protagonist a rare thing in popular fiction helping us to feel both compassion and frustration at Theo's choices Celeste Hicks A fast paced powerful and emotional novel deftly crafted and shot through with insight empathy and poetic beauty As worlds collide a gripping story of belonging identity memory culpability and forgiveness unfolds creating a poignant and profound novel for our times Deborah Andrews author of Walking the Lights Powerful thought provoking and at times horrifying yet also a compelling story of friendship against all the odds Nick Brownlee Sex drugs and Irish poetry meets deep Africa in the most unusual of settings This visceral novel's imagery will stay with you for a while Rosie Garthwaite With the same assured touch that we saw in her debut novel Clear N Chonghaile here weaves a vivid moving but never sentimental tale with deft characterisation luminous detail and generous flashes of humour From the very first page I knew I was in good hands Lán Cullinan author of The Living It is undoubtedly a clever novel a novel that explains much while keeping forward momentum Joules Barham Northern Reader Rain falling on everyone suggests that death and misfortune are indiscriminate but it is how we deal with the vagaries of nature and life that gives the individual hope and control over their future Rich Jones Rich Reviews Rain Falls On Everyone was a unique and deeply touching novel that I thoroughly enjoyed Pages and Print This is such an impressive book It was a pleasure to read and can highly recommend it Butterfly in the Sky The Works of Balzac Honoré de Balzac, 1896 WHY Marvin V Blake, 2015-04-08 WHY is an epic story 1838-1863 chronicling the lives of two sisters one white the other black both born in 1847 three days apart on Virginia's wealthy Rosewood Plantation The white sister is the child of Mr and Mrs Henry Billings Master and Mistress of Rosewood one of the richest cotton plantations in the state of Virginia The black girl is the issue of the mating of Henry Billings the Master of the Rosewood Plantation and one of his female black slaves While growing up Integrated Noliwe Rooks, 2025-03-18 A powerful incisive reckoning with the impacts of school desegregation that traces four generations of the author's family to show how the implementation of integration decimated Black school systems and did much of the Black community a disservice On May 17 1954 the landmark case Brown v Board of Education determined that racial segregation in schools was unconstitutional Heralded as a massive victory for civil rights the decision's goal was to give Black children equitable access to educational opportunities and clear a path to a better future Yet in the years following the ruling schools in predominantly Black neighborhoods were shuttered or saw their funding dwindle Black educators were fired en masse and Black children faced discrimination and violence from their white peers as they joined resource rich schools that were ill prepared for the influx of new students Award winning interdisciplinary scholar of education and Black history Noliwe Rooks weaves together sociological data and cultural history to challenge the idea that integration was a boon for Black children She tells the story of her grandparents who were among the thousands of Black teachers fired following the Brown decision her father who was traumatized by his experiences at an almost exclusively white school her own experiences moving from a flourishing racially diverse school to an underserved inner city one and finally her son and his Black peers who over half century after Brown still struggle with hostility and prejudice from white teachers and students alike She also shows how present day discrimination lawsuits directly stem from the mistakes made during integration At once assiduously researched and deeply engaging Integrated tells the story of how education has remained both a tool for community progress and a seemingly inscrutable cultural puzzle Rooks deft hand turns the story of integration s past and future on it s head and shows how we may better understand and support generations of students to come
