Ginter, 2013-03-05 A structured strategic management approach is what's needed to tackle the revolutionary change the health care system has been experiencing. Today health care organizations have almost universally embraced the strategic perspective first developed in the business sector and now have developed strategic management processes that are uniquely their own. Health care leaders have found that strategic thinking, planning, and managing strategic momentum are essential for coping with the dynamics of the health care industry. Strategic Management has become the single clearest manifestation of effective leadership of health care organizations. The 7th edition of this leading text has been revised and updated to include a greater focus on the global analysis of industry and competition and analysis of the internal environment. It provides guidance on strategic planning, analysis of the health services environment, both internal and external, and lessons on implementation. It also looks at organizational capability, sustainability, CSR, and the sources of organizational inertia and competency traps.

Achieving Organizational Excellence Flevy Lasrado, 2018-05-01. This book bridges two essential aspects of assessing and achieving business excellence in 21st century organizations. The author argues that transnational companies face a twofold challenge: managing global knowledge networks and multicultural project teams on the one hand, and interacting and collaborating across boundaries using global communication technologies on the other. The author also argues that this dual challenge calls for the creation of a business excellence program that fits and thrives within these multicultural environments. In response, he reviews corporate practices in quality management and business excellence frameworks that have been extensively used on a transnational scale to drive organizational performance. The book approaches quality management as an element that is no longer a choice but has now become a necessity if companies want to compete in highly globalized environments.
