Seminar paper from the year 2019 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Pedagogy Literature Studies grade 2 University of Applied Sciences Burgenland language English abstract The paper's primary concern is to outline strategies which teachers could use in order to support students in becoming self-regulated by using language learning strategies Maria Montessori was one of the first pedagogues who emphasized independence a degree of student autonomy and learning strategies that highlight learning through action rather than lecture Children have been seen as naturally eager for knowledge Thus children are capable of initiating learning in a supportive thoughtfully prepared learning environment Based on pedagogical observations it was discovered that children who were free to choose and act without restrictions within an environment prepared according to Montessori's model would act spontaneously for optimal development Unfortunately it is frequently observable that modern phenomena such as portable phones computers and television are a constant distraction even for young children and consequently tend to impede the students learning of self-regulation Self-Esteem and Beyond Neil J.

MacKinnon, 2015-04-29 Self-esteem is a concept which everybody experiences but there is conceptual confusion between self feelings and self conceptions This book addresses the issue by replicating past studies with analysis of original data and proposing a three factor theory of self sentiments consisting of self-esteem self-efficacy and self-activation Being and

Becoming Franklyn Sills, 2008-09-23 Being and Becoming is a wide-ranging analysis of the nature of being and selfhood The book presents an original integrated paradigm with the aim of creating a comprehensive overview of the human condition and finding ways to alleviate suffering In essence the book explores the question What does it mean to be Being and Becoming begins with fresh interpretations of the work of Martin Heidegger and Buddhist Taoist and Christian writings as they relate to this question Most of Being and Becoming however is about the nature of self and selfhood as a process of I am this my becoming rather than my being Author Franklyn Sills interweaves concepts from object relations theories psychodynamics pre and perinatal psychology and Buddhist self psychology along with his own rich experience as a Buddhist monk somatic therapist and psychotherapist into his inquiry The works of Fairbairn and Winnicott are discussed in depth as are Winnicott and Stern's insights into the nature of the early holding environment the infant mother relational field and early perceptual dynamics A thoughtful guide for psychologists therapists counselors and other health professionals the book is also ideal for Buddhists and anyone looking for alternative therapy models The Self and Nature De Witt Henry grappling with a range of difficulties They don't speak in diagnostic terms but instead focus on the everyday problems that confront them Their struggles may include isolation loneliness anxiety guilt and regret and problems making decisions in a world that offers seemingly endless choice In contrast the cognitive behavior therapist is trained in the language of conditioning and extinction avoidance and safety behaviors behavioral activation and attentional biases This book explores the ideas of the existentialist philosophers as a bridge between the suffering client and technically trained clinician The volume is not a rejection of cognitive behavior therapy CBT but seeks to place CBT in the broader context of the most popular philosophic tradition of the 19th and 20th centuries Therapists versed in existentialism argue that the individual's starting point is characterized by a sense of disorientation in the face of an apparently meaningless and absurd world Each individual must become solely responsible for giving meaning to life and living it passionately and authentically Each of us must confront the Big 5 existential issues of death isolation identity freedom and meaning and find our solutions to these problems The present volume explores each of these existential themes in turn Each section opens with a theoretical chapter describing the relevant existential dilemma and its impact on human experience The second chapter in each section explores its relationship to mental health disorders and psychopathology The third chapter in each section explores the evidence for treating the existential issue from a CBT framework This book will be of value to those interested in CBT philosophy and mental health and will appeal to psychotherapists clinical psychologists and psychiatrists The Self Jonathon

Brown, 2014-06-03 This volume is currently the only textbook devoted to the study of the self Republished in its original form by Psychology Press in 2007 it carefully documents the changing conceptions and the value accorded the self in psychology over time Self, Earth, and Society Thomas N. Finger, 2020-03-12 Our era is experiencing unparalleled and rapid transience The twentieth century began with the telephone and ended with e-mail People change jobs and homes a half dozen times or more in their lives Air and water pollution are threatening the well being of the earth itself Wars their multiplying refugees and political crises are tearing societies apart If there is a key word for our era it might be alienation Amid increasing and often chaotic complexity individuals struggle to attain an integrated stable self with durable relationships An expanding ecological consciousness reveals our estrangement from the earth Societies are internally divided by clashing political and economic perspectives and processes This profound and important book recognizes and reveals the connections among these three alienations Thomas Finger undertakes a probing critical conversation with culture and develops his own public theology Each alienation is analyzed in depth through the writings of secular authors His theological construction draws neither on modern philosophy nor worldviews but perhaps surprisingly on Scripture To support his emphasis on Christ Finger engages the skepticism of the much celebrated Jesus Seminar He rejects the widespread claim that Christianity's transcendent God is largely absent from the world and legitimates human exploitation of it For transcendence means that God is different but not distant from the world Finger then examines the roles of Jesus Father and

Spirit in his earthly ministry In this and later scriptures these three act and interact in a salvific manner that can only be divine This means that his Father and Spirit also suffer with Jesus in his death and with all creation as Jürgen Moltmann brilliantly explains and accompany him in his resurrection This also means that the creation exists in God as some feminists maintain and originated as the overflow of God's love and character into a realm which was hardly distant from God yet very different In addition this entails that every human self and the process of becoming a self as God's creations must be respected as indeed must all earthly creatures and the basic structures needed to form and maintain any society Theological developments in the last decade have done much to critique misguided biblical interpretations which would justify unbridled human exploitation and abuse of creation But work in exploring how an understanding of a trinitarian transcendent God results in creative and caring relationship between humanity and creation has been less developed In discussing these matters with Dr Finger I am convinced that his proposed work holds the promise of meeting an important need within global theological discussions today Further I know that Dr Finger is fully capable of accomplishing this project Thus from my vantage point where I have the opportunity of hearing theological discussions on these subjects from the major Christian traditions and from throughout the globe it is clear that Dr Finger's proposal will fill a theological void and enrich our search for truth Wesley Granberg Michaelson Executive Secretary Commission on Church and Society World Council of Churches 1988 1994 General Secretary Reformed Church in America 1994 2011
