Man, God, and Nature in the Enlightenment Donald C. Mell, Theodore E. D. Braun, Lucia M. Palmer, 1988 The Masculinities of John Milton Elizabeth Hodgson, 2022-09-08 The Masculinities of John Milton is the first published monograph on Milton's men Examining how Milton's fantasies of manly authority are framed in his major works this study exposes the gaps between Milton's pleas for liberty and his assumptions that White men like himself should rule his culture From schoolboys teaching each other how to traffic in young women in the Ludlow Masque to his treatises on divorce that make the wife less husband the best possible citizen and to the later epics in which Milton wrestles with male small talk and the ladders of masculine social power his verse and prose draw from and amplify his culture's claims about manliness in education warfare friendship citizenship and conversation This revolutionary poet's most famous writings reveal how ambivalently manhood is constructed to serve itself in early modern England Books in Print, 2002

History and Nature in the Enlightenment Nathaniel Wolloch, 2016-04-22 The mastery of nature was viewed by eighteenth century historians as an important measure of the progress of civilization Modern scholarship has hitherto taken insufficient notice of this important idea This book discusses the topic in connection with the mainstream religious political and philosophical elements of Enlightenment culture It considers works by Edward Gibbon Voltaire Herder Vico Raynal Hume Adam Smith William Robertson and a wide range of lesser and better known figures It also discusses many classical medieval and early modern sources which influenced Enlightenment historiography as well as eighteenth century attitudes toward nature in general Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1995-02

Sauter, 2019-01-11 In The Spatial Reformation Michael J Sauter offers a sweeping history of the way Europeans conceived of three dimensional space including the relationship between Earth and the heavens between 1350 and 1850 He argues that this spatial reformation provoked a reorganization of knowledge in the West that was arguably as important as the religious Reformation Notably it had its own sacred text which proved as central and was as ubiquitously embraced Euclid's Elements Aside from the Bible no other work was so frequently reproduced in the early modern era According to Sauter its penetration and suffusion throughout European thought and experience call for a deliberate reconsideration not only of what constitutes the intellectual foundation of the early modern era but also of its temporal range The Spatial Reformation contends that space is a human construct that is it is a concept that arises from the human imagination and gets expressed physically in texts and material objects Sauter begins his examination by demonstrating how Euclidean geometry when it was applied fully to the cosmos estranged God from man enabling the breakthrough to heliocentrism and by extension the discovery of the New World Subsequent chapters provide detailed analyses of the construction of celestial and terrestrial globes Albrecht Dürer's engraving Melencolia the secularization of the natural history of the earth and man and Hobbes's rejection of Euclid's sense of space and its effect on his political theory Sauter's exploration culminates in the formation of a new anthropology in the eighteenth century that situated humanity in reference to spaces and places that human eyes had not actually seen The Spatial Reformation illustrates how these disparate advancements can be viewed as resulting expressly from early modernity's embrace of Euclidean geometry
