First American stereotype edition Voltaire, 1852 A Philosophical Dictionary Voltaire, Abner Kneeland, 1836 The Mosaic Law Duke F. McGee, 2016-09-22 Too many times we read books articles or papers on Christianity and we are left to wonder where the author is coming from or what his approach is for interpreting scripture So right here at the start I would like to declare my method of interpretation and on which translation of the scripture I rest First I take the Word of God scriptures to be infallible inerrant and without contradiction I believe that God said what he meant and meant what he said and it is our task and responsibility to rightly divide the Word of truth On all matters of life and spirit the scripture is the final authority in saying this the scripture will be the primary source material for the whole of this paper When speaking of the scripture I am referring to the authorized version 1611 I believe this is the preserved Word of God for the English speaking people I realize this is another hotly debated topic and we do not have the time or the space to debate it here as this would be a distraction from the main topic I will say though outside of textual criticisms biblical preservation manuscript evidence dynamic or formal equivalence translation and a host other topics in this debate it all comes down to this who is the final authority We as Christians need to take a stand we need to pick a version or translation that we believe is the Word of God and say Thus saith the Word of God If we do not we set ourselves up as the final authority and not God we dont like how one version says something so we go to another and another until we find one that says what we want or that proves our point This is not being transformed by the Word of God but making the Word of God conform to us and our biases It is a matter of faith
