Reading in a Second Language William Grabe, Junko Yamashita, 2022-09-08 This updated second edition provides a comprehensive overview of research into reading and how this can be applied in practice Problem Solving S. Ian Robertson, 2003-09-02 Problem solving is an integral part of everyday life yet few books are dedicated to this important aspect of human cognition In each case the problem such as solving a crossword or writing an essay has a goal In this comprehensive and timely textbook the author discusses the psychological processes underlying such goal directed problem solving and examines both how we learn from experience of problem solving and how our learning transfers or often fails to transfer from one situation to another Following initial coverage of the methods we use to solve unfamiliar problems the book goes on to examine the psychological processes involved in novice problem solving before progressing to the methods and processes used by skilled problem solvers or experts Topics covered include how we generate a useful representation of a problem as a starting point general problem solving strategies we use in unfamiliar situations possible processes involved in insight or lateral thinking the nature of problem similarity and the role of analogies in problem solving understanding and learning from textbooks and how we develop expertise through the learning of specific problem solving skills Clear up to date and accessible Problem Solving will be of interest to undergraduates and postgraduates in cognitive psychology cognitive science and educational psychology The focus on the practical transfer of learning through problem solving will also make it of relevance to educationalists and business psychologists Basic Processes in Reading Derek Besner, Glyn W.

Humphreys, 2012-11-12 The chapters in this new book span the range of reading processes from early visual analysis to semantic influences on word identification thus providing a state of the art summary of current work and offering important contributions to prospective reading research Basic Processes in Reading examines both future plans and past accomplishments in the world of word identification research Three chapters provide a futuristic view taking a parallel distributed processing approach to semantic priming phonology and the identification of old words and the learning of new words Reviews on eye movements in reading and semantic priming on word identification provide a retrospective summary of work on these issues as well as solid pointers for future investigations Other chapters provide new demonstrations of the importance of phonological contributions to word identification of interactive processes in the identification of handwritten words and a re evaluation of the processes involved in the neuropsychological syndrome described as letter by letter reading

The Routledge Companion to Linguistics in India Hemalatha Nagarajan, 2022-10-20 This companion offers a unique introductory study of linguistics in India Well supplemented with sample problems and linguistic puzzles to bolster analytical skills and logical reasoning it promotes a unique inquiry based approach to learning linguistics The volume looks at all the major subdisciplines of linguistics including phonetics phonology morphology semantics syntax and the interdisciplinary domains of psycholinguistics and neurolinguistics It provides a wealth of data not only from many Indian languages belonging to the primary language families present in the country Indo Aryan Dravidian Austro Asiatic and Tibeto Burman but also from the endangered languages of the Tai Kadai family of Assam and the Greater Andamanese family The author gives a holistic view of the linguistic landscape of India and fills a significant gap in the study of the lesser known languages of South Asia This volume will be an excellent resource for students and researchers of Indian languages cultural studies South Asian studies and all branches of linguistics

Recent Trends in Meaning-text Theory Leo Wanner, 1997-01-01 The present volume contains articles of well known representatives of the Meaning Text Theory MTT and other related linguistic theories Founded by I Mel'cuk and A Zholkovsky in the sixties in Moscow MTT soon became known in the West as a prominent outsider theory The picture changed since then though MTT gained importance in several areas of linguistics and computational linguistics It influenced the design of new grammar formalisms such as Dependency Tree Grammars Also specific parts of MTT have been directly overtaken into other theories consider for example the work on integrating Lexical

Functions into Pustejovsky's Generative Lexicon The present volume is a further convincing demonstration of MTT's liveliness and relevance to the field's burning issues The focus of the volume is on semantics semantic representation and relation of semantics to surface in MTT Six out of eight articles Polguère Escalier Paducheva St Germain Beck Bogulavsky deal with problems related to these topics while the last two articles of the volume Sgall and Rambow Joshi throw a bridge between MTT or more precisely between dependency based theories of which MTT is one instantiation and other linguistic theories
