Making The Town Ga State And Society In Early Colonial Accra:

Making the Town John Parker, 2000 This title incorporates a social history of a West African urban community during the colonial period or under colonialism The focus is centered on town politics and the ways in which the Ga political action shaped Accra's transition from pre colonial city state to colonial port city Forts, Castles and Society in West Africa, 2018-10-02 Long regarded as disturbing remnants of the Atlantic slave trade the European forts and castles of West Africa have attained iconic positions as universally significant historical monuments and world heritage tourist destinations This volume of original contributions by leading Africanists presents extensive new historical views of the forts in Ghana and Benin providing both impetus and a scholarly basis for further research and fresh debate about their historical and geographical contexts their role in the slave trade the economic and political connections centred on the forts between the Europeans and local African polities and their place in variously focused heritage studies and endeavours Contributors are Hermann W von Hesse Daniel Hopkins Jon Olav Hove Ole Justesen Ineke van Kessel Robin Law John Kwadwo Osei Tutu Jarle Simensen Selena Axelrod Winsnes Larry Yarak Making Men in Ghana Stephan Miescher, 2005 By featuring the life histories of eight senior men Making Men in Ghana explores the changing meaning of becoming a man in modern Africa Stephan F Miescher concentrates on the ideals and expectations that formed around men who were prominent in their communities when Ghana became an independent nation Miescher shows how they negotiated complex social and economic transformations and how they dealt with their mounting obligations and responsibilities as leaders in their kinship groups churches and schools Not only were notions about men and masculinity shaped by community standards but they were strongly influenced by imported standards that came from missionaries and other colonial officials As he recounts the life histories of these men Miescher reveals that the passage to manhood and a position of power seniority authority and leadership was not always welcome or easy As an important foil for studies on women and femininity this groundbreaking book not only explores masculinity and ideals of male behavior but offers a fresh perspective on African men in a century of change Building the Ghanaian Nation-State H. Fuller, 2014-12-10 Ghana has always held a position of primacy in the African political and historical imagination due in no small part to the indelible impression left president Kwame Nkrumah This study examines the symbolic strategies he used to construct the Ghanaian state through currency stamps museums flags and other public icons Fusion Foodways of Africa's Gold Coast in the Atlantic Era James D. La Fleur, 2012-08-03 As most people in Atlantic era West Africa as in contemporary Europe and the Americas were farmers fields and gardens were the primary terrain where they engaged the opportunities and challenges of nascent globalization Agricultural changes and culinary cross currents from the Gold Coast indicate that Africans engaged the Atlantic world not with passivity but as full partners with others on continents whose histories have enjoyed longer and greater scholarly attention The most important seeds of change are not to be found in the DNA of crops and critters carried across the seas but instead in the creativity and innovation of the people who engaged the challenges and opportunities of the Atlantic World Segregation Carl H. Nightingale, 2016-07-11 When we talk about the Civil War we often describe it in terms of battles that took place in small towns or in the countryside Antietam Gettysburg Bull Run and most tellingly the Battle of the Wilderness One reason this picture has persisted is that few urban historians have studied the war even though cities hosted enabled and shaped Southern society as much as they did in the North Confederate Cities edited by Andrew L Slap and Frank Towers shifts the focus from the agrarian economy that undergirded the South to the cities that served as its political and administrative hubs The contributors use the lens of the city to examine now familiar Civil War era themes including the scope of the war secession gender emancipation and war's destruction This more integrative approach dramatically revises our understanding of slavery's relationship to capitalist economics and cultural modernity By enabling a more holistic reading of the South the book speaks to contemporary Civil War scholars and students alike not least in providing fresh perspectives on a well studied war Afro-European Trade in the Atlantic World Silke Strickrodt, 2015 A uniquely detailed account of the dynamics of Afro European trade in two states on the western Slave Coast over three centuries and the transition from slave trade to legitimate commerce Shadows of Empire in West Africa John Kwadwo Osei-Tutu, Victoria Ellen Smith, 2017-09-06 These essays reexamine European forts in West Africa as hubs where different peoples interacted negotiated and transformed each other socially politically culturally and economically This collection brings together scholars of history archaeology cultural studies and others to present a nuanced image of fortifications showing that over time the functions and impacts of the buildings changed as the motives missions allegiances and power dynamics in the region also changed Focusing on the fortifications of Ghana the authors discuss how these structures may be interpreted as connecting Ghanaian and West African histories to a multitude of global histories They also enable greater understanding of the fortifications contemporary use as heritage sites where the Afro European experience is narrated through guided tours and museums The Fante and the Transatlantic Slave Trade Rebecca Shumway, 2011 The history of Ghana attracts popular interest out of proportion to its small size and marginal importance to the global economy Ghana is the land of Kwame Nkrumah and the Pan Africanist movement of the 1960s it has been a temporary home to famous African Americans like W E B DuBois and Maya Angelou and its Asante Kingdom and signature kente cloth global symbols of African culture and pride are well known Ghana also attracts a continuous flow of international tourists because of two historical sites that are among the most notorious monuments of the transatlantic slave trade Cape Coast and Elmina Castles These looming structures are a vivid reminder of the horrific trade that gave birth to the black population of the Americas The Fante and the Transatlantic Slave Trade explores the fascinating history of the transatlantic slave trade on Ghana's coast between 1700 and 1807 Here author Rebecca Shumway brings to life the survival experiences of southern Ghanaians as they became both victims of continuous violence and successful brokers of enslaved human beings The era of the slave trade gave birth to a new culture in this part of West Africa just as it was giving birth to new cultures across the Americas The Fante and the Transatlantic Slave Trade pushes Asante scholarship to the forefront of African diaspora and Atlantic World studies by showing the integral role of Fante middlemen and transatlantic trade in the development of the Asante economy prior to 1807 Rebecca Shumway is Assistant Professor of History at the University of Pittsburgh

The Black Urban Atlantic in the Age of the Slave Trade Jorge Canizares-Esguerra, Jorge Cañizares-Esguerra, Matt D. Childs, James Sidbury, 2013-07-03 During the era of the Atlantic slave trade vibrant port cities became home to thousands of Africans in transit Free and enslaved blacks alike crafted the necessary materials to support transoceanic commerce and labored as stevedores carters sex workers and boarding house keepers Even though Africans continued to be exchanged as chattel urban frontiers allowed a number of enslaved blacks to negotiate the right to hire out their own time often greatly enhancing their autonomy within the Atlantic commercial system In The Black Urban Atlantic in the Age of the Slave Trade eleven original essays by leading scholars from the United States Europe and Latin America chronicle the black experience in Atlantic ports providing a rich and diverse portrait of the ways in which Africans experienced urban life during the era of plantation slavery Describing life in Portugal Brazil Mexico the Caribbean and Africa this volume illuminates the historical identity agency and autonomy of the African experience as well as the crucial role Atlantic cities played in the formation of diasporic cultures By shifting focus away from plantations this volume poses new questions about the nature of slavery in the sixteenth to nineteenth centuries illustrating early modern urban spaces as multiethnic sites of social connectivity cultural incubation and political negotiation Contributors Trevor Burnard Mariza de Carvalho Soares Matt D Childs Kevin Dawson Roquinaldo Ferreira David Geggus Jane Landers Robin Law David Northrup Jo o Jos Reis James H Sweet Nicole von Germeten

Slavery and Reform in West Africa Trevor R. Getz, 2004-04-20 A series of transformations reforms and attempted abolitions of slavery form a core narrative of nineteenth century coastal West Africa As the region s role in Atlantic commercial networks underwent a gradual transition from principally that of slave exporter to producer of legitimate goods and dependent markets institutions of slavery became battlegrounds in which European abolitionism pragmatic colonialism and indigenous agency clashed In Slavery and Reform in West Africa Trevor Getz demonstrates that it was largely on the anvil of this issue that French and British policy in West Africa was forged With distant metropolises unable to intervene in daily affairs local European administrators striving to balance abolitionist pressures against the resistance of politically and economically powerful local slave owners sought ways to satisfy the latter while placating or duping the former The result was an alliance between colonial officials company agents and slave owning elites that effectively slowed sidetracked or undermined serious attempts to reform slave holding Although slavery was outlawed in both regions in only a few isolated instances did large scale emancipations occur Under the surface however slaves used the threat of self liberation to reach accommodations that transformed the master slave relationship By comparing the strategies of colonial administrators slave owners and slaves across these two regions and throughout the nineteenth century Slavery and Reform in West Africa reveals not only the causes of the astounding success of slave owners but also the factors that could and in some cases did lead to slave liberations These findings have serious implications for the wider study of slavery and emancipation and for the history of Africa generally Mapping Modernisms Elizabeth Harney, Ruth B. Phillips, 2018-11-01

Tongnaab Jean Allman, John Parker, 2005-11-18 For many Africanist historians traditional religion is simply a starting point for measuring the historic impact of Christianity and Islam In Tongnaab Jean Allman and John Parker challenge the distinction between tradition and modernity by tracing the movement and mutation of the powerful Talensi god and ancestor shrine Tongnaab from the savanna of northern Ghana through the forests and coastal plains of the south Using a wide range of written oral and iconographic sources Allman and Parker uncover the historical dynamics of cross cultural religious belief and practice They reveal how Tongnaab has been intertwined with many themes and events in West African history the slave trade colonial conquest and rule capitalist agriculture and mining labor migration shifting ethnicities the production of ethnographic knowledge and the political projects that brought about the modern nation state This rich and original book shows that indigenous religion has been at the center of dramatic social and economic changes stretching from the slave trade to the tourist trade

Waste Works Brenda Chalfin, 2023-03-06 In Waste Works Brenda Chalfin examines Ghana's planned city of Tema theorizing about the formative role of waste infrastructure in urban politics and public life Chalfin argues that at Tema's midcentury founding a prime objective of governing authorities was to cultivate self-contained citizens by means of tightly orchestrated domestic infrastructure and centralized control of bodily excrement to both develop and depoliticize the new nation Comparing infrastructural innovations across the city Chalfin excavates how Tema residents pursue novel approaches to urban waste and sanitation built on the ruins of the inherited order profoundly altering the urban public sphere Once decreed a private matter to be guaranteed by state authorities excrement becomes a public issue collectively managed by private persons Pushing self-care into public space and extending domestic responsibility for public well-being and bodily outputs popularly devised waste infrastructures are a decisive arena to make claims build coalitions and cultivate status Confounding high modernist ideals excremental infrastructures unlock bodily waste's diverse political potentials
