Lugano Report On Preserving Capitalism In The Twenty First Century:

The Lugano Report Susan George,2003 The Lugano Report - New Edition Susan George,2003-09-20 This is a new edition of Susan George's acclaimed satire on capitalism. Fictional experts recruited by world leaders to discuss the future of global capitalism provide their assessment of the dire state of the current economy and put forward new ideas for ensuring the survival of the system. But at what cost? Susan George provides a brilliant and chilling vision of the way the winners in the globalisation game profit from poverty and reveals with relentless logic the dark future that lies ahead under capitalism. This new edition features a new introduction from the author.

Obsolescent Capitalism Samir Amin,2003-12 A political autobiography from one of the 21st century's most prominent radical intellectuals, this title provides unique insights into how radical movements have evolved in response to global capitalism.

Being a Planner in Society Nicholas Low,2020-08-28 This timely book addresses what it is to be a planner in a changing world, a world in need of transformation in the way planning is done in order to tackle social problems and ecological crises. Nicholas Low argues for the need to revalue public planning sensitive to the social context in which it takes place.

A Hidden Economy Maria Bargh,2015-11-02 The Māori economy is often defined simply by the contributions of Māori in New Zealand in the areas of farming, fisheries and forestry. This book explores the ways that Māori in the privatised military industry contribute in monetary and non-monetary ways to the Māori economy. Workers in the privatised military industry very rarely, if ever, give interviews about their work or details about their pay. However, this book includes five interviews with Māori who have worked or are still working in the privatised military industry and explores how they articulate themselves as Māori in the industry, giving a glimpse at this secret world and how Māori operate in it.

Exiles, Travellers and Vagabonds,2016-10-20 Travel writing, migrant writing, exile writing, expatriate writing and even the fictional travelling protagonists that emerge in literary works from around the globe have historically tended to depict mobility as a masculine phenomenon. The presence of such genres in women's writing, however, poses a rich and unique body of work. This volume examines the texts of Francophone women who have experienced or reflected upon the experience of transnational movement. Due to the particularity of their relationship to home and the consequent impact of this on their experience of displacement, the study of women's mobility opens up new questions in our understanding of the movement from place to place and in our broader understanding of colonial and postcolonial worlds. Addressing the proximities and overlaps that exist between the experiences of women, exiles, migrants, expatriates and travellers, the collected essays in this book seek to challenge the usefulness, relevance or validity of such terms for conceptualising today's complex patterns of transnational mobility and the gendered identities produced therein.

Globalization, Security, and the Nation State Ersel Aydinli,James N. Rosenau,2012-02-01 This volume studies the links among the concepts of globalization, security and the authority of the nation state, drawing attention to why and how these three concepts are interrelated and why they should be studied together. Contributors explore the connections between security and global transformations and the corresponding or resulting changes in state structures that emerge Probing and extending existing paradigms the book offers three regional cases studies the periphery states of the Middle East and North Africa the second world states of the Russian Federation and the core states of the European Union It concludes with three chapters that synthesize the above themes to identify corresponding changes in the patterns of international politics

Bartholomew, 2023-07-27 In Black Theology and The Black Panthers Joshua S Bartholomew deals with the relationship between economic justice and racial equality By examining the economic philosophies and inter communal survival programs of the Black Panther Party for Self Defense from 1967 1971 Bartholomew utilizes a Womanist methodology to connect the praxis of The Panthers with priorities of Black Theological Ethics In doing so Bartholomew offers a basis for moving Christian ethicists away from normative models of economic justice that eschew experience and knowledge from marginalized communities Ultimately Bartholomew reveals how the power of racial politics for radical change can constructively and inclusively impact the struggle for freedom and social justice Ambiguous Restructurings of Post-apartheid Cape Town Christoph Haferburg, Jürgen Ossenbrügge, 2003 What will tomorrow s Cape Town look like This volume reflects a variety of aspects of urban development and restructuring efforts in Cape Town in the last years A focus lies on the question if the apartheid city is reproducing itself This leads to an evaluation whether current policies really counter societal imbalances The essays presented here illuminate possible pathways towards the urban futures unfolding in a South African city in transition Media In Terror Muhammad Adeel Javaid, 2012-02-07 The book is a unique research work on false flag terror which is perpetrated by the mass media and undertakes a deep study based on Case Learning Model and suggests the ways in which the media should cover terrorism activities and defines the Do s and Don ts for covering such events The book also reveals certain hidden aspects of 9 11 attack media coverage as well as hidden truths of the media coverage of Iraq Mumbai Madrid attacks and War on Gaza The book is an attempt to show that with no other means to see a world beyond how far one can travel media is crucial to bringing the greater world closer to home but journalism is no more about the truth it is just about economic interests and the dogmas of policies It is therefore when media fails to do its job what s created is a world much more exaggerated and black and white than is truly the case Until the world can be represented accurately and moderately we have to continually live in this hyperbole The History of ICSID Antonio R. which examine the expansion of the Centre's activities and changes made to the Regulations and Rules over the years. There are also overviews of the conciliation and arbitration cases submitted to ICSID in the respective periods followed by in-depth discussions of selected cases and key issues within them. A concluding chapter discusses some of the broad themes and findings of the book and includes several suggestions for further changes at ICSID to help ensure its continued success. The book offers unique insight into the establishment and design of ICSID as well as into how the institution evolved and its relationship with the World Bank.
