Macchi C.202 in Action Roberto Gentilli, Luigi Gorena, 1980 Macchi C.202 Folgore Davide F. Jabes, Alessandro Romanello, Niccolò Tognarini, 2021-12-02 The Macchi C 202 was probably the most successful Italian fighter during the Second World War It is generally agreed that the performance of the Macchi was superior to both the Hawker Hurricane and the Curtiss P 40 Kittyhawk and on a par with the Supermarine Spitfire Mk V It is not by chance that virtually all the Italian top scoring aces flew this plane either with the Regia Aeronautica or the Aeronautica Nazionale Repubblicana At the same time the Mc 202 is the symbol of the dysfunctions in the Italian military industrial complex the lack of sound industrial planning resulting in orders from the Regia Aeronautica for an exaggerated number of different aircraft the lack of the development of adequate engines limiting aircraft performance and reducing capacity to house weapons with a proper punch the corruption of politics and the culpable connivance of the high military spheres The Mc 202 was therefore produced in limited numbers while there is consensus that air war especially in the African theatre would have been different had the aircraft been adopted before

Italians attacked and overwhelmed British Somalia and under air cover the British evacuated to Aden The Allies fought many air battles with the better equipped invaders and flew dangerous reconnaissance missions in preparation for the major offensives in 1941 On the Northern Front the first phases see aggressive air patrols and Allied reinforcements arriving from Egypt They attacked towards Agordat pushing deep into Eritrea from the Sudan Meanwhile to the south the South African Air Force and ground forces attacked into Italian Somalia during January and February 1941 In March the allies attacked Keren and the Italians finally surrendered The final allied air strikes against Asmara and Massawa led to the final collapse of Italian resistance in May 1941 The campaign in Ethiopia saw General Cunningham s force advances 1 725 miles from Kenya in 53 days to reach the Ethiopian capital Addis Ababa and liberating it on April 6 1941 However the conflict was still not over there was continued resistance from 7 000 Italian troops and air operations continued against them until their surrender in September 1943 The book includes the experiences of the men who flew the outdated aircraft of the RAF and the SAAF in the campaign and includes many quotes and incidents from both Allied and Italian pilots
