With patients surviving longer due to medical advances dentists are increasingly faced with complex conditions and possibly some that they have not previously encountered. Here treatment advice, drug interactions and the impact of general medical and surgical conditions on treatment planning in the dental context are all covered with a comprehensive but practical approach. In addition to chapters on the implications for dental practice of disorders of each of the different body systems and immunological and infectious diseases important aspects in particular patient groups including cancer patients, the elderly and the paediatric population are identified.
