The Modern Spirit of Asia Peter van der Veer, 2013-10-27 A comparative look at religion and spirituality in postcolonial China and India The Modern Spirit of Asia challenges the notion that modernity in China and India are derivative imitations of the West arguing that these societies have transformed their ancient traditions in unique and distinctive ways Peter van der Veer begins with nineteenth century imperial history exploring how Western concepts of spirituality secularity religion and magic were used to translate the traditions of India and China He traces how modern Western notions of religion and magic were incorporated into the respective nation building projects of Chinese and Indian nationalist intellectuals yet how modernity in China and India is by no means uniform While religion is a centerpiece of Indian nationalism it is viewed in China as an obstacle to progress that must be marginalized and controlled The Modern Spirit of Asia moves deftly from Kandinsky s understanding of spirituality in art to Indian yoga and Chinese qi gong from modern theories of secularism to histories of Christian conversion from Orientalist constructions of religion to Chinese campaigns against magic and superstition and from Muslim Kashmir to Muslim Xinjiang

Alles, 2010-03-01 Drawing on recent developments in the comparative study of religion this book explores the trends of the past sixty years from a global perspective Each of the ten chapters covers the study of religion in a different region of the world from Europe and the Americas to Asia and the Far East Topics covered include local background to the study of religions formation of religious studies in the region important thinkers and writings institutions interregional diversity and interregional connections emerging issues This book is a major contribution to the field of religious studies and a valuable reference for scholars researchers and graduate students Body of Victim, Body of Warrior Cabeiri deBergh Robinson, 2013-03-08 This book provides a fascinating look at the creation of contemporary Muslim jihadists Basing the book on her long term fieldwork in the disputed borderlands between Pakistan and India Cabeiri deBergh Robinson tells the stories of people whose lives and families have been shaped by a long history of political conflict Interweaving historical and ethnographic evidence Robinson explains how refuge seeking has become a socially and politically debased practice in the Kashmir region and why this devaluation has turned refugee men into potential militants

She reveals the fraught social processes by which individuals and families produce and maintain a modern jihad and she shows how Muslim refugees have forged an Islamic notion of rights a hybrid of global political ideals that adopts the language of human rights and humanitarianism as a means to rethink refugees positions in transnational communities Jihad is no longer seen as a collective fight for the sovereignty of the Islamic polity but instead as a personal struggle to establish the security of Muslim bodies against political violence torture and rape Robinson describes how this new understanding has contributed to the popularization of jihad in the Kashmir region decentered religious institutions as regulators of jihad in practice and turned the families of refugee youths into the ultimate mediators of entrance into militant organizations This provocative book challenges the idea that extremism in modern Muslim societies is the natural by product of a clash of civilizations of a universal Islamist ideology or of fundamentalist conversion      Settlers, Saints and Sovereigns Farhana Ibrahim,2020-11-29 This book is an anthropological study located along India s western border with Pakistan The core arguments are situated within the context of contemporary religious nationalism communal strife and border politics in the Indian state of Gujarat It seeks to understand how within these contexts a region becomes a meaningful place for its inhabitants and how different peoples relate to locality through time Theoretically the book builds on available anthropological literatures on state formation and border politics to interrogate the presumed impermeability of nationalist discourse and territorial boundaries      Da'wa Matthew J. Kuiper,2021-03-31 In this engaging study Matthew J Kuiper tells the fascinating story of how Islam became a world religion and cultural phenomenon of immense scale astonishing diversity and global impact His starting point is the dramatic upsurge in da wa inviting to Islam or Islamic missionary activism      The Indian Princes and their States Barbara N. Ramusack,2004-01-08 Although the princes of India have been caricatured as oriental despots and British stooges Barbara Ramusack s study argues that the British did not create the princes On the contrary many were consummate politicians who exercised considerable degrees of autonomy until the disintegration of the princely states after independence Ramusack s synthesis has a broad temporal span tracing the evolution of the Indian kings from their pre colonial origins to their roles as clients in the British colonial system The book breaks ground in its integration of political and economic developments in the major princely states with the shifting relationships between the princes and the British It represents a major contribution both to British imperial history in its analysis of the theory and practice of indirect rule and to modern South Asian history as a portrait of the princes as politicians and patrons of the arts      Islamic Movements of Europe Frank Peter,Rafael Ortega,2014-09-08 Islam in Europe and Islamophobia are subjects of vital global importance which currently preoccupy policy makers and academics alike Through the examination of various European Muslim groups and institutions that have branched off from Islamic movements including the Muslim Brotherhood Hizb ut Tahrir and Jama at i Islami this book outlines the configuration of social political and religious processes that have given rise to new kinds of European Muslim organisations The authors offer a new perspective on these Muslim groups and seek to reclaim them from the often highly charged public debates by placing them within the context of their origins as politicised religious movements on the one hand and their ongoing incorporation into European societal structures on the other. They also consider the relationship of these organisations to their parent movements and examine the presence of Islam in European education and higher education institutions. Taking into account the connection between Islamic movements and the perceived surge of Islamophobia in Europe, this book does not debate the question of whether these groups fit into normative or cultural structures of European nation states but rather examines how these structures have changed through their interaction with these groups and the growing Muslim population within Europe. It does not consider political Islam as the antithesis to a refined notion of secularism but as a form of public religion which contributes to the ever-changing structure of Europe's secular regimes. Featuring the work of more than 40 scholars from around the world, this is the comprehensive guide to Islamic movements in Europe, offering original definitive perspectives on Muslims and Islam in Europe today. It will be essential reading for policy makers, political commentators and scholars alike.
