Restructuring in Global Aluminium Bonnie K. Campbell, Magnus Ericsson, 1996

The International Aluminium

Cartel Marco Bertilorenzi, 2015-09-16 Aluminium was one of most cartelised industries in the international economic panorama of the 20th century Born following the discovery of electrolytic smelting process in 1886 this industry even in its infancy established a cartel which characterised its history until nearly 1980 Managers of the aluminium industry from various historical eras and countries shared the same vision about the development of their industry to keep prices as stable as possible in order to encourage expansions and to provide return on investments Price instability which characterised the trade of other commodities was unknown to the aluminium industry This book neither argues that cartels are fundamentally evil nor attempts to demonstrate that cartels are optimal business organisations It instead provides an in depth and frank analysis of the internal working of industrial organisations and of the interplay between cartels and political powers and institutions The International Aluminium Cartel offers explanations for the construction and collapse of cartels descriptions of their operations and an historical interpretation of their experiences Incorporating information gleaned from a unique collection of private and public archives from several countries this unique study will appeal to a wide variety of readers including academics interested in industrial and business history

Foreign Direct Investment in Bahrain

Lobna Ali Al-Khalifa, 2010-05 A significant volume of literature has been developed that seeks to provide an explanation for the growth of FDI and its impact on less developed countries The literature is characterized by diversity and controversy Based on it a range of reasons for encouraging investment have been proposed including its favorable effects on employment levels the balance of payments and balance of trade of the host country and also the potential for acquisition of technology and skills Cave 1982 and Dunning 1993 Equally the potentially negative effects of growing levels of foreign investment on domestic market structures and national sovereignty have long been the focus of attention Vernon 1971 and Jenkins 1987 More recent studies focused on the positive effect FDI can create through the integration of a host country into the global economy and the system of international division of labor based on fragmentation of production Gereffi and Korzeniewicz 1994 and Henderson Decken Hess Coe and Yeung 2002 Little if any research has examined the impact of FDI on the oil monarchies Conventional expectations persisted that once they enter the post oil phase of their histories it will be difficult for them to uphold their political legitimacy and survive intense domestic and international pressures upon their regimes Taeker 1998 and O Reilly 1999 It has been argued that oil income enable them to pacify opponents by providing their subjects with jobs that pay well and has had detrimental effect on both economic development and political liberalization These expectations have tended to be contradicted by actual development The private sector has become remarkably strong in the oil monarchies and their governments were not highly resistant to change as depicted by the rentier state paradigm Mahdavy 1970 and Beblawi 1987 Taking Bahrain as a case study this thesis argues that despite its limitations as a small nation and the paucity of its oil reserves Bahrain punched well above its weight due to its open economy and foreign direct investment Its domestic economy is well integrated into the global market It was able to exploit some of the opportunities that were presented by economic globalization when niches were opened or vacated within the networks of global production It has developed energy intensive industries aluminium and petrochemicals and became the major financial centre of the Middle East Yet in spite of the government incentives it still faces some challenges in attracting FDI in downstream activities related to oil and aluminium which suggests that additional reforms are needed

International and Comparative Mineral Law and Policy Elizabeth Bastida, Thomas W. Waelde, Janeth Warden-Fernández, 2005-01-01 This book covers a broad spectrum of issues shaping the current paradigm of minerals sector governance The ultimate aim of the book is to understand trends and developments in mineral law and policy occurring at international regional cross border and in some selected cases at national level and also to identify some of the challenges lying ahead With these objectives in view the book brings together a representative selection of the most knowledgeable authors on the subject The contributions deal with a diverse range of issues tackled from interdisciplinary perspectives Topics are divided into five main chapters international and comparative aspects of mineral law actors and policies in the minerals industry investment prospects financial and fiscal issues sustainable development and regional outlooks The book aspires to serve as a useful reference for scholars practitioners students and all those with an interest in current developments in the areas reviewed Elizabeth Bastida is the Rio Tinto Research Fellow and the Director of the Mineral Law and Policy Programme at the Centre for Energy Petroleum Mineral Law and Policy at the University of Dundee CEPMLP Dundee Thomas W lde is the Professor of International Economic Natural Resources and Energy Law and was until 2001 the Executive Director of CEPMLP Dundee He currently runs TWA his private consultancy firm which provides advisory services in natural resources and energy law regulatory reform investment promotion state enterprise agency appraisal and restructuring privatisation contract assessment negotiation and dispute management Janeth Warden Fern ndez is a Research and Teaching Fellow an advisor of the Mineral Law and Policy Programme and the Manager of the Distance Learning Programme at CEPMLP Dundee

Mining in Africa Bonnie Campbell, 2009-06-15 The continent of Africa is rich in minerals needed by Western economies but rather than forming the basis for economic growth the mining industry contributes very little to African development Investigating the impact of the 2003 Extractive Industries Review on a number of African countries the contributors find the root of the problem in the controls imposed on the African countries by the IMF and World Bank They aim to convince academics governments and industry that regulation needs to be reformed to create a mining industry favourable towards social economic and environmental development The book takes a multidisciplinary approach and provides a historical perspective of each country making it ideal for students of development studies and development organizations

the most important minerals of the last one hundred years To some it brought economic and political advantage but for many others its development left a legacy of exploitation Aluminum Ore explores the history of bauxite in the twentieth century and the global forces that this history represents from its strategic development in the First World War to its role in the globalization of markets as companies from the northern hemisphere vied for the resources of the south Featuring essays by scholars from around the world this wide ranging collection is a history of one essential mineral and a new perspective on a time of change

History of the Workplace Lars Bluma, Judith Rainhorn, 2016-04-14 Interest in the history of the workplace is on the rise Recent work in this area has combined traditional methods and theories of social history with new approaches and new questions It constitutes a topical contact zone a particularly dynamic field of research at the junction of social history history of occupational health and safety history of technology and the industrial environment This book focuses on the new approaches in this important and growing area and their possible range of influence These new attempts to rewrite a history of the workplace are multiple and in some cases disparate but share many key characteristics They are turning away from the assumption that class and class conflict is the prime mover in social history abandoning the traditional binomial workers vs entrepreneurs perspective which had long sustained the historical perspective on labour Moreover as this collections outlines these new attempts concentrate on the analysis of complex social networks of actors that defined and configured industrial workplaces suggesting a broadening of possible social actors This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Review of History

Governance Ecosystems J. Sagebien, N. Lindsay, 2011-10-12 The authors explore the complex dynamics of mining and Corporate Social Responsibility CSR in Latin America including a reflection on the African continent presenting arguments and case studies based on new research on a set of urgent and emerging questions surrounding mining development and sustainability

Modes of Governance and Revenue Flows in African Mining B. Campbell, 2013-11-21 Academics policy makers and practitioners from Africa and beyond document new ways of thinking about issues concerning governance and revenue flows in mining activities in Ghana Mali and the Democratic Republic of the Congo

Metals & Minerals Annual Review, 1998

Green Industrial Restructuring Manfred Binder, Martin Jänicke, Ulrich Petschow, 2013-03-09 Starting from this dematerialization hypothesis for the first time comparative case studies analyse in detail the driving forces of industrial restructuring of different industries and countries in Europe where such a decline has been observed at least temporarily      President Clinton's Proposals for Public Investment and Deficit Reduction United States. Congress. House. Committee on Ways and Means,1993      Industrialization in Developing and Peripheral Regions F. E. Ian Hamilton,2017-09-05 The ten years before this book was originally published in 1986 saw major restructuring in the economies of the developed world This was often closely related to industrial development in newly industrializing and third world countries This book examines the performance of these developing countries and includes studies of peripheral regions less developed regions within more advanced economies The overall findings are that whilst some areas and countries have success stories to tell such as Korea many so called newly industrializing countries and regions have had serious problems

Minerals Yearbook Geological Survey,Interior Department,Mines Bureau,2019-02-15 This volume covering metals and minerals contains chapters on approximately 90 commodities In addition this volume has chapters on mining and quarrying trends and on statistical surveying methods used by Minerals Information plus a statistical summary      Minerals Yearbook ,2010      Administration's Energy Tax Proposals United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Finance,1993

Resurgent Resource Nationalism Mapungubwe Institute for Strategic Reflection (MISTRA),2016-02-15 The period between 2001 and 2008 saw the longest commodities boom in recent history Resource rich countries across the world developed more interest in the profits control and ownership of their natural resources South Africa which did not benefit much from the boom in commodity prices was nonetheless affected by the emergent resource nationalism trend and it became the focus of the governing party s 2010 National General Council which ultimately resulted in the constitution of a committee to review the country s policy and legislative framework regarding natural wealth beneath the soil Although the resurgence of resource nationalism is a recent phenomenon the idea of state intervention in the economy and the extractive sector in particular is not new Resurgent Resource Nationalism is a qualitative study undertaken by MISTRA for SASOL Ltd that looks at the resurgence of resource nationalism over the past ten years It discusses the concept of resource nationalism and its manifestation in public policy It identifies the concerns drivers and instruments through which resource nationalism is pursued by various mining jurisdictions across regions It deliberately focuses more on the hydrocarbons sector in order to suit the target audience The aim is to observe macro trends emerging in various regions of the world and explore how best private actors can respond to the various forms of resource nationalism
