Accounting Ethics Yi-Hui Ho, 2007 Educational Games for Soft-Skills Training in Digital Environments Elena Dell'Aquila, Davide Marocco, Michela Ponticorvo, Andrea Di Ferdinando, Massimiliano Schembri, Orazio Miglino, 2016-12-14.

The book explores advances in soft skill training through the adaptation of traditional psycho pedagogical methodology to digital and online settings. Several educational techniques are explored such as role playing psychodrama and rule and drama based games. The experiences reported in the book are the synthesis of several European projects coordinated by the authors aimed at applying known psycho pedagogical training models to on line technology enhanced learning contexts in a broad range of applications and target groups. The specificity of such a psycho pedagogical methodology applied throughout all the discussed EU projects is mainly represented by the importance of feedback and debriefing processes that can be conveyed to learners through different means such as online group or individual chat with tutors automatic reports and a psychologically informed scoring system Tutors either real or artificial are seen as the key factor facilitating the training process The ultimate objective of this book is to offer a theoretical framework where real examples direct experiences and possible indications on how rule and drama based multiplayer and single player games can support traditional practice for enhancing soft skills to a wide community of trainers coaches HR advisors consultants and psychologists A Human Error

Approach to Aviation Accident Analysis Douglas A. Wiegmann, Scott A. Shappell, 2017-12-22 Human error is implicated in nearly all aviation accidents yet most investigation and prevention programs are not designed around any theoretical framework of human error Appropriate for all levels of expertise the book provides the knowledge and tools required to conduct a human error analysis of accidents regardless of operational setting i e military commercial or general aviation The book contains a complete description of the Human Factors Analysis and Classification System HFACS which incorporates James Reason's model of latent and active failures as a foundation Widely disseminated among military and civilian organizations HFACS encompasses all aspects of human error including the conditions of operators and elements of supervisory and organizational failure It attracts a very broad readership Specifically the book serves as the main textbook for a course in aviation accident investigation taught by one of the authors at the University of Illinois This book will also be used in courses designed for military safety officers and flight surgeons in the U S Navy Army and the Canadian Defense Force who currently utilize the HFACS system during aviation accident investigations Additionally the book has been incorporated into the popular workshop on accident analysis and prevention provided by the authors at several professional conferences world wide The book is also targeted for students attending Embry Riddle Aeronautical University which has satellite campuses throughout the world and offers a course in human factors accident investigation for many of its majors In addition the book will be incorporated into courses offered by Transportation Safety International and the Southern California Safety Institute Finally this book serves as an excellent reference guide for many safety professionals and investigators already in the field
