Remaking Liberalism Barry Glen

Ferguson,1993 Ferguson considers the thinking of four major Canadian political economists who developed their ideas while building the discipline of political economy at Queen s University He demonstrates that the four clearly argued on behalf of the new liberalism emphasizing individual rights and positive government and suggests that their ideas reveal an intellectual position which differed from the imperialist and continentalist alternatives that dominated Canadian thinking at the time

History, Literature and the Writing of the Canadian Prairies

Alison Calder,Robert Wardhaugh,2005-05-16 The Canadian Prairie has long been represented as a timeless and unchanging location defined by settlement and landscape Now a new generation of writers and historians challenge that perception and argue instead that it is a region with an evolving culture and history In a collection of ten essays History Literature and the Writing of the Canadian Prairies explores a more contemporary prairie identity and reconfigures the prairie as a construct that is non linear and diverse responding to the impact of geographical historical and political currents These writers explore the connections between document and imagination between history and culture and between geography and time The subjects of the essays range widely the non linear structure of Carol Shield s The Stone Diaries the impact of Aberhart s Social Credit Marshall McLuhan and Mesopotamian myth on Robert Kroetsch s prairie postmodernism the role of document in long prairie poems the connection between cultural tourism and heritage the theme of regeneration in Margaret Laurence s Manawaka writing the influence of imagination on geography in Thomas Wharton s Icefields and the effects on an alpine climber of pre WWII ideological concepts of time and individualism

Continentalizing Canada Gregory J. Inwood,2005-01-01

Free trade has been a highly contentious issue since the Conservative government of Brian Mulroney negotiated the first deal with the United States in the 1980s Tracing the roots of Canada s contemporary involvement in North American free trade back to the Royal Commission on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada in 1985 also known as the Macdonald Commission Gregory J Inwood offers a critical examination of the commission and how its findings affected Canada s political and economic landscape including its present day reverberations Using original research including content analysis interviews archival information and surveys of relevant literature Inwood argues that the Macdonald Commission created an atmosphere and political discourse that made the continentalization of Canada possible by way of free trade agreements with the U S and Mexico Through the use of a suspect research program and with the aid of a select oligarchy within the Commission and the government bureaucracy opposition to continentalism from both the majority of the Canadian population and even several commissioners was ignored Accessible to readers interested in Canadian politics policy or economy Continentalizing Canada offers a thorough examination into the Macdonald Commission and the resulting discourse in the Canadian political economy Community Forestry in Canada Sara Teitelbaum,2016-07-28 In recent decades community forestry has taken root across Canada Locally run initiatives are lauded as welcome alternatives to large corporate and industrial logging practices yet little research has been done to document their tangible outcomes or draw connections between their ideals of local control community benefit ecological stewardship and economic diversification and the realities of community forestry practice This book brings together the work of over twenty five researchers to provide the first comparative and empirically rich portrait of community forestry policy and practice in Canada Tackling all of the forestry regions from Newfoundland to British Columbia it unearths the history of community forestry revealing surprising regional differences linked to patterns of policy making and cultural traditions Case studies celebrate innovative practices in governance and ecological management while uncovering challenges related to government support and market access The future of the sector is also considered including the role of institutional reform multiscale networks and adaptive management strategies Canadian Practitioner ,1903 Constitutional Politics in Canada and the United States Stephen L. Newman,2012-02-01 The Canadian constitutional reforms of 1982 which included a Charter of Rights and Freedoms analogous to the American Bill of Rights brought about a convergence with American constitutional law As in the U S Canadian courts have shown themselves highly protective of individual rights and they have not been shy about assuming a leading and sometimes controversial political role in striking down legislation In clear and easy to understand language the contributors not only chart but also explore the reasons for areas of similarity and difference in the constitutional politics of Canada and the United States Debates of the Senate of the Dominion of Canada of 1867/68-1949 Canada. Parliament. Senate,1894 Resources in Education ,1998 A History of Canada Sir Charles G. D. Roberts,1897 A History of Canada Francis Murphy,1897 Canadian Journal of Medicine and Surgery ,1903 Past Futures Ged Martin,2004-12-15 By nature human beings seek to make sense of their past Paradoxically true historical explanation is ultimately impossible Historians never have complete evidence from the past nor is their methodology rigorous enough to prove causal links Although it cannot be proven that A caused B by redefining the agenda of historical discourse scholars can locate events in time and place history once again at the heart of intellectual activity In Past Futures Ged Martin advocates examining the decisions that people take most of which are not the result of a process but are reached intuitively Subsequent rationalizations that constitute historical evidence simply mislead All historians can do is to locate them in time to explain not why a decision was taken but why then To illustrate Martin asks a number of questions What is a long time in history Are we close to the past or remote from it Is democracy a recent experiment or proof of our arrival at the end of a journey through time Can we engage in a historical dialogue with the past without making clear our own ethical standpoints Although explanation is ultimately impossible humankind can make sense of its location in time through the concept of significance a device for highlighting events and aspects of the past In so doing Martin suggests a radical new approach to historical discourse

Aboriginal Self-government in Canada Yale Deron Belanger,2008 Building on the success of the first two editions this volume briefly recaps the historical development and public acceptance of the concept of Aboriginal self government then proceeds to examine its theoretical underpinnings the state of Aboriginal self government in Canada today and the many practical issues surrounding implementation Topics addressed include justice innovations initiatives in health and education to grant greater Aboriginal control financing and intergovernmental relations Aboriginal municipal government relations developing effective Aboriginal leadership M tis self government aspirations the intersection of women s rights and self government and international perspectives Various self government arrangements already in existence are examined including the establishment of Nunavut the James Bay Agreement Treaty Land Entitlement settlements the Alberta M tis settlements and many other land claims settlements that have granted Aboriginal communities greater control over their affairs Pub website

Transitioning From Globalized to Localized and Self-Reliant Economies Gupta, Ruchika,Srivastava, Priyank,Ranjan, Shiv,Badar, M. Affan,2021-12-17 The outbreak of COVID 19 had a profound impact on global economic growth Global trade has transformed drastically and will only continue to do so as countries vote on export and import decisions based on global competition Many countries would be compelled to reconsider multi country trade deals as internal interests will push and dictate them More important than ever it is imperative that self reliant economies be investigated specifically in the post COVID 19 era in order to understand the impacts made on international ties and trade agreements Transitioning From Globalized to Localized and Self Reliant Economies is a comprehensive reference source that looks at how economies are now moving towards becoming self reliant especially in the wake of the COVID 19 pandemic Covering topics such as digitalization technological innovation and personal finance this is a beneficial resource for economists executives managers government officials policymakers entrepreneurs IT departments human resource managers CEOs students researchers and academicians
