Underground Man Gabriel Tarde,H. G. Wells,2016-09-14 The Underground Man is a science fiction novel introduced by H G Wells After mankind has undergone a radical social evolution in regards to group cooperation and herd behaviour the sun unexpectedly dies forcing the survivors underground They take with them the greatest works of art and literature only to one day emerge and create a Utopia on earth s surface Herbert George Wells 1866 1946 was a prolific English writer who wrote in a variety of genres including the novel politics history and social commentary Today he is perhaps best remembered for his contributions to the science fiction genre thanks to such novels as The Time Machine 1895 The Invisible Man 1897 and The War of the Worlds 1898 The Father of Science Fiction was also a staunch socialist and his later works are increasingly political and didactic Many vintage books such as this are becoming increasingly scarce and expensive We are republishing this book now in an affordable modern high quality edition complete with a specially commissioned new biography of the author Hitler's Man in Havana Thomas Schoonover,2008-09-12 When Heinz L ning posed as a Jewish refugee to spy for Hitler s Abwehr espionage agency he thought he had discovered the perfect solution to his most pressing problem how to avoid being drafted into Hitler s army L ning was unsympathetic to Fascist ideology but the Nazis tight control over exit visas gave him no chance to escape Germany He could enter Hitler s army either as a soldier or a spy In 1941 he entered the Abwehr academy for spy training and was given the code name Lumann Soon after L ning began the service in Cuba that led to his ultimate fate of being the only German spy executed in Latin America during World War II L ning was not the only spy operating in Cuba at the time Various Allied spies labored in Havana the FBI controlled eighteen Special Intelligence Service operatives and the British counterintelligence section subchief Graham Greene supervised Secret Intelligence Service agents and Ernest Hemingway s private agents supplied inflated and inaccurate information about submarines and spies to the U S ambassador Spruille Braden L ning stumbled into this milieu of heightened suspicion and intrigue Poorly trained and awkward at his work he gathered little information worth reporting was unable to build a working radio and improperly mixed the formulas for his secret inks L ning eventually was discovered by British postal censors and unwittingly provided the inspiration for Graham Greene s Our Man in Havana In chronicling L ning s unlikely trajectory from a troubled life in

Germany to a Caribbean firing squad Thomas D Schoonover makes brilliant use of untapped documentary sources to reveal the workings of the famed Abwehr and the technical and social aspects of L ning s spycraft Using archival sources from three continents Schoonover offers a narrative rich in atmospheric details to reveal the political upheavals of the time not only tracking L ning s activities but also explaining the broader trends in the region and in local counterespionage Schoonover argues that ambitious Cuban and U S officials turned L ning s capture into a grand victory For at least five months after L ning s arrest U S and Cuban leaders J Edgar Hoover Fulgencio Batista Nelson Rockefeller General Manuel Ben tez Ambassador Spruille Braden and others treated L ning as a dangerous key figure for a Nazi espionage network in the Gulf Caribbean They reworked his image from low level bumbler to master spy using his capture for their own political gain In the sixty years since L ning s execution very little has been written about Nazi espionage in Latin America partly due to the reticence of the U S government Revealing these new historical sources for the first time Schoonover tells a gripping story of L ning s life and capture suggesting that L ning was everyone s man in Havana but his own

The Man Who Stopped the Trains to Auschwitz David Kranzler,2000-10-01 George Mantello First Secretary of the El Salvador Consulate in Geneva from 1942 to 1945 defied strict censorship to launch a press campaign against the daily deportation of 12 000 Hungarian Jews to Auschwitz This is the true story of one man s efforts to bring horrific news of the Nazi genocide to the Swiss public and to the rest of the world Armed with this information prominent Swiss church leaders and theologians condemned the unfolding Holocaust from their pulpits spurring large public demonstrations In 400 articles appearing in 120 newspapers Mantello reached opinion makers throughout the world community International pressure halted the Hungarian deportations and Mantello distributed thousands of Salvadoran citizenship papers to Jews in Nazi occupied territories In addition to Mantello s role Kranzler shows how Swiss theologians such as karl barth and paul Vogt mobilized thousands of Christians against the Germans and against the indifference of the Swiss government and the International Red Cross This fresh look at the intersection of politics and religion also allows for a new assessment of Swiss complicity in the crimes of the Nazi Third Reich
