Jonathan Tonge, 2014-06-05 Choice Outstanding Academic Title for 2015 The term peace process is now widely used to describe attempts to manage and resolve conflict As the nature of conflict has changed so the range of available tools for producing peace has grown Alongside a plethora of political actions there is now a greater international awareness of how peace can be brokered and policed As a result peace processes now extend well beyond the actuality of ceasefires and an absence of war to cover legacy issues of victims truth and reconciliation This book expertly examines the practical application of solutions to conflict The first part analyses various political means of conflict management including consociational power sharing partition federalism and devolution The second explores the extent to which these political formulas have been applied or ignored in a wide range of conflicts including Bosnia Herzegovina Northern Ireland Israel Palestine Lebanon the Basque Region and Sri Lanka Comparative Peace Processes combines optimism with a realist approach to conflict management acknowledging that the propensity of dominant states to engage in political experimentation is conditioned by the state of conflict It will be a valuable resource for anyone interested in general theories of political possibilities in peace processes and the practical deployment of political ideas in conflict zones Ceasefire

Comparing Peace Processes Alpaslan Özerdem, Roger Mac Ginty, 2019-03-18 This book offers a comparative survey of 18 contemporary peace processes conducted by leading international scholars There is no standard model of peace processes and all will vary according to the context type of conflict timing national and global economic climate and factors like natural disasters Therefore making comparisons between peace processes is difficult but it is beneficial indeed imperative and is the principal motivation behind this volume What works in one context may not work in another but it can be modified and adapted to fit another context The book is structured to maximise comparison between processes and the case studies chosen are topical and span the major regions of the world The concluding chapter systematically compares the case studies around 11 variables that cover the conflict context peace process procedures the responsiveness of the peace process to demands and levels of participation and inclusion Each peace process is then given a numeric score according to each of these variables and the book thereby reaches judgements on whether each case can be termed a success or a failure This book will be essential reading for students of peace studies conflict resolution war and conflict studies security studies and IR

Companies in Peace Processes Ulrike Joras, 2015-07-15 The role of private companies in violent conflicts has gained increasingly more attention in recent years Although the private sector is often associated with sustaining conflicts companies are also assumed to be self interested as well as able to support the prevention settlement and transformation of violent conflicts This book explores the role of the private business sector during the civil war and the peace process in Guatemala It examines and analyses the corporate positions during this period aiming to add to a better understanding on the potentials and limits of integrating private business actors in conflict transformation The Effects of Violence on Peace Processes John P. Darby, 2001 As recent events demonstrate violence especially ethnic violence is exceptionally hard to extinguish Cease fires almost never bring a complete end to the killing and formal peace agreements are more often than not undone by men unwilling to forsake the gun As John Darby argues in this original holistic and comparative treatment of the subject even when political violence is ended by a cease fire it reappears in other forms to threaten the evolving peace process Unlike most scholars Darby focuses on peace processes that have involved actors other than the United Nations He analyzes the nature and impact of four interrelated kinds of violence violence by the state violence by militants violence in the community and the emergence of new violence related issues during negotiations For each kind of violence the author draws out the policy implications suggesting how the guardians of the peace process can defeat would be spoilers and change a culture of violence The volume concludes by distilling five propositions on the relationship between violence and peace processes Insightful concise and highly readable the book will engage the scholar inspire the policymaker and inform the student In depth profiles of the five featured cases Northern Ireland South Africa Sri Lanka Israel Palestine and the Basque country provide ample background and enrich understanding Economics of Arms Reduction and the Peace Process W. Isard, C.H. Anderton, 2014-06-28 The subject of peace economics and its ramifications are comprehensively and deeply attacked in this book First of all the book presents a compact survey of significant contributions already made and then it provides a broad theoretical background for examining the subject by evaluating four different approaches those of 1 neoclassical welfare theory 2 Keynesian and modern versions of macroeconomics 3 modern growth theory and 4 political choice theory A number of contributions deal with major questions on issues such as the impact of military cutbacks in the Eastern European economies upon their growth trade between nations arms trade nuclear defense and the benefits and costs of war as highlighted by the recent Gulf War Issues of a more general nature but equally significant are also discussed including the age old negotiations problem of two mature political leaders of major powers in conflict the determinants of military expenditures and the problems of developing countries In the last chapter the findings of the studies reported in the book are summarized and key directions for further research are identified This book is indispensable for any economist or analyst conducting research on peace economics and the peace process or concerned with the impacts of recent arms reduction and conversion by the major powers and the escalation of military expenditures elsewhere Israeli-Palestinian Peace Process Robert L Rothstein, Moshe Ma'oz, Khalil Shikaki, 2004-09-01 A full length assessment of what went wrong with the Oslo peace process a process that began in euphoria and degenerated into disaster The Non-Linearity of Peace Processes Daniela Körppen, Norbert Ropers, Hans J.
