As we approach the 25th anniversary of the first recognition of HIV AIDS in 1981 this book reflects on the international impact of the disease It has persistently remained a global issue with more than 50 million people worldwide estimated to have been infected since that date This ambitious book written by 165 authors from 30 countries offers a multi country comparative study that examines how the response to the common global threat of HIV is shaped by the history culture institutions and health systems of the individual countries affected Increasingly the shift of health systems has been from prevention only as the main containment strategy to a strategy that includes scaling up HIV treatment and care and prevention services including antiretroviral therapy Thus all parts of the health system must be involved policy makers healthcare professionals and users of the services have been forced to think differently about how services are financed how resources are allocated how systems are structured and organized how services are delivered to patients and how the resulting activity is monitored and evaluated in order to improve the effectiveness efficiency equity and acceptability of the response This book is unique in attempting to describe and assess a range of responses across the globe by situating them within the characteristics of each country and its health system Most chapters combine a health policy expert with an HIV specialist allowing both a top down health system approach and a bottom up HIV specific perspective There are thematic and analytical sections which provide an overview and some suggestions for solutions to the most serious outstanding issues and chapters which analyse specific country and organisational responses There is no perfect health system but the evidence provided here allows the sharing of knowledge and a opportunity to assess the impact and reactions to an epidemic that must be considered a long term issue MYCDCGP - National Strategic Plan - Ending AIDS 2016-2030 Bahagian Kawalan

Responses to HIV and AIDS Miguel Munoz-Laboy, Jonathan Garcia, Joyce Moon-Howard, Patrick Wilson, Richard Parker, 2016-01-08 Religious institutions shaped the ways individuals communities and societies responded to HIV and AIDS since the 1980s This book draws on research studies ranging in context from sites in sub Saharan Africa to New York City in the USA to examine the complexity of responding to the epidemic both globally and locally Religious systems of meaning practices and institutions have been central to the articulation of projects for social change and inversely sometime strongly resistant to change in diverse institutional responses to HIV and AIDS Sometimes religious movements provided powerful forces for community mobilisation in response to the social vulnerability economic exclusion and health problems associated with HIV In other contexts religious cultures have reproduced values and practices that have seriously impeded more effective approaches to mitigate the epidemic By highlighting these complex and sometimes contradictory social processes this book provides new insights about the potential for religious institutions to address the HIV epidemic more effectively More broadly it shows how research can be done on religion in the area of global public health showing how civil society organizations shape opportunities for health promotion a crucial and new area of global public health research This book was originally published as a special issue of Global Public Health

HIV/AIDS in the Caribbean

,2001-01-01 It is estimated in this region that more than half a million people are infected with HIV Efforts are needed if inroads are to be made against the AIDS epidemic Although many Caribbean governments have initiated a limited response to HIV AIDS much remains to be done This report provides an overview of the challenges and opportunities in addressing the problem of HIV AIDS in the Caribbean It presents a snapshot of the HIV AIDS epidemic in the region and offers examples of ways in which Caribbean countries and regional bodies such as the Caribbean Community have responded to the epidemic discusses alternative actions for addressing the crisis and highlights a range of strategies for donor coordination and cooperation in the region Finally the report identifies the potential role of the World Bank in addressing the HIV AIDS epidemic in the Caribbean

Civil Society Organizations and the Global Response to HIV/AIDS Julia

Smith,2016-11-03 Why has the response to HIV AIDS been unique How did civil society organizations gain access to global decision making forums to demand exceptional attention and resources for HIV AIDS This book seeks to answer these questions among others through a critical international relations approach that enquires into the role of civil society in global health governance It documents how civil society forged the initial response to HIV AIDS within a rights based paradigm and built international networks It analyses why civil society was able to gain the right to participate in global health institutions and assesses what influence civil society representatives have within these institutions particularly focusing on outcomes related to institutional legitimacy and downward accountability It then discusses changes in the broader political economy of global health and how HIV AIDS organizations have or have not adapted to these shifts Finally the book tells the story of the many struggles civil society organizations have engaged in to advance a rights based response to HIV AIDS the transformations achieved and the resistance experienced

The Politics of HIV/AIDS in Russia Ulla Pape,2013-10-01 This book studies the role of civil society organisations in the fight against HIV AIDS in Russia It looks at how Russia s HIV AIDS epidemic has developed into a serious social economic and political problem and how according to the United Nations Programme on HIV AIDS UNAIDS Russia is currently facing the biggest HIV AIDS epidemic in all of Europe with an estimated number of 980 000 people living with HIV in 2009 The book investigates civil society organisations contribution to social change and civil society development in post Soviet Russia and thus situates a specific type of civil society actors into a broader socio political context and questions their ability to represent civic interests particularly in the field of social policy making and health This allows for a better understanding of the dynamics of state society relations in present day Russia and gives insight into the ways HIV AIDS NGOs in Russia have used transnational ties in order to exert influence on domestic policy making in the field of HIV AIDS

Changing Addiction Problems and Care Responses During and After a Major Crisis: Emergence of a 'New Normal' John Strang ,Julia Rozanova,Alexandra A. Deac ,Harry Skipper,2024-07-24 Despite its lifesaving role addiction treatment and care are often among the first domains to lose resources when a crisis strikes Across the world disruptions in addiction related care during the Covid 19 pandemic armed conflict or radical political change have been documented But what happens after the crisis is typically unknown How do addiction related problems change during a crisis and what are the responses at individual and societal level How do crises affect causes prevalence incidence or severity of addiction in different regions and populations Does the addiction care system permanently collapse or is the breakdown temporary and reversible How does a crisis evolve and what happens to addiction care services and their beneficiaries over time Is residual damage to addiction care services inevitable or can a crisis create opportunities for positive change at individual organizational and or system level Are harms and benefits un equally distributed among different addiction stakeholder groups And finally what does a new normal look like in addiction and addiction care and what new norms underpin it These questions not only encompass the importance of such a topic but also the implications on public health that are applicable worldwide that need to be addressed

Contemporary Readings in Globalization Scott Sernau,2008 Cutting edge reader featuring a diverse selection of edited and prefaced articles from both the academic and non academic press

AIDS Doesn't Show Its Face Daniel Jordan Smith,2014-03-28 AIDS and Africa are indelibly linked in popular consciousness but despite widespread awareness of the epidemic much of the story remains hidden beneath a superficial focus on condoms sex workers and antiretrovirals Africa gets lost in this equation Daniel Jordan Smith argues transformed into a mere vehicle to explain AIDS and in AIDS Doesn't Show Its Face he offers a powerful reversal using AIDS as a lens through which to view Africa Drawing on twenty years of fieldwork in Nigeria Smith tells a story of dramatic social changes ones implicated in the same inequalities that also factor into local perceptions about AIDS inequalities of gender generation and social class Nigerians he shows view both social inequality and the presence of AIDS in moral terms as kinds of ethical failure Mixing ethnographies that describe everyday life with pointed analyses of public health interventions he demonstrates just how powerful these paired anxieties medical and social are and how the world might better alleviate them through a more sensitive understanding of their relationship

Our Responses to a Deadly Virus Angela Molnos,2018-11-09 This book analyses the disturbance that HIV AIDS causes in society and in the individual and shows how it can activate the destructive power of groups if nothing is done to stem these effects It is devoted to documenting experiences from a workshop the author convened in London in December 1987
