Man Who Walked Between The Towers:

The Man Who Walked Between the Towers Mordicai Gerstein, 2003-09-05 A lyrical evocation of Philippe Petit's 1974 tightrope walk between the World Trade Center towers a quarter of a mile in the sky The Man who Walked Between the Towers Mordicai Gerstein, 2004 A lyrical evocation of Philippe Petit's 1974 tightrope walk between the World Trade Center towers Man Who Walked Between the Towers Mordicai Gerstein, 2007 A lyrical evocation of Philippe Petit's 1974 tightrope walk between the World Trade Center towers To Reach the Clouds Philippe Petit, 2002-09-04 An artist of the air re-creates his six-year plot to pull off an act of incomparable beauty and imagination. One late summer day a feat of unimaginable audacity was perpetrated on the twin towers of the World Trade Center. The year was 1974. A hundred thousand people gathered on the ground to watch in awe as twenty-four-year-old high-wire artist Philippe Petit made eight crossings between the all-but-completed towers a quarter-mile above the earth over the course of nearly an hour. Petit's achievement made headlines around the world. Yet few who saw or heard about it realized that it was the fulfillment of a dream he had nurtured for six years, rekindling it each time it was in danger of expiring. His accomplices were a motley crew of foreigners and Americans who under Petit's direction had conspired, connived, labored, argued, rehearsed, and improvised to make possible an act of unsurpassed aerial artistry. In this visually and verbally stunning book, Petit tells for the first time the dramatic story of this history-making walk from conception and clandestine planning to the performance and its aftermath. The account draws on Petit's journals which capture everything from his budgets to his strategies for rigging a high wire in the dead of night between two of the most secure towers in the world. It is animated by photographs taken by two of Petit's collaborators and by his own wonderfully evocative sketches and unquenchable humor The Man Who Walked Between the Towers Mordicai Gerstein, 2007-04-17 A lyrical evocation of Philippe Petit's 1974 tightrope walk between the World Trade Center towers The Joy of Children's Literature Denise Johnson, 2023-12-18 This book provides in-depth coverage of children's literature with integrated reading methods in a concise, accessible format. Johnson emphasizes that reading, writing, discussing, and finding pleasure in children's books are essential tools in being able to recognize and recommend literature and being able to share the joy of children's literature with children themselves. This fully updated third edition includes up-to-date research, new book titles within each chapter, a greater focus on diversity and inclusion, and new sections on Activities for Professional Development and Print and Online Resources Post-9/11 Historical Fiction and Alternate History Fiction Pei-chen Liao, 2020-09-19 Drawing on theories of historiography, memory, and diaspora as well as from existing genre studies, this book explores why contemporary writers are so fascinated with history. Pei-chen Liao considers how fiction contributes to the making and remaking of the transnational history of the U.S. by thinking beyond and before 9/11, investigating how the dynamics of memory as well as the emergent present influences readers' reception of historical fiction and alternate history fiction and their interpretation of the past. Set against the historical backdrop of WWII, the Vietnam War, and the War on Terror the novels under discussion tell Jewish Japanese white American African Muslim and Native Americans stories of trauma and survival As a means to transmit memories of past events these novels demonstrate how multidirectional memory can be not only collective but connective as exemplified by the echoes that post 9 11 readers hear between different histories of violence that the novels chronicle as well as between the past and the present

Children's Fiction about 9/11 Jo Lampert, 2009-09-10 Looking at examples including picture books young adult novels and DC Comics Lampert explores ethnic national and heroic identities in this pioneering and timely book that examines the ways in which cultural identities are constructed within young adult and children's literature about the attacks of September 11 2001

Second-Generation Memory and Contemporary Children's Literature Anastasia Ulanowicz, 2013-09-02 Winner of the Children's Literature Association Book Award This book visits a range of textual forms including diary novel and picturebook to explore the relationship between second generation memory and contemporary children's literature Ulanowicz argues that second generation memory informed by intimate family relationships textual mediation and technology is characterized by vicarious rather than direct experience of the past As such children's literature is particularly well suited to the representation of second generation memory insofar as children's fiction is particularly invested in the transmission and reproduction of cultural memory and its form promotes the formation of various complex intergenerational relationships Further children's books that depict second generation memory have the potential to challenge conventional Western notions of selfhood and ethics This study shows how novels such as Lois Lowry's The Giver 1993 and Judy Blume's Starring Sally J. Freedman as Herself 1977 both of which feature protagonists who adapt their elders' memories into their own mnemonic repertoires implicitly reject Cartesian notions of the unified subject in favor of a view of identity as always already social relational and dynamic in character This book not only questions how and why second generation memory is represented in books for young people but whether such representations of memory might be considered radical or conservative Together these analyses address a topic that has not been explored fully within the fields of children's literature trauma and memory studies and Holocaust studies
