- Clinical judgement considers the client's needs when deciding to take an action or modify an intervention based on the client's response
- To effectively manage client care, a nurse must develop knowledge and skills in several areas, including leadership, management, critical thinking, clinical reasoning, clinical judgement, prioritization, time management, assigning, delegating, supervising, staff education, quality improvement, performance appraisal, peer review, disciplinary action, conflict resolution, and cost-effective care

Underlying Principles

- Clinical judgement is the decision made regarding a course of action based on a critical analysis of data
- Managing client care requires leadership, management skills, and knowledge to effectively coordinate and carry out client care

Nursing Interventions

WHO? WHEN? WHY? HOW?

- Nurses use clinical judgement to:
  1. Analyze data and related evidence
  2. Ascertain the meaning of data and evidence
  3. Apply knowledge to a clinical situation
  4. Determine client outcomes desired and/or achieved as indicated by evidence-based practices
- Safety/risk reduction
  1. Look first for a safety risk
  2. Ask, "what is the risk to the client" and "how significant is the risk compared to other posed risks"
