Homelessness Xina M. Uhl, 2020-12-15 Homelessness pervades America's cities and rural areas Multiple factors force people into a life on the street including job loss mental illness and drug addiction Homelessness can happen to anyone regardless of age gender marital status and race While it's important for societies to provide shelter food and support for homeless people it's even more necessary to prevent people from becoming homeless in the first place Young readers will benefit from this guide's concise language vivid photographs and helpful graphics All readers will enhance their understanding of the factors that affect homelessness in America Being Homeless Sarah Eason, Karen Latchana Kenney, 2022-08-01 Becoming homeless happens but how does it feel when it happens to you Being homeless is a devastating and life changing experience that happens to thousands of young people every year Discover what it is like to be made homeless through the heartfelt stories of survivors Learn how it happened to them read their journeys out of homelessness and find out more about what causes people to become homeless in this open sensitive and informative exploration Sometimes painful experiences happen It Happened to Me explores painful life crises that affect many young people through poignant diary entries from composite teens who have experienced these situations supported by informational text Every year more and more young people face life changing situations from drug and alcohol abuse to eating disorders family breakups and homelessness Being young has never been more challenging Using a unique in their own words approach this series will strike a chord with many young people who are struggling with complex issues and help those around them better understand how and why it has happened to them Moving to Nowhere Mary E. Walsh, 1992-03-30 The number of homeless families in the United States continues to increase at an alarming rate There is little doubt that becoming homeless and living in shelters has had significant effects on the lives of the children in these families While many empirical studies have documented the effects of homelessness on one or another aspect of children's lives Moving To Nowhere looks at the experience of losing one's home and living in a shelter from the perspective of the child Children who are homeless tell their own story They speak of life in a shelter as they have known it It is through these stories that human service professionals can come to see homelessness as the children themselves see it and can learn what living in a shelter is like Children who are homeless tell their own story They describe how they became homeless why they think it happened to their family what their expectations and concerns were as they realized they would be moving to a shelter and what the shelter was like when they arrived They speak often of missing their old neighborhoods their friends and their extended family They report their fears their worries about their family's future the absence of money and resources and for some the presence of violence or substance abuse in their families They repeatedly tell of their embarrassment about being homeless this profoundly colors their relationships to friends schoolmates and teachers And in each of their stories these children provide clear and moving examples of how they manage to survive on a day to day basis while they wait for permanent housing Health care professionals psychologists and teachers as well as students and the general public will find this work poignant and instructive
