From the MSS and Notes of a Deceased Relative. The Essays contained in this volume I am editing are almost entirely founded on the MSS and notes of a deceased relative. They are the work of an author of culture of high classical attainments, a traveller and a man of the world. They do not profess to be more than their name implies: a criticism of Shakespeare and his works, and not of the drama of the Elizabethan era, nor do they endeavour to compete with the writings of the learned and able men who in these days have devoted themselves to the study of our greatest poet Before the Public Service took me away to the wildest of foreign lands I was myself an ardent student of Shakespeare and therefore I was indeed deeply interested when I read these Essays which in general accorded so completely with my views though in minor points I occasionally hesitated to accept them They came into my hands in a very disordered state and I fear that although I have taken great pains in arranging them they are still not as presentable as I had hoped About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
