from Zimbabwe and the UK highlighting the transnational dimension of the practice its diversity in different contexts and across generations and its influence on the structure of gender relationships and inequalities The transnational element of its investigation into the institution and traditions of African marriage sets this book apart from existing study and offers its readers a nuanced and complex understanding of the perceptions and experiences of Bride Price across diverse contexts This original contribution will be of great interest to those studying and teaching courses on Gender and Development as well as researchers and policymakers of cultural practices

All Things Wise and Wonderful E. Janet Warren, 2021-01-19 The Covid 19 pandemic provoked many questions It is human nature to want to know how and why things happen The sovereign God has created a beautiful intricate world in which multiple factors interact to cause an event We are called to properly understand creation but often fail because we tend to be lazy fearful and self serving We make judgments based on often incorrect assumptions about cause and effect relations and we seek reassuring explanations for both trivial and serious events Christians have the added complication of figuring out God s role in making things happen All Things Wise and Wonderful examines what the Bible and Christian theology say about cause and effect how science views causation in the world and how human mind brains judge causation Using illustrations from everyday life it offers guidance for Christians to think and act wisely with respect to how and why things happen in creation

Narrative Constellations Susanne Garvis, 2015-07-23 Narrative research in contemporary times can free social scientists from the rhetorical forms Emihovich 1995 that alienate children and families from their own traditions Through the use of narrative we are able to recognise the power of subjectivity in allowing open dialogue and co construction of meaning Becoming comfortable with narrative research also means accepting ideas that the world has no fixed rules for assigning behaviour Emihovich 1995 This means that open dialogue is required to build consensus around shared meaning and to ensure the inclusion of multiple voices The book begins with a theoretical overview of narrative genre before focusing on narrative constellations Three constellations are then shared with the reader The final chapter provides ideas about the future of narrative constellation in research and the impact constellations can have for future policy and practice It is hoped that the reader develops a better understanding of narrative ways and begins to see the potential of narrative constellations in the research genre Dr Susanne Garvis is a professor of child and youth studies at the University of Gothenburg Sweden She has previously worked in Australian universities and is an adjunct academic with Griffith University Australia Professor Garvis has experience with narrative approaches in early childhood education and care She has researched the lives of teachers families and children She is particularly interested in representations of lived experience and the power of stories in research
