Susan Buckingham-Hatfield, Susan Percy, 2005-06-23 Constructing Local Environmental Agendas draws on original contributions from specialists worldwide to argue that there is scope for local areas to improve their environments provided local people are involved International case studies from UK Europe Australia Pakistan and Sri Lanka demonstrate the importance of respect for indigenous knowledge and the need to remove layers of bureaucracy from policy making

Will I Make a Difference? Nancy Eidsvik, 2011-11-09 Author Nancy Eidsvik MA was the first woman ever elected to serve as the president of her local Rotary Club and she undertook this community based action research study to examine how the Rotary Club of Prince Rupert could best expand its volunteer service to the community Her research originally appearing in her masters thesis provided members of the Rotary Club and the community with the opportunity to share their impressions and experiences of the Rotary Club. It offered an avenue for participation in establishing recommendations to strengthen the Rotary Clubs presence in the community. She relied on a broad range of research methods including focus groups, world caf, interviews and surveys. Ethical considerations included confidentiality, free and informed consent, minimizing harm and maximizing benefits. She shares her recommendations to expand public awareness of the Rotary Club, establish a strategic plan to address organizational effectiveness and encourage key planning to identify opportunities for volunteer services. These recommendations can be used by other Rotary Clubs and service organizations to assist them evaluate and strategize how to best expand their volunteer services to their communities.
