Mrquez is considered one of the most significant authors in the Spanish language. Rising to prominence with One Hundred Years of Solitude, his fiction is widely read and studied throughout the world. This invaluable Guide gives a wide ranging but in depth survey of the global debate over Garcia Mrquez's fiction. It explores the major critical responses to his key works, devoting two whole chapters to One Hundred Years of Solitude. It also examines Garcia Mrquez's lesser known short fiction, his place in the Boom, magical realism and his influence on other writers. Jay Corwin discusses both European and US centric interpretations, balancing these with indigenous and Hispanic contexts to give the reader an overarching understanding of the global reception of Garcia Mrquez's work.

Between Homelands in Michael Ondaatje's Fiction Julie Mehta, Harish Mehta, 2024-09-13 Between Homelands in Michael Ondaatje's Fiction is a comprehensive study of the novels of the Sri Lankan Canadian author and poet Michael Ondaatje. This survey of the Booker Prize winning novelist's works locates him as a powerful voice that urges globalization and multiculturalism in a world that is closing its borders. It reconnoitres Ondaatje's search for a homeland by cracking open the core of his evocative, inventive and innovative concepts that undergird his art of storytelling. The contributors in this volume examine themes such as literary cosmopolitanism, Sri Lankan identity, diasporic identity, race and racism, home and belonging, trauma in the Sri Lankan civil war, war games and uncertainty theory. An important contribution to Ondaatje studies, the book is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of Sri Lankan literature, diasporic and world literatures, South Asian and Canadian studies, cultural studies, postcolonial fiction and history.

The Novel André Brink, 1998-04-30 The postmodernist novel is renowned for the extremes of its narcissistic involvement with language, but in this book the author argues that this self-consciousness has been a characteristic of the novel since its earliest stirrings.

The Historical Novel Jerome De Groot, 2009-09-10 The historical novel is not only an immensely popular genre, but also one that raises fascinating questions about the nature of key foundational concepts such as fact and fiction, history, reading and writing. This wide ranging guide offers an accessible introduction to both the genre and the critical debates around it.

Gabriel García Márquez Michael Bell, 1993-10-05 Much good criticism of Mrquez came in the wake of One Hundred Years of Solitude and the perception of his fiction has been dominated by that novel. It seemed the implicit goal to which the earlier fiction has been striving. By concentrating on the later novels, including The General in his Labyrinth, this study brings out the internal dialogue between the novels so that One Hundred Years of Solitude then stands out like Don Quixote in Cervantes' oeuvre as untypical yet more deeply representative. Behind the popular impact of its magical realism lies Mrquez's abiding meditation on the nature of fictional and historical truth.

The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 7, Modernism and the New Criticism George Alexander Kennedy, 1989 The history of the most hotly debated areas of literary theory, including structuralism and deconstruction.

Gabriel García Márquez's One Hundred Years of Solitude Gabriel Garcia Marquez, 2014-05-14 Presents a collection of critical essays about Marquez's One hundred years of solitude.

Interface between Literature and Science Victoria Carpenter, 2015-05-13 The boundaries of science and literature are permeable they are continuously crossed and illuminated by a variety of narrative forms and their interpretations Changes in our perception of the world are informed in equal measure by scientific and humanistic disciplines This volume treats both literary and scientific texts as products of the human mind therefore abiding by all the rules it creates scientific and humanistic alike The volume does not propose to replace all literary or discourse analysis with a cross disciplinary science based approach but rather uses this theoretical stance when more conventional means fail to explain or even explore the intricacies of a text It argues that scientific discourse can also be analysed through the prism of literary theories since all texts are governed in varying measure by the unity of contexts that characterize their nature the process of their creation and their place in the cognitive realm of humanity This approach will allow the nature and limitations of scientific research to be questioned while opening up more venues to explore scientific creativity that crosses the subject boundaries of science and humanities Latin American literature offers many examples of the interconnection between literary and scientific discourse Notwithstanding the often explored relationship between Jorge Luis Borges s literary themes and contemporary scientific discoveries a more general question should be asked is the influence of scientific thought a privilege of the select few or is it indeed an all pervading experience in Latin American literary narrative from late modernism to present day This book explores the texts that overtly incorporate scientific content or are structured in such a way that immediately reminds the reader of a scientific phenomenon it will also examine the texts that are presented in such a way that a conventional literary analysis does not help penetrate the many narrative layers that the text comprises The volume offers cross disciplinary readings of such authors as Jorge Luis Borges Gabriel Garcia Marquez Ernesto Sabato and Gustavo Sainz to name but a few
