Martin Buber Maurice S. Friedman, 2015-07-06 Excerpt from Martin Buber The Life of Dialogue This book is the product of a dialogue a dialogue first with the works of Martin Buber and later with Martin Buber himself The influence of Buber's thought has steadily spread throughout the last fifty years until today Buber is recognized throughout the world as occupying a position in the foremost ranks of contemporary philosophers theologians and scholars What has made such men as Hermann Hesse and Reinhold Niebuhr speak of Martin Buber as one of the few wise men living on the earth today however is not only his eminence as a thinker but also his concern with the lived concrete the everyday reality which he takes up into his imagining and bears as his responsibility Buber's eightieth birthday on February 8 1958 was celebrated all over the world for Martin Buber is one of the truly universal men of our time More than any other person in the modern world said the Protestant theologian H. Richard Niebuhr at one such celebration more even than Kierkegaard Martin Buber has been for me and for many of my companions the prophet of the soul and the witness to that truth which is required of the soul not as solitary but as companionable being In a time in which we are in danger of losing our birthright as human beings Martin Buber has shown us what it means to live as men When in 1944 Dr. Simon Greenberg gave me the first book of Buber's that I ever read The Legend of the Baal Shem Buber himself was practically unknown in America and only two of his books were in English both published in England Even when I wrote my doctoral dissertation on Buber in 1950 few had heard of him and few of his books were published here Today more than twenty of Buber's books have been published in English most of them in both England and America several more translations are underway five of his books have been reissued in paperback editions four anthologies of his writings have appeared and several books in English have been written on his thought including the forthcoming Philosophy of Martin Buber volume of The Library of Living Philosophers which I have had the honor of editing In 1951-1952 Buber spent almost a year in America under the auspices of the Jewish Theological Seminary in 1957 he was brought here by the Washington School of Psychiatry to deliver the fourth William Alanson White Memorial Lectures and in 1958 he was brought to this country by Princeton University About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an

Martin Buber's Dialogue Kenneth Paul Kramer, 2019-08-21 Martin Buber one of the twentieth century's most distinguished and creative thinkers famously argued that the fundamental fact of human existence is person with person and that practicing genuine dialogue is necessary for anyone who wishes to become authentically human This book seeks to unleash and reassemble the core elements for practicing dialogue turning and addressing and then listening and responding Despite what many say the innermost growth of the self does not come in relation to one's self Rather attaining one's authentic human existence one's innate self realization emerges again and again through genuine dialogue through participatory consciousness We become authentically human in and through our relationships with others Here's the point instead of having dialogues human beings mutually become dialogue with others Individual human beings in dialogue with one another become memorable mutualities found nowhere else opening out into the world

Martin Buber and the Human Sciences Maurice Friedman, 2012-02-01 The specific focus of Martin Buber and the Human Sciences is dialogue as the foundation of and integrating factor in the human sciences using dialogue in the special sense which Buber has made famous mutuality presentness openness meeting the other in his or her uniqueness and not just as a content for one's own thought categories and knowing as deriving in the first instance from mutual contact rather than knowledge of a subject about an object By the human sciences the authors editors mean material that can be meaningfully approached in a dialogic way hence the humanities education psychology speech communication anthropology history sociology and economics The essays in Martin Buber and the Human Sciences demonstrate that thirty years after Buber's death his influence is still resonating in many countries and in many fields Martin Buber and His Critics (Routledge Revivals) Willard Moonan, 2016-02-05 First published in 1981 Martin Buber has been acclaimed as one of the major philosophical and religious thinkers of the twentieth century with his influence and achievements spanning numerous fields however in each of these areas his work has also been severely criticised and his influence called into question This volume brings together in a systematic arrangement all the significant material by and about Martin Buber published in English up to the centenary of his birth in 1978 To make the bibliography as useful as possible the critical material was annotated and various indexes were constructed including an extensive subject index to both Buber's works and the criticism The Way of Response: Martin Buber Martin Buber, 1966
