the Text Marilyn R. Chandler, 2023-11-15 What is a house And what can architecture tell us about individual psychology national character and aspiration The house holds a central place in American mythology as Marilyn Chandler demonstrates in a series of house tours through American novels beginning with Thoreau's Walden and ending with Toni Morrison's Beloved and Marilynne Robinson's Housekeeping Chandler illuminates the complex analogies between house and psyche house and family house and social environment and house and text She traces a historical path from settlement to unsettledness in American culture and explores all the rituals in between of building decorating inhabiting and abandoning houses She notes the ambivalence between our desire for rootedness and our romanticization of wide open spaces relating these poles to the tension between materialism and spirituality in our national character At a time when housing has become a problem of unprecedented dimensions in America this look at the place of houses and homes in the American imagination reveals some sources of the attitudes assumptions and expectations that underlie the designing and building of the homes we buy sell and dream about This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1991 Department of the Interior and related agencies history of the twentieth century's most successful experiment in mass housing While the work of Frank Lloyd Wright Richard Neutra and their contemporaries frequently influences our ideas about house design at the midcentury most Americans during this period lived in homes built by little known builders who also served as developers of the communities Often dismissed as little boxes made of ticky tacky the tract houses of America's postwar suburbs represent the twentieth century's most successful experiment in mass housing Houses for a New World is the first comprehensive history of this uniquely American form of domestic architecture and urbanism Between 1945 and 1965 more than thirteen million houses most of them in new ranch and split level styles were constructed on large expanses of land outside city centers providing homes for the country's rapidly expanding population Focusing on twelve developments in the suburbs of Boston Philadelphia Chicago and Los Angeles Barbara Miller Lane tells the story of the collaborations between builders and buyers showing how both wanted houses and communities that espoused a modern way of life informal democratic multiethnic and devoted to improving the lives of their children The resulting houses differed dramatically from both the European International Style and older forms of American domestic architecture Based on a decade of original research and accompanied by hundreds of historical images plans and maps this book presents an entirely new interpretation of the American suburb The result is a fascinating history of houses and developments that continue to shape how tens of millions of Americans live Featured housing developments in Houses for a New World Boston area Governor Francis Farms Warwick RI Wethersfield Natick MA Brookfield Brockton MA Chicago area Greenview Estates Arlington Heights IL Elk Grove Village Rolling Meadows Weathersfield at Schaumburg Los Angeles and Orange County area Cinderella Homes Anaheim CA Panorama City Los Angeles Rossmore Los Alamitos CA Philadelphia area Lawrence Park Broomall PA Rose Tree Woods Broomall PA Coyote Morning Lisa Lenard-Cook, 2004 This story of the conflicts between humans and coyotes reminds us to reflect on our relationship with the natural world Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for 1990:

audience both professional and trade In so doing it will explore enthralling territory money class power and influence Illustrated with contemporary drawings and cartoons as well as photos the book will not only be an absorbing read but an enticing and attractive object in itself Processed World ,1985 The Writing on the Wall W. D. Wetherell,2012-10-08 When Vera decides to travel to an old house in the New England countryside for a month long escape from some devastating news about her daughter Cassie she has no idea her life is about to change forever It begins innocently enough peeling the old wallpaper from the walls as a favor to the house s owner What she discovers underneath written in India ink on the very walls of the house by a woman named Beth in 1919 is the beginning of the reader s unsettling crossing into the unknown world underneath the paper The Writing on the Wall is a brilliantly realized journey into the connected lives of three women whose stories span a century linked by the house they all briefly inhabit and by the tragedies they ve had to endure And it s not just their own stories that reveal themselves A brilliant schoolteacher back from the war in the trenches finds the pupils of his dreams A young Vietnam draftee makes a stubbornly quirky separate peace The moody dangerously charismatic leader of a commune becomes the unlikeliest of heroes An ordinary housewife s lonely battle propels her onto the national stage A girl sent to Iraq tries making sense of the chaos and the pain The Writing on the Wall is about stories that can t be told but must be told about secrets that can t be shared but must be shared and the surprising ways people find to confront the truth

Dangerous Men Geoffrey Becker,1995-10-15 Geoffrey Becker s Dangerous Men was selected by Charles Baxter as the winner of the fifteenth annual Drue Heinz Literature Prize His manuscript was selected from nearly three hundred submitted by published writers In these tightly drafted stories Becker creates a wide variety of distinct voices peculiar characters and odd settings with tantalizing emphasis on loneliness loss and the ever present struggle to find one s place in the world It was wrong to think that our presence would linger on though it was to this notion that I realized I d been grasping all along the music student narrator of Dangerous Men says after an evening involving drugs a fight and a car accident the idea that in some way we were etching ourselves onto the air leaving shadows that would remain forever Many of the pieces incorporate music into the storyline Music is a gathering point in his characters misfit lives In Magister Ludi a seventeen year old girl meets up with an older local guitarist whom her younger brother has invited over to their house when their parents are gone and plays him for her own ends She makes Riggy drive right through the center of town hoping that someone will see them one of her friends or one of her parents friends even it doesn t matter She just likes the idea of being spotted in this beat up car alongside someone so disreputable In Erin and Malcom a bass player with an injured hand who still lives with his estranged wife a singer and her pet ferret finds out how out of tune his life really is Something has gone wrong he could see it in the way she looked at him over her morning bowl of cereal and the way she didn t as she peeled herself out of her Lycra pants and leopard shirts at night Yet even when the music seems quiet there are tales of choice and happenstance El Diablo de La Cienega set in New Mexico is about a boy who accepts the challenge of a mysterious figure to a game of basketball for very high stakes indeed Charles Baxter one of America's great story writers calls the story a small masterpiece It has formal perfection like a folktale I thought it was wonderful With leaps from the funny to the sad and the revelatory these amazing stories explore dreams and longing with remarkable insight and imagination These are stories you will not forget

Perspectives on Garden Histories Michel Conan, 1999 Garden history is a discipline of contested purposes Perspectives on Garden Histories contributes to a self-critical examination of this emergent field of study at the same time offering an overview of its main achievements in several domains such as Italian and Mughal gardens and of the new kinds of investigation to which they have led In its early years garden history centered on architectural studies of garden design but in the 1960s the emphasis shifted from garden design to garden meaning The new paradigm considered gardens as complex works of art and demanded an extensive documentation of the historical context as well as of the figurative and discursive sources This approach in its turn was challenged by neo-Marxist scholars who proceeded to view landscape appreciation as an ideological superstructure an outgrowth of agricultural production processes Garden designs and their histories can also be viewed as expressions of ideological conflicts in society Neither gardens nor their history can thus be studied independently of the social cultural and political movements that give prominence to the contested ideologies Gardens can be used to foster some ideologies or reflect a reaction against a social change Comparative research offers another fascinating approach exploring the relations between European landscape concepts and other cultural contexts and discussing issues of cultural dominance and interpretation The emergence of various perspectives has led to the incorporation of further questions into the domain of garden studies which has been moving in new directions and using new methods in search of an adapted theoretical framework This volume offers a striking view of changes taking place in the discipline Departures Jennifer Cornell, 2013-11-27 The stories in this extraordinary collection are set in Northern Ireland specifically Belfast the center for more than thirty years of fighting between Roman Catholic nationalists and Protestants loyal to the British crown Cornell is not preoccupied however with the details of the war Her stories explore the emotional and psychological consequences of the struggle to endure not only violence but loss failure and the inability to believe Vaquita and Other Stories Edith Pearlman, 1996-11-15 Winner of the 1996 Drue Heinz Literature Prize When asked to describe her short stories Edith Pearlman replied that they are stories about people in peculiar circumstances aching to Do The Right Thing She elaborated with the same wit and intimacy that make her stories a delight to read Before I was a writer I was a reader and reading remains a necessary activity occupying several joyous hours of every day I like novels essays and biographies but most of all I like the short story narrative at its most confiding My own work and particularly the stories in Vaquita aims at a similar intimacy between writer and reader My imagined reader wants to know who loves whom who drinks what and mostly who answers to what summons Thank Heavens for Spike Lee Before his movies writers and critics had to natter about moral stances now I can say with a more tripping tongue that my characters are people in peculiar circumstances aching to Do The Right Thing if only they can figure out what The Right Thing is If not they ll at least Do Their Own Right Thing Right And I m drawn to heat sweltering Central American cities a steamy soup kitchen Jerusalem in midsummer the rekindled passion of an old historian the steady fire of terminal pain I like solitaires oddities charlatans and children My characters are secretive in almost every story somebody harbors a hidden love dread regret or the memory of an insult awaiting revenge When I stop writing stories I plan to write letters short and then shorter My mother could put three sentences onto a postcard and make the recipient think he d read a novel I m working towards a similar compression Where Wars Go to Die W. D.

Wetherell,2016-02-02 As the world commemorates the hundredth anniversary of World War I the literary canon of the war has consolidated around the memoirs written in the years after the Armistice by soldier writers who served in the trenches Another kind of Great War literature has been almost entirely ignored the books written and published during the war by the greatest English American French and German writers at work books that show us how the best most influential writers responded to an overpowering human and cultural catastrophe Where Wars Go to Die The Forgotten Literature of World War I explores this little known cache of contemporary writings by the greatest novelists poets playwrights and essayists of the war years examining their interpretations and responses weaving excerpts and quotations from their books into a narrative that focuses on the various ways civilian writers responded to an overwhelming historical reality The authors whose war writings are presented include George Bernard Shaw Henry James Joseph Conrad H G Wells Edith Wharton Maurice Maeterlinck Henri Bergson W E B Du Bois Romain Rolland Thomas Mann Thomas Hardy May Sinclair W B Yeats Ring Lardner Reinhold Niebuhr and dozens more of equal stature Intended for the general reader as much as the specialist Where Wars Go to Die breaks important new ground in the history and literature of World War I Skyhorse Publishing as well as our Arcade imprint are proud to publish a broad range of books for readers interested in history books about World War II the Third Reich Hitler and his henchmen the JFK assassination conspiracies the American Civil War the American Revolution gladiators Vikings ancient Rome medieval times the old West and much more While not every title we publish becomes a New York Times bestseller or a national bestseller we are committed to books on subjects that are sometimes overlooked and to authors whose work might not otherwise find a home
