L. Howard,2000-12-01 In this historical study conducted over a period of ten years the purpose has been to search out and record as far as possible all the plant contributions made by Luther Burbank of Santa Rosa California Burbank was born in Massachusetts in 1849 and died in Santa Rosa in 1926 During his working lifetime 1873 1926 he probably contributed or introduced more plants than any other single American in our history Many of his productions have been of great importance to horticulture past and present Yet no one hitherto has attempted to catalog them all giving their dates sources and descriptions sketching their history and estimating their value Burbank was not connected with a learned institution and indeed had little scientific training Starting his professional life as a market gardener in Massachusetts about 1870 he attempted to improve his vegetables by crossing varieties To meet competition he tried to produce earlier maturing types but he had little success because he did not then know the importance of continuing his crosses to the second and third generations His curiosity led him to sow the contents of a single seedpod that he found on a plant of the Early Rose potato a well known variety with a red skin Of the twenty odd seedlings that resulted one produced a cluster of tubers that were uniformly large smooth and white skinned This was sold to a dealer who named it the Burbank After seventy years this variety is still grown commercially in some parts of the country for example the Delta region of California In other places such as southern Idaho it has been improved slightly and renamed In Idaho alone it is the basis of a huge industry Like Thomas Edison Burbank was a self made man In the 1850s and 1860s he attended the village schools and for one year the Lancaster Academy This education though inadequate was better than most boys of his day enjoyed With his fathers death when Burbank was nineteen his schooling ended He had given much thought to the improvement of economic plants Darwins books especially Variation of Animals and Plants under Domestication strongly impressed his youthful mind and showed him how to attain improvements through variation and selection After his success with the potato he definitely decided to make plant breeding his lifework      Luther Burbank's Plant Contributions; B691 W L (Walter Lafayette) B Howard,2021-09-09 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public To ensure a quality reading experience this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy to read typeface We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant      Luther Burbank Spineless Cactus Identification
