Kuefler, 2015-06-18 Commanding its own museum and over 200 years of examination observation and scholarship the monumental embroidery known popularly as the Bayeux Tapestry and documenting William the Conqueror's invasion of England in October 1066 is perhaps the most important surviving artifact of the Middle Ages This magnificent textile both celebrated and panned is both enigmatic artwork and confounding historical record With over 1780 entries Szabo and Kuefler offer the largest and most heavily annotated bibliography on the Tapestry ever written Notably the Bayeux Tapestry has produced some of the most compelling questions of the medieval period Who commissioned it and for what purpose What was the intended venue for its display Who was the designer and who executed the enormous task of its manufacture How does it inform our understanding of eleventh century life And who was the mysterious Aelfgyva depicted in the Tapestry's main register This book is an effort to capture and describe the scholarship that attempts to answer these questions But the bibliography also reflects the popularity of the Tapestry in literature covering a surprisingly broad array of subjects The inclusion of this material will assist future scholars who may study references to the work in contemporary non fiction and popular works as well as use of the Bayeux Tapestry as a primary and secondary source in the classroom The monographs articles and other works cited in this bibliography reflect dozens of research areas Major themes are the Tapestry as a source of information for eleventh century material culture its role in telling the story of the Battle of Hastings and events leading up to the invasion patronage of the Tapestry biographical detail on known historical figures in the Tapestry arms and armor medieval warfare strategy and techniques opus anglicanum the Anglo Saxon needlework tradition preservation and display of the artifact the Tapestry's place in medieval art the embroidery's depiction of medieval and Romanesque architecture and the life of the Bayeux Tapestry itself Graham Sutherland Rosalind Thuillier, 2015-05-28 A compelling biographical study of a leading twentieth century British artist Graham Sutherland Life Work and Ideas offers new insight into how he and his paintings developed In the culmination of her life's work Rosalind Thuillier builds on the reflections and recollections of a friendship spanning decades to craft a comprehensive study of Sutherland's life and works interweaving his perceptive responses to his own art taken from personal notes and correspondence with critical reviews and collectors musings to give an authentic picture of the man whose work divided critics Drawing on Sutherland's personal archive the book includes an expansive collection of images that provide a fresh view of the artist Studies by Sutherland along with preparatory works for what would become renowned paintings are published for the first time Graham Sutherland's distinctive style and the emotions that shaped the paintings are here vividly explored Thuillier describes not only the inspiration he found in the windswept Pembrokeshire countryside but also his time as an official war artist and his friendships inside and outside the art world She expertly details the process behind the creation of works such as the controversial portrait of Churchill 1954 subsequently destroyed and his most famous work the huge Christ in Glory in the Tetramorph tapestry 1962 in Coventry Cathedral Graham Sutherland Life Work and Ideas is not merely a biography but a journey behind the scenes of the artist's career exploring the paintings relationships and influences that formed his vision as an artist and his undeniable contribution to art

Inventing the Middle Ages Norman Cantor, 2023-06-29 The Middle Ages in our cultural imagination are besieged with ideas of wars tournaments plagues saints and kings knights lords and ladies In his era defining work Inventing the Middle Ages Norman Cantor shows that these presuppositions are in fact constructs of the twentieth century Through close study of the lives and works of twenty of the twentieth century's most prominent medievalists Cantor examines how the genesis of this fantasy arose in the scholars spiritual and emotional outlooks which influenced their portrayals of the Middle Ages In the course of this vigorous scrutiny of their scholarship he navigates the strong personalities and creative minds involved with deft skill Written with both students and the general public in mind Inventing the Middle Ages provided an alternative framework for the teaching of the humanities Revealing the interconnection between medieval civilisation the culture of the twentieth century and our own assumptions Cantor provides a unique standpoint both forwards and backwards As lively and engaging today as when it was first published in 1991 his analysis offers readers the core essentials of the subject in an entertaining and humorous fashion

Hand this man over to Satan' David Raymond Smith, 2009-04-13 1 Corinthians 5:5 is a curious passage which has been variously interpreted by scholars For some it denotes a magical curse which is designed to cause the physical death of the sinner Others have found such an interpretation unpersuasive Instead they maintain that Paul's words at verse five are to be understood as a metaphor for exclusion from the Corinthian community So the errant Corinthian is not to die by a curse but is to be excluded This work argues for the former interpretation by marshalling a range of the most recent specialised magical material which has not been considered by other works in relation to 1 Corinthians 5 It fully acknowledges the weaknesses of previous magical interpretations and metaphorical approaches to the passage Instead it presents a fresh magical reading of not only 1 Corinthians 5:5 but the whole of 1 Corinthians 5 within its wider context of the apostle Paul's letter to the Corinthians
