Edwin Lutyens Gavin Stamp, 2009-06-16 Gavin Stamp's

authoritative introduction places Lutyens firmly among the giants of architecture an architect of rare genius and humanity Stamp selected twenty two houses representing all phases of Lutyens's career two hundred beautifully reproduced photographs combined with Stamp's illuminating essay provide a unique survey

Mistress Anthony Fletcher, Ruth M.

Larsen, 2025-08-05 An insightful hugely engaging new history of elite women and the country house from the sixteenth to the twentieth century Grand houses can be found across the countryside of England and Wales From the Stuart and Georgian periods to the Edwardian and Victorian these buildings were once home to the aristocratic families of the nation But what was life like for the mistresses of these great houses How much power and influence did they really have Anthony Fletcher and Ruth M Larsen explore the lives of country house mistresses Focusing on eighteen women and spanning five centuries they look at the ways in which elite women not only shaped the house household and family but also had an impact on society culture and politics within their estates and beyond We meet Brilliana Harley who defended her castle at Brampton Bryan Frances Boscawen who oversaw the building of Hatchlands and Lady Mary Elcho who preserved her secret life as mistress to Arthur Balfour This is a fascinating account of the country house that puts women s experiences centre stage Reginald McKenna Martin Farr,2004-04-30 Reginald McKenna has never been the subject of scholarly attention This was partly due to his own preference for appearing at the periphery of events even when ostensibly at the centre and the absence of a significant collection of private papers This new book redresses the neglect of this major statesmen and financier partly through the natural advance of historical research and partly by the discoveries of missing archival material McKenna s role is now illuminated by his own reflections and by the correspondence of friends and colleagues including Asquith Churchill Keynes Baldwin Bonar Law MacDonald and Chamberlain McKenna s presence at the hub of political life in the first half of the century is now clear in the radical Liberal governments of 1905 16 where he acted as a lightning conductor for the party during the war where he served as the Prime Minister s deputy and the principal voice for restraint in the conduct of the war and as chairman of the world s largest bank where until his death in office aged eighty he prompted progressive policies to deal with the issues of war debt trade mass unemployment and the return to gold Modernism, 1910-1945 Jane Goldman,2017-04-29 This essential guide explores and celebrates the rise and development of modernist and avant garde literatures and theories in the period 1910 1945 from Imagism to the Apocalypse movement Jane Goldman charts transitions in writing reading performing and publishing practices and in international groupings and regroupings of writers and artists and interrogates the term Modernism which labels the era Goldman introduces students to the work of many canonical high modernist writers such as Ezra Pound T S Eliot W B Yeats James Joyce and Virginia Woolf and samples the work of other important modernist figures including Nathanael West John Rodker Aldous Huxley and the Harlem Renaissance poets

Cities of Affluence and Anger Peter Kalliney,2015-10-29 Providing a compact literary history of the twentieth century in England Cities of Affluence and Anger studies the problematic terms of national identity during England s transition from an imperial power to its integration in the global cultural marketplace While the countryside had been the dominant symbol of Englishness throughout the previous century modern literature began to turn more and more to the city to redraw the boundaries of a contemporary cultural polity The urban class system paradoxically still functioned as a marker of wealth status and hierarchy throughout this long period of self examination but it also became a way to project a common culture and mitigate other forms of difference Local class politics were transformed in such a way that enabled the English to reframe a highly provisional national unity in the context of imperial disintegration postcolonial immigration and later globalization Kalliney plots the decline of the country house novel through an analysis of Forster's Howards End and Waugh's Brideshead Revisited each ruthless in its sabotage of the trope of bucolic harmony The traditionally pastoral focus of English fiction gives way to a high modernist urban narrative exemplified by Woolf's Mrs Dalloway and later to realists such as Osborne and Sillitoe through whose work Kalliney explores postwar urban expansion and the cultural politics of the welfare state Offering fresh new readings of Lessing's The Golden Notebook and Rushdie's The Satanic Verses the author considers the postwar appropriation of domesticity the emergence of postcolonial literature and the renovation of travel narratives in the context of globalization Kalliney suggests that it is largely one city London through which national identity has been reframed How and why this transition came about is a process that Cities of Affluence and Anger depicts with exceptional insight and originality
