The "new Woman" Revised Ellen Wiley Todd, 1993-01-01 In the years between the world wars Manhattan's Fourteenth Street Union Square district became a center for commercial cultural and political activities and hence a sensitive barometer of the dramatic social changes of the period It was here that four urban realist painters Kenneth Hayes Miller Reginald Marsh Raphael Soyer and Isabel Bishop placed their images of modern new women Bargain stores cheap movie theaters pinball arcades and radical political organizations were the backdrop for the women shoppers office and store workers and consumers of mass culture portrayed by these artists Ellen Wiley Todd deftly interprets the painters complex images as they were refracted through the gender ideology of the period This is a work of skillful interdisciplinary scholarship combining recent insights from feminist art history gender studies and social and cultural theory Drawing on a range of visual and verbal representations as well as biographical and critical texts Todd balances the historical context surrounding the painters with nuanced analyses of how each artist's image of womanhood contributed to the continual redefining of the new woman's relationships to men family work feminism and sexuality

Insiders and Outsiders Richard I. Cohen, Jonathan Frankel, Stefani Hoffman, 2010-01-28 This collection of essays breaks new ground in its interdisciplinary study of the way Jews redefined their identity in the changing societies of modern eastern Europe Sensitively treating the drama of east European Jewry from cultural and political vantage points prominent scholars provide fresh insights into the complex issues facing the Jewish world The multifaceted essays in this volume reflect the influence of the pioneering work of the historian Ezra Mendelsohn The New York School Dore Ashton,1992-10 With the emergence of Abstract Expressionism after World War II the attention of the international art world turned from Paris to New York Dore Ashton captures the vitality of the cultural milieu in which the New York School artists worked and argued and critiqued each other s work from the 1930s to the 1950s Working from unsifted archives from contemporary newspapers and books and from extensive conversations with the men and women who participated in the rise of the New York School Ashton provides a rich cultural and intellectual history of this period In examining the complex sources of this important movement from the WPA program of the 1930s and the influx of European ideas to the recognition in the 1950s of American painting on an international scale she conveys the concerns of an extraordinary group of artists including Willem de Kooning Jackson Pollock Ad Reinhardt Philip Guston Barnett Newman Arshile Gorky and many others Rare documentary photographs illustrate Ashton s classic appraisal of the New York School scene The Golden Door Cynthia Jaffee McCabe,Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden,1976 Pictures of People Pamela Allara,2000 A vibrant chronicle of the life and work of a prolific painter and bohemian eccentric Turn Off Or Use Opener David Kresh,2007-05 In this his major book of poems poet David Kresh has explored a dangerous world Using language that is never as simple as it seems he has mapped the coordinates of a reality that seems to lie slightly beyond our own at once both magical and familiar and filled with unexpected moments of stark heartbreaking beauty David Kresh served as a reference librarian at the Library of Congress for nearly 40 years He died in 2006 PRAISE FOR Turn Off or Use Opener a poet with original vision and technical sophistication whose poems brim with surprise and pleasure Daniel Hoffman Consultant in Poetry to the Library of Congress 1973 1974 Kresh played with language until it was fresh and new innocent of pretension and unafraid of retribution the mundane became the magnificent Grace Cavalieri Author of What I Would Do For Love Social Concern and Left Politics in Jewish American Art Matthew Baigell,2015-04-03 This book explores the important and barely examined connections between the humanitarian concerns embedded in the religious heritage of Jewish American artists and the appeal of radical political causes between the years of the Great Migration from Eastern Europe in the 1880s and the beginning of World War II in the late 1930s Visual material consists primarily of political cartoons published in leftwing Yiddish and English language newspapers and magazines Artists often commented on current events using biblical and other Jewish references meaning that whatever were their political concerns their Jewish heritage was ever present By the late 1940s the obvious ties between political interests and religious concerns largely disappeared The text set against events of the times the Russian Revolution the Depression and the rise of fascism during the 1930s as well as life on New York s Lower East Side includes artists statements as well as the thoughts of religious literary and political figures ranging from Marx to
