Resolute and Undertaking Characters: The Lives of Wilhelm and Otto Struve A.H. Batten, 1988-03-31 My interest in the history of the Struve family is long standing but lay dormant until 1972 when I found myself organizing a symposium of the International Astronomical Union in memory of the second Otto Struve To satisfy my own curiosity I investigated the precise relationships of the famous astronomers in the family and published an account of them based mainly on secondary sources The exercise made me aware that there was no biography in English of the first and probably still the greatest astronomer in the clan Friedrich Georg Wilhelm Struve Wilhelm's son the first Otto wrote an account in German of his father's life intended primarily for family and close friends and though printed not generally available Through the kindness of a family member I have a copy from which I have been able to work The Soviet historian of science Z K Sokolovskaya wrote a biography in Russian in 1964 to mark the centenary of Wilhelm's death This had a limited edition and my efforts to obtain a copy failed Neither work has in its entirety been translated into English although Michael Meo of Oakland California and Kevin Krisciunas of Hilo Hawaii have kindly made available to me their unpublished translations of some sections of the latter In the of a complete copy however when I decided to attempt an English absence language biography I thought it best to do so independently of Sokolovskaya's

Mary Somerville and the World of Science Allan Chapman, 2014-08-26 Mary Somerville 1780-1872 after whom Somerville College Oxford was named was the first woman scientist to win an international reputation entirely in her own right rather than through association with a scientific brother or father She was active in astronomy one of the most demanding areas of science of the day and flourished in the unique British tradition of Grand Amateurs who paid their own way and were not affiliated with any academic institution Mary Somerville was to science what Jane Austen was to literature and Frances Trollope to travel writing Allan Chapman's vivid account brings to light the story of an exceptional woman whose achievements in a field dominated by men deserve to be very widely known

Yerkes Observatory, 1892-1950 Donald E. Osterbrock, 2008-04-15 Drawing on his experience as historian of astronomy practicing astrophysicist and director of Lick Observatory Donald Osterbrock uncovers a chapter in the history of astronomy by providing the story of the Yerkes Observatory

The Transit of Venus Enterprise in Victorian Britain Jessica Ratcliff, 2016-09-12 In the nineteenth century the British Government spent money measuring the distance between the earth and the sun using observations of the transit of Venus This book presents a narrative of the two Victorian transit programmes It draws out their cultural significance and explores the nature of big science in late Victorian Britain

Minding the Heavens Leila Belkora, 2002-12-01 Today we accept that we live on a planet circling the sun that our sun is just one of billions of stars in the galaxy we call the Milky Way and that our galaxy is but one of billions born out of the big bang Yet as recently as the early twentieth century the general public and even astronomers had vague and confused notions about what lay beyond

Modern Theories of the Universe Michael J. Crowe, 1994-01-01 This book provides an introduction to the fundamentals of stellar astronomy a history of astronomy and an account of how the science of astronomy challenged traditional philosophical and theological beliefs Throughout the text are readings from the writings of scientists who contributed most significantly to the development of astronomy

Inertial Coordinate System on the Sky J.H. Lieske, Victor K. Abalakin, 2012-12-06 IA U Symposium Number 141 Inertial Coordinate System on the Sky was held in Leningrad USSR from 17-21 October 1989 The symposium also commemorated the 150th anniversary of the founding of Pulkovo Observatory The scientific program was presented in ten half-day sessions Most sessions were held at the Pulkovskaya Hotel but one session which highlighted Pulkovo's current programs was held at Pulkovo Observatory The sessions were organized into general categories pertaining to the legacy of Pulkovo for inertial systems current programs at Pulkovo Observatory concepts definitions and models and the realization and comparison of reference frames More than 140 scientific papers were presented either orally or in poster form Extensive use was made of electronic mail and computer-readable communications and more than two-thirds of the authors made use of the opportunity to submit papers for formatting by the editors The meeting was truly a symposium in the Greek sense of the word a free flowing exchange of ideas and opinions The final two papers presented at the symposium by Wilkins and by Westerhout are presented at an early stage in the published proceedings in order to help focus the reader's attention on the concepts and problems explored in subsequent papers As pointed out by G

Women in Early British and Irish Astronomy Mary Brück, 2009-07-25 Careers in astronomy for women as in other sciences were a rarity in Britain and Ireland until well into the twentieth century The book investigates the place of women in astronomy before that era recounted in the form of biographies of about 25 women born between 1650 and 1900 who in varying capacities contributed to its progress during the eighteenth nineteenth and early twentieth centuries There are some famous names among them whose biographies have been written before now there are others who have received less than their due recognition while many more occupied inconspicuous and sometimes thankless places as assistants to male family members All deserve to be remembered as interesting individuals in an earlier opportunity poor age Placed in roughly chronological order their lives constitute a sample thread in the story of female entry into the male world of science The book is aimed at astronomers amateur astronomers historians of science and promoters of women in science but being written in non technical language it is intended to be of interest also to educated readers generally

Parallax Alan W. Hirshfeld, 2002-05-01 In the dramatic tradition of the best selling Longitude Parallax charts the historical path of observational astronomy's most daunting challenge measuring the distance to a star The greatest scientific minds applied themselves in vain to the problem across the millennia beginning with the ancient Greeks Not until the nineteenth century would three astronomers armed with the best telescopes of the age race to conquer this astronomical Everest their contest ending in a virtual dead heat Against a sweeping backdrop filled with kidnappings dramatic rescue swordplay madness and bitter rivalry Alan Hirshfeld brings to life the heroes of this remarkable story Meet the destitute boy plucked from a collapsed building who becomes the greatest telescope maker the world has ever seen the hot tempered Dane whose nose is lopped off in a duel over mathematics the merchant's apprentice forced to choose between the lure of money and his passion for astronomy and the musician who astounds the world by discovering a new planet from his own backyard Generously illustrated with diagrams period engravings and paintings Parallax is an unforgettable tale that illuminates the distinctly human side of science

Literature 1988, Part 1 U. Esser, H. Hefele, Inge Heinrich, W. Hofmann, D. Krahn, V. R. Matas, Dr. Lutz D. Schmadel, G. Zech, 2013-11-11 From the reviews Astronomy and Astrophysics Abstracts has appeared in semi annual volumes since 1969 and it has already become one of the fundamental publications in the fields of astronomy astrophysics and neighbouring sciences It is the most important English language abstracting journal in the mentioned branches The abstracts are classified under more than a hundred subject categories thus permitting a quick survey of the whole extended material The AAA is a valuable and important publication for all students and scientists working in the fields of astronomy and related sciences As such it represents a necessary ingredient of any astronomical library all over the world Space Science Reviews 1 Dividing the whole field plus related subjects into 108 categories each work is numbered and most are accompanied by brief abstracts Fairly comprehensive cross referencing links relevant papers to more than one category and exhaustive author and subject indices are to be found at the back making the catalogues easy to use The series appears to be so complete in its coverage and always less than a year out of date that I shall certainly have to make a little more space on those shelves for future volumes

The Voyager Neptune Travel Guide ,1989 News from Mars Joshua Nall,2019-08-13 Mass media in the late nineteenth century was full of news from Mars In the wake of Giovanni Schiaparelli s 1877 discovery of enigmatic dark straight lines on the red planet astronomers and the public at large vigorously debated the possibility that it might be inhabited As rivalling scientific practitioners looked to marshal allies and sway public opinion through newspapers periodicals popular books exhibitions and encyclopaedias they exposed disagreements over how the discipline of astronomy should be organized and how it should establish acceptable conventions of discourse News from Mars provides a new account of this extraordinary episode in the history of astronomy revealing how major transformations in astronomical practice across Britain and America were inextricably tied up with popular scientific culture and a transatlantic news economy that enabled knowledge to travel As Joshua Nall argues astronomers were journalists too eliding practice with communication in consequential ways As writers and editors they played a pivotal role in the emergence of a new astronomy dedicated to the study of the physical constitution and life history of celestial objects blurring harsh distinctions between those who produced esoteric knowledge and those who disseminated it

The Cambridge History of Science: Volume 5, The Modern Physical and Mathematical Sciences David C. Lindberg,Mary Jo Nye,Roy Porter,Ronald L. Numbers,2003 A new and comprehensive examination of the history of the modern physical and mathematical sciences Making Stars Physical Stephen Case,2018-11-03 Making Stars Physical offers the first extensive look at the astronomical career of John Herschel son of William Herschel and one of the leading scientific figures in Britain throughout much of the nineteenth century Herschel s astronomical career is usually relegated to a continuation of his father William s sweeps for nebulae However as Stephen Case argues John Herschel was pivotal in establishing the sidereal revolution his father had begun a shift of attention from the planetary system to the study of nebulous regions in the heavens and speculations on the nature of the Milky Way and the sun s position within it Through John Herschel s astronomical career in particular his work on constellation reform double stars and variable stars the study of stellar objects became part of mainstream astronomy He leveraged his mathematical expertise and his position within the scientific community to make sidereal astronomy accessible even to casual observers allowing amateurs to make useful observations that could contribute to theories on the nature of stars With this book Case shows how Herschel s work made the stars physical and laid the foundations for modern
