Peace Or War:

Thinking about Peace and War Martin Ceadel,1987 In the first book to offer a coherent intellectual framework for the study of proposals for the prevention of war Ceadel disentangles three strategic dimensions of the nuclear issue the global balance between the U S and Russia the European crisis and the British position and analyzes the cases for and against nuclear deterrence

Does Peace Lead to War? Matthew Hughes,Matthew S. Seligmann,2002 Drawing on a series of pertinent case studies the authors provide a comprehensive and cohesive study that answers the question of why peace has so often failed in the modern era

Why War? Nicholas Murray Butler,1940 Appeals to public opinion made during the years 1938 and 1939 on either side of the Atlantic Their object is two fold first to convince leaders of public opinion that the only sure way to prevent war is for the nations of the world to unite to remove the causes of war and second that violent hostilities having broken out the minds of men must now be turned to such post war settlement of those differences which have brought about hostilities as will pave the way to an orderly and peaceful world Introd

The New Art of War Geoffrey F. Weiss,2021-09-02 Many of war s lethal failures are attributable to ignorance caused by a dearth of contemporary accessible theory to inform warfighting strategy and policy To remedy this problem Colonel Geoffrey F Weiss offers an ambitious new survey of war s nature character and future in the tradition of Sun Tzu and Clausewitz He begins by melding philosophical and military concepts to reveal war s origins and to analyze war theory s foundational ideas Then leveraging science philosophy and the wisdom of war s master theorists Colonel Weiss presents a genuinely original framework and lexicon that characterizes and clarifies the relationships between humanity politics strategy and combat explains how and why war changes form offers a methodology for forecasting future war and ponders the permanence of war as a human activity The New Art of War is an indispensable guide for understanding human conflict that will change how we think and communicate about war

Women and Peace in the Islamic World Yasmin Saikia,Chad Haines,2015-01-20 How realistic is the prospect of peace in the Muslim world This question is the predominant focus for global analysis today but its debate frequently ignores the cultural and social complexity of the Muslim world reducing it into a system of states and select actors

This book addresses such a failing by exploring how the everyday interactions of women in accordance with Islamic personal ethics can offer the world a new interpretation of peace. In particular, it focuses on the women in Islamic societies from Aceh to Bosnia, Morocco to Bangladesh, initiating a dialogue on the role of these women in peacemaking. This concentration upon the complex issues of the everyday both enables a detailed exploration of how people conceptualise peace and opens up new frameworks for conflict resolution. The discussions that emerge lead to a critical questioning of assumptions about peace as a state policy and cessation of violence. Drawing upon original research from different parts of the Middle East, North Africa and Asia, including Iran, India, Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bosnia, Egypt and Sudan, the contributors offer a refreshing new look at Muslim women as peacemakers, challenging any assumptions of Islam as an inherently violent religion. Such a timely work provides new and important analyses on the role of Muslim women in forging new pathways of peace in the contemporary world.

A Cultural History of Peace in the Modern Age Ronald Edsforth, 2022-02-24. A Cultural History of Peace presents an authoritative survey from ancient times to the present. The set of six volumes covers over 2500 years of history, charting the evolving nature and role of peace throughout history. This volume, A Cultural History of Peace in the Modern Age, explores peace in the period from 1920 to the present. As with all the volumes in the illustrated Cultural History of Peace set, this volume presents essays on the meaning of peace, peace movements, maintaining peace, peace in relation to gender, religion and war, and representations of peace. A Cultural History of Peace in the Modern Age is the most authoritative and comprehensive survey available on peace in the twentieth and twenty-first century.

How to Overcome Death Glen C. Cutlip, 2000-02-28. The overcoming of death is a serious undertaking because death is a part of the nature of one's being and therefore not what it appears to be. When Death is reconciled with life, it becomes a means of interdimensional travel. We realize that it wasn't there in the first place. Therefore, the overcoming of death is to take place within one's present consciousness for death is the counterpart of life in the first place. Therefore, the resurrection unto life is from the death that is hidden in life. It is the dead that appear to be living that are resurrected unto life. Death is something that is a part of one's present consciousness, not something off somewhere in the so-called afterlife. The resurrection of the dead is unto conscious life or immortality or back into the realm of unconscious death for life and death occupy the same space. It is a matter of seeing death as it is, not just as it appears to be. In that death is not what it appears to be, the overcoming of death is not what it appears to be. Therefore, it is a real possibility. It can be realized within one's lifetime. The Overcoming of Death is the means of bringing the realization of conscious immortality to the awareness of one's present consciousness in this lifetime. It reveals why it is that losing life is finding it and how it is that it is the dead that are living that hear the voice of the Son of God and are resurrected from the dead.
