Woodford, 2012-06-14 In the substance abuse and addiction treatment realm males outnumber females two to one While gender issues are seen as a key element of women s treatment the acknowledgement that males are gendered beings who have lived lives full of male specific developmental challenges is often overlooked This text takes a developmental lifespan approach to examine the neurobiological and psychosocial factors associated with substance use disorders for males specifically in relation to emotional growth and awareness and how these areas in turn affect the development of healthy relationships Theoretical concepts from the field of interpersonal neurobiology the psychology of boys and men and the substance abuse and addiction literature are interwoven with practical clinical examples to help elucidate how the notion of fostering emotional development can strengthen the treatment and recovery processes with boys and men Relevant case examples are included that illustrate work with males of all ages and address a variety of factors associated with culture ethnicity race religion and sexual orientation Mental health practitioners will find this a valuable guide to understanding male development in relation to substance use and abuse and providing more comprehensive gender responsive counseling and assessment practices The Traditions of Men. A Discourse [on Matt. Xv. 6], Etc Judson A. ROOT, 1833 The RISE, the FALL and the RECOVERY of the USA Elias C. Hill, 2009-06-01 There is no available information at this time The Rapture: Biblical Fact or Man's Tradition Dena Stevens Th.D., 2014-06-24 In The Rapture Biblical Fact or Man s Tradition author Dr Dena Stevens considers a subject called rapture pertaining to the end times and embraced by many to determine if it is actually taught in the Bible or if it is only a tradition of men The consequences of accepting or rejecting this doctrine are of such importance to the eternal spiritual destiny of man that it is deserving of very close examination Stevens goes back to the account at the beginning in Genesis examining scriptural descriptions of God's divine plan for the world from both the Old and New Testaments as well as His reasons for placing man on the earth in flesh bodies She then takes an in depth look into some of the areas that God's people have not understood and serves to clarify some questions we have often pondered but for which we have found no real answers Stevens examines future prophetic events of the end times and man's role in them in order to answer the question of her study is the rapture a doctrine taught in the Bible or is it only a tradition that man has devised for his own comfort and salvation

Man Enough Victor J Jeleniewski

Seidler, 1997-09-15 In this book one of the leading contributors to the growing debate about men masculinities and sexual politics Victor J Seidler criticizes the Enlightenment coupling of white heterosexual masculinity with reason He argues that in modern society masculinity can never be taken for granted Men must always prove that they are man enough to cope in the correct way with the problems and challenges of everyday life Seidler believes that men have to break this chain of obligations to the Enlightenment notion of masculinity Through engaging with men's diverse relationships with their bodies sexualities emotional lives feelings and desires Seidler explores ways of affirming masculinities while critically engaging with the power that men have in the wider society The book is also a contribution to antisexist politics Seidler is interested in taking on those forms of men's politics which find it difficult to engage with men's power and society and also those who take it for granted that male power is normal and natural He seeks to recognize both the power that white heterosexual masculinities have in shaping forms of philosophy and social theory while at the same time recognizing that masculinity cannot be simply defined as a relationship of power

Reclaiming the Canon Herman L. Sinaiko, 1998-03-30 Herman Sinaiko is renowned for his gifts as a guide to exploring and appreciating the humanities This book brings to general readers Sinaiko s thoughts on and invitations to read or reread a wide selection of major literary and philosophical works from ancient Greek to Chinese to modern Taking a conversational approach he deals with the perennial questions that thinking people have always raised and investigates how works of great art may provide answers to these questions Sinaiko reestablishes the notion that there is a canon of great works from the great traditions of the world and argues for the existence of permanent standards of excellence He rejects most contemporary critical views of classical literature and philosophy including those of experts who seek to monopolize access to great works academics whose extreme emphasis on historical context disallows any current relevance and theorists whose lenses distort with personal bias rather than sharpening focus on the works they discuss Sinaiko reclaims the canon for all of us opening up discussion on texts ranging from Plato to Tolstoy Confucius to Mary Shelley and encouraging each reader to listen and respond to the rich diversity of powerful views on the human condition that such great works offer
